NEW YORK--LONDON PHONE SERVICE IS STARTED

Establish Telephone Service From London To New York City

Commercial Radio-Telephone Service Is Inaugurated During Morning

First Conversation Lasts For About Five Minutes—Service Success

By DAVID P. SENTNER
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—The voice of the old world sounded across the Atlantic today and the voice of the new world echoed back.

At 8:44 o'clock this morning commercial radio-telephone service was inaugurated for the first time in history between New York and London.

Lasts Five Minutes

The telephone conversation lasted five minutes and parties at both ends heard each other distinctly, although there was some static.

The buzz of a telephone bell marked a new stage in communication between the two worlds, a step that is a far cry from the days when letters sent by Clipper ships, spanking across the seas in three or four weeks, were the only means of communication, a step that is even far in advance of the instantaneous cable flashes, the radio waves, and the six-day ocean greyhounds that have afforded communication up to today.

Costs $25 Minute

The price of the new trans-ocean telephone service is $25 a minute.

The New York and London stations were tuned in at 8:43½ and at 8:44 o'clock London and New York were ready to talk.

Walter S. Gifford, president of the American Telephone & Telegraph Company, sitting in the phone company's office in New York, talked with Sir G. Evelyn P. Murray, secretary of the general post office of Great Britain, for two minutes.

Then Sir Evelyn Murray, in London, talked to Gifford for three minutes.

"We could hear each other clearly," said Gifford, "although there was more static than during previous tests."

There was no blare of trumpets to the epoch-making ceremony. It was a simply staged affair—sixty members of the official "family"

Coasting Party Is Great Success

Hundreds Of Children Have Great Time On Streets Designated By Mayor

Coasting party for the boys and girls of the city held under police supervision on Carlisle, Smithfied and Lutton streets, between 4 and 9 p. m. Thursday was quite a success and justified the efforts of the mayor and police, in attempting to give the children an opportunity to coast in safety.

Hundreds of boys and girls from all parts of the city made the most of the opportunity and conducted themselves in an orderly manner and had a great time.

Officers were stationed at vantage points at the streets designated and intersecting streets were marked with red lanterns as a warning to the motorists.

The party was a success not only from the viewpoint of the numbers that had an opportunity of coasting in safety, but also from the viewpoint of lack of accidents. It is likely that it will be repeated at intervals.

American Women And Children To Leave Hankow

(International News Service)

LONDON, Jan. 7. — Precautions are being made for the evacuation of American women and children from Hankow, according to reports received here in responsible quarters today. This may indicate that the animosity of the Chinese in Hankow, which has been directed chiefly against the British has now turned towards all foreigners.

Reports that the Cantonese had withdrawn from Hankow were denied in reliable quarters, it being stated that the nationalist military are still in control there.

Funeral Directors Install Officers

Annual Banquet Event At Elks Club On Thursday Night

SOCIAL PROGRAM MUCH ENJOYED

Annual banquet of the Lawrence County Funeral Directors' Association was a very enjoyable affair last night at the Elks club, featured by orchestral music, magic tricks and the installation of officers for the year 1927.

This annual "ladies' night" was attended by members of the association together with their wives and friends, 55 in all, enjoying the banquet and entertainment.

During the dinner the music was furnished by the Castleton Junior orchestra, an orchestra composed of boys from the North street junior high school. This orchestra, made up of nine pieces, was organized by the boys on their own initiative. After organizing they secured a man to help them in leading and directing them, but at this their second appearance they themselves rendered very commendable music without any direction except that given by one of the members. All spoke of the fine music the boys produced.

The address of the evening was given by Rev. D. C. Schnebly of the Mahoningtown Presbyterian church who spoke of the advantages and joys of cooperative work in associations.

After the address an hour's entertainment of "magic tricks" was given by Lee Calahan, executive secretary of the Boy Scouts of Lawrence county. His performances of magic were exceptionally good for an amateur and were highly entertaining.

Carl Kuechler, organist at the Elks club, also rendered two very good selections on the organ.

In the installation of officers for the year 1927, David M. Marshall of Wampum was installed as president, Wyatt R. Campbell as vice president and Frank M. Wallace as secretary and treasurer.

The banquet and tables were very prettily decorated with flowers and in all it was a very successful affair. Fred C. Wolford, the former president, had charge of the affair until the new president was installed.

First Real Clue On Disappearance Of Mrs. Houck

Brown Silk Scarf Is Fished Out Of Potomac River By Navy Yard Man

MRS. HOUCK MISSING SINCE DECEMBER 15

Scarf Which Had Blood Spots On It, May Reveal Cause Of Disappearance

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON Jan. 7.—What the police regard as the most tangible clue yet in the disappearance of Mrs. Gladys Walter Houck, wife of the mentally deranged Dr. Knute Houck, was turned up here today in the form of a brown silk scarf, bearing blood spots and identified as belonging to the missing woman.

It was fished out of the Potomac river by George Bashford, a navy yard employe, near Giesboro Point, where the doctor and his wife frequently went for walks.

Mrs. Houck has been missing since Dec. 15. Several days after her disappearance Dr. Houck was found, apparently insane, at Hornell, N. Y. He is now under mental observation at Walter Reed hospital.

Mrs. McPherson Will Tour U. S.

Says She Will Start East From Los Angeles Next Tuesday

FIRST ADDRESS IN DENVER, COLO.

(International News Service)

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 7.—Aimee Semple McPherson announced today she was planning on leaving Los Angeles next Tuesday on her lecture tour of the United States.

No matter what the outcome of her case, which will be decided one way or the other on Monday, the famous evangelist said she was going to take advantage of the "vacation" granted her by her church, Angelus Temple, and combine play with work for five or six weeks.

First of all, Mrs. McPherson said, she planned to spend a few days in a quiet resort so that she may rest her voice and recover from the strain she has been under during the last eight months.

The noted woman pastor's first lecture would be delivered in Denver. Mrs. McPherson declared that Dean Peck, Judge Ben Lindsey and other prominent Denver men have requested her to lecture in that city.

From Denver Mrs. McPherson said she plans to continue on to the Atlantic seaboard, passing through and lecturing in Kansas City, Chicago, New York, Baltimore, Washington and New Orleans.

Meet To Consider Dormitory Plan

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Jan. 7.—Members of the building committee of Robert Audley Browne Dormitory For Men met here on Thursday evening for a preliminary survey of the work necessary to the actual start of construction.

It is expected that by March the contracts will be ready for bid, and the work of construction is expected to start sometime in the summer.

Nine Inches Of Snow Here During December

Weather in Lawrence county for the last month of the year of 1926 was quite varied according to the report of the New Castle station of the United States Department of Agriculture, Weather Bureau, with H. E. Hochkiss in charge.

The New Castle station of the weather bureau is located at the pump station of the New Castle water works. Mr. Hotchkiss, who is the chemist of the water company acts as co-operative observer.

The average temperature for the month was 28 1-2 degrees, the lowest temperature for the month was recorded on December 18 and 19 with a temperature of 2 degrees below zero. The highest temperature was recorded on December 14 when the thermometer reached the mark of 58 degrees.

Nine inches of snow fell during the month, it having snowed on 11 days of the month. Rain fell on six days of the month making a total rainfall for the month of 2.33 inches.

During the month only 8 days were recorded as clear, but 13 were cloudy and ten partly cloudy. The prevailing wind for the greatest number of days was the wind from the southwest direction.

Dr. Paris Shoaf New President Of Medical Society

Is Elected At Annual Meeting Of Doctors On Thursday Night

CERTIFIED MILK PLAN TO START

New Departure To Be Undertaken Under Medical Society Supervision

Meeting of the Lawrence County Medical society held last night in the society room in the Y. M. C. A. was well attended and was of more than usual interest and importance for the reason that officers were elected for the ensuing year, that the society arranged to go into the certification of milk and heard most interesting addresses on important topics by Dr. E. M. Parlette and Dr. Frederick Taylor.

Dr. Paris Shoaf was elected to the office of president for the coming year. Other officers selected for the coming year were first vice president, Dr. F. D. Campbell of Bessemer, Pa.; second vice president, Dr. J. O. Woods of New Castle, treasurer, Dr. C. W. Burchfield; secretary, Dr. W. A. Womer; censors, Dr. C. H. Flannery, Dr. S. W. Perry and Dr. A. W. Urmson. Dr. Womer was honored for the 20th consecutive time in his election as secretary of the organization.

State President Coming.

The annual banquet of the organization will be an event of some time in March when Dr. A. C. Morgan president of the Pennsylvania State Medical society, visits the local society.

The address of Dr. E. M. Parlette was on the subject of "Industrial Health Examination." Dr. Parlette who has been engaged in this line of work for many years went into detail on the various phases of the work discussing it from viewpoints of examination of applicants for positions in various industries and examinations after employment at frequent intervals to determine the physical condition of the employes for the purpose of determining possible defects and remedying the same.

He also discussed recreational activities of employes of plants, the sanitary conditions about plants and the efforts made to see that employes have proper living conditions at their homes, the estab-

LIEUT. KELLY IS REPORTED SAFE

Plane Forced Down But Famous Aviator Is Not Injured

(International News Service)

PORTLAND, Ore., Jan. 7.—Lieut. Oakley G. Kelley, famous army pilot and his companion Capt. John M. Stanley are safe.

The two fliers who had been missing nearly 24 hours following a flight over Mount Hood in search for Leslie Brownlee, Portland boy lost on the mountain, wired Vancouver barracks headquarters late Thursday that they had been forced down at Long Creek but were uninjured.

Long Creek is in the Blue mountains and is 150 miles from Mt. Hood where the fliers had last been seen on their errand of mercy. Until the message came grave anxiety for their safety had been felt and a company of infantry had started out to lead the search for the fliers.

Reserve Officers Meet At Banquet; Boost Troop A

Nearly Half Hundred Reserve Officers Attend Gathering Here

URGE RETENTION OF CAVALRY TROOP

Annual Inspection Of Troop A Follows—Good Showing Is Made

"For officers only" may have been an unpopular phrase during the war, at least with the men who didn't wear any bars, but Thursday evening in the Leslie Hotel it could have been used without hurting anybody's feelings. Not even a K. P.'s.

The occasion was a banquet of the Lawrence county chapter of the Reserve Officers Association of the United States, and from the number of local men who are in the Reserve, the county could supply officers for every unit of the service.

Forty-two Officers Present

Forty-two officers were present, and in addition various business men who are interested in the progress of the organization. Guests of honor were Col. W. H. Zierdt, inspecting officer of the 28th Division, and Captain John W. Weeks of the United States army.

Dr. W. Fulton Jackson, president of the organization, presided, and because of the limits of time called but few speakers. President Fred L. Rentz of the Chamber of Commerce was the first called and urged the necessity of retaining Troop A; 104th Cavalry, here.

"New Castle wants the troop here," he said. "Perhaps in the past the townspeople have not paid

Hampton Roads Busy Place As Cruisers Leave

Five Warships Steam Out Of Virginia Port Bound For Nicaragua

(International News Service)

NORFOLK, Va., Jan. 7.—Hampton Roads took on a warlike appearance early today with the sailing of five warships for emergency duty in Nicaraguan waters.

The vessels were the cruisers Marblehead and Cincinnati and destroyers Smith Thompson, Barker and Osborne.

The loading of the ships with emergency supplies was accomplished last night under the rays of powerful searchlights from a dozen sister ships. It carried observers back to the stirring days of 1917-18 when the Roads were filled with activity night and day.

Gobs lined the rails as ships steamed down the Roads and headed for the open sea.

There was a bustle of activity today aboard the cruisers Raleigh, Milwaukee, Trenton and Concord, part of the squadron to which the Marblehead and Cincinnati were attached, indicating they have been instructed to hold themselves in readiness for orders.

With the withdrawal of the cruisers and destroyers from the scouting fleet, the program of maneuvers off the Cuban coast has been smashed.

Naval officers anticipate that a part of the Pacific fleet may be sent to replace the missing parts of the scouting fleet.

Mrs. McCracken Is Recommended For Appointment

EXPECT SENATE TO CONFIRM NOMINEE

By GEORGE H. MANNING,
(Washington Correspondent Of The News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 7.—Congressman Thomas W. Phillips today recommended to the post office department that Mrs. Maude McCracken be given the regular appointment as postmaster at Volant, Pa. The salary is $1600 a year.

Mrs. McCracken has been serving as acting postmaster since July 1 when she was appointed temporarily on recommendation of Congressman Phillips to succeed John M. Graham who tendered his resignation May 17.

The civil service commission held an examination in September of applicants for the place. Mrs McCracken, Ellis N. Hillard and Mrs. Olive M. Aggas passed in the order named.

It is expected the president will send Mrs. McCracken's nomination to the senate in a few days for confirmation.

Homestead Citizens Are Summoned For Grand Jury Probe

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 7.—Four election districts in Homestead, Pa., were visited by Allegheny county detectives today who served 100 subpoenaes on persons wanted as witnesses before the special grand jury which is to investigate charges of fraud in the recent general election.

The names of those summoned were kept secret. A list of witnesses was turned over to the detectives by District Attorney Samuel H. Gardner with instructions to make personal service on each.

ARRESTED ON WARANT.

Delay Hearing In Ball Probe; Gandil Absent

BY DAVIS J. WALSH
Sports Editor International News Service

CHICAGO, Jan. 7.—Hearing of additional testimony in the charges that Detroit and Chicago conspired in September, 1917, to "slough" a series to the White Sox was postponed this morning until four p. m., because of the failure of Chick Gandil, one of the complainants, to appear at the appointed hour of eleven.

Judge Landis, in making known the postponement, took occasion to score a local morning paper for its activities on behalf of Gandil and Swede Risberg, his brother-witness of the debarred Black Sox.

Risberg failed to appear on time at the first hearing on Wednesday, also forcing a postponment.

Will Continue Protection For Street Coasters

Hours Are Changed However From 6 To 9 O'clock In Evening

As long as snow and present conditions prevail, it is the plan of the police department, in so far as it is possible to continue the program of giving the boys and girls of the city an opportunity of using their sleds on the streets already designated, with police supervision and protection.

This was verified by Chief of Police Henry Dysart this morning. The first coasting party for the children of the city last night at Carlisle, Smithfield and Lutton streets was such a decided success that it was deemed wise to continue the practice. The hours for coasting have, however, been changed to from 6 to 9 p. m. each week day evening.

Red lanterns will be placed at each intersecting street, as a warning to motorists not to cross these streets without due regard to the possibility of running into a sled. Officers will be detailed on these streets whenever possible.

TO ADDRESS PASTORS ON CHURCH PUBLICITY

Mr. Richards will give a talk on "Church Publicity."

Relations Between Two Countries Are In Critical State

U. S. Gathers Large Force In Nicaraguan Waters To Quell Revolt

INTERNATIONAL LAW QUESTION DEVELOPS

U. S. And Mexico At Odds On Policies With Respect To Nicaragua

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—The relations between the United States and Mexico in a more critical state than at any time since General John J. Pershing led his famous punitive expedition across the international boundary ten years ago.

This was generally recognized in Washington today as the largest show of naval strength ever assembled in Nicaraguan waters proceeded to station off Nicaraguan ports.

To Quell Revolt

The ostensible purpose of this concentration is to quell the revolution in Nicaragua and maintain Adolfo Diaz in the presidential palace, but the real reason for this show of strength is understood to be to impress upon the Mexican government that it had better keep "hands off" in Central America, and tread lightly in the application of its new land and petroleum laws to American holdings.

Ordinarily, a couple of American gunboats and a handful of marines are sufficient to control any Central American revolution and afford the necessary protection to American legations and property in the Caribbean. It is work with which the navy is entirely familiar and through long practice very efficient.

Yet for this Nicaraguan revolution, in which the combatants on both sides number scarcely more than 5,000, the American government has concentrated in Nicaraguan waters and adjacent to Mexico a total of 15 first-class fighting ships, and nearly 5,000 blue jackets and marines, all under control

Service Fairly Satisfactory Is London Report

(International News Service)

LONDON, Jan. 7.—The first trans-Atlantic commercial radio-telephone service has been "fairly satisfactory," the postoffice department announced this afternoon.

"The trans-Atlantic reception was heard clearly, and on the whole the results were fairly satisfactory" the postoffice department said.

The first hour and a quarter of the service saw ten calls completed from the English side, netting approximately $1875 in tolls. An equal number of calls were understood to have been completed from the American side.

These New Year resolutions are getting slightly worn, and what were good intentions are ragged, some and torn. The oath you took to banish the evils of a smoke, have had a nasty wallop, and now they are a joke. The same applies to drinking, and staying out at night, ah, me, those resolutions present a saddened sight. For New Years resolutions last but a day or so and then they are forgotten, tis always thus I know, for folks make resolutions, as cheerful as can be, and break them just as easy, the weather's twenty-three.

Making Plans At Harrisburg

Inauguration To Take Place On January 18 To Be Notable

BUSINESSLIKE SESSION LOOMS

From News Bureau State Capital

HARRISBURG, Jan. 7.—Decision on the part of the legislature is taken as an indication that when the sessions of the general assembly are resumed on January 17 that the lawmakers will get down to business without much delay. According to corridor gossip it is the desire of the Republican party chieftains to get the session over with at an early date. It is not considered likely that the April 14 date will be changed.

When the legislators return the night before the inauguration they will receive a report from a joint committee of the house and senate named to make a study of the "split-session" which has been in force in California and several other states. Under this plan the term of the legislature would be separated in to three parts. One for the introduction of bills, second study by committee and hearings and last for debate and final action.

Little gossip is heard these days around Capitol Hill regarding the incoming administration. Governor-elect Fisher will make public within a very few days his cabinet appointments if the dope of the insiders can be taken correctly while some say he may delay it until his inauguration.

Workmen are busy these days in making preparations for the inauguration on January 18. More people will be coming here on that date than the hotels can accommodate. The legislative committee is sending out invitations to 50,000 persons and a monster parade is expected to march over Harrisburg streets on that day. A big reception is scheduled for the capitol following the inaugural exercises. The committee has $30,000 to spend for expenses and it is expected that the legislators will put on an impressive but not too expensive demonstration.

Coolidge Asks More Funds For Arms Delegates

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—Despite the pessimistic reports brought back by the American delegates, President Coolidge wants this government to continue to give full support to the Geneva Preparatory Disarmament conference, in the hope that a world-wide conference on arms limitation may ultimately be held.

He made this plain today in transmitting a message to congress asking for increased funds for expenses of American delegates.

SPLENDID DISCOURSE AT REVIVAL SERVICE

At the special evangelistic services Thursday evening in the Arlington avenue Free Methodist church, the pastor, Rev. C.O. Whitford gave an excellent discourse on the text, "Art Thou He that should come or look we for Another"?

The minister emphasized the fact that Christ answered not by what he said but what he did—proving himself God by many infallible proofs for in that same hour he cured many of evil spirits—caused the blind to see—the lame walked—the lepers were cleansed—the deaf heard—the dead were raised and the poor had the gospel preached unto them.

The singing added much to the interest of the meeting.

The man who says there are no new jokes probably hasn't read the 12,000 bills now before congress.

of the American Telegraph and Telephone Company with a dozen newspapermen clustered quietly around a green-baize table in the directors' room.

Twenty headpieces before an equal number of chairs around the table permitted the more fortunate occupants to share in this scientific achievement.

After an introductory address by Gifford, to those present giving a history of the research work over a period of twenty-two years which attained its successful climax today, he picked up the receiver of an ordinary telephone before him at the head of the table.

His guests, including the International News Service correspondent, adjusted their ear-pieces.

"Hello," said Gifford quietly. "Will you give me Sir Evelyn Murray, secretary of the British post office in London, please."

There was a pause of split second.

"Is that Mr. Gifford" came a voice with an unmistakeable British accent over the wire. It was 8:44 a. m.

They said it came from London but it sounded no further away than telephoning one's grocer.

"Good morning, Sir Evelyn," said Gifford.

"I beg pardon, sir."

"I said good morning. Can you hear all right, sir?"

"Yes, yes," answered Sir Evelyn.

Talk Five Minutes

Over a period of five minutes, the two talked across the 3,000 odd miles of ocean, Gifford using two minutes, Sir Evelyn three minutes.

The newspapermen scribbled with one hand and pressed their ear-pieces with the other. The others, with the quiet faces of scientists, listened critically. It was part of the day's work to them. To the newspapermen this invisible linking of two continents was a vivid spectacle of the imagination.

Will Aid Business

Gifford told Sir Evelyn that the opening of this telephonic channel of speech between New York and London would permit individuals to exchange views across the ocean and transact business instantly "as though they were face to face."

"No one can foresee the ultimate significance of this latest achievement of science and organization," he radiophoned. "It will certainly facilitate business; it will be a social convenience and comfort; and, through the closer bond which it establishes, it will promote better understanding and strengthen the ties of friendship."

After Gifford concluded with congratulating Sir Evelyn and his staff for the solution of the problems on the British side of the new transoceanic communication system Sir Evelyn replied.

Sir Evelyn termed the new service as a boon to both nations, "whether as an aid to commerce or as a medium of social and domestic intercourse."

Static Interferes.

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—Trans-Atlantic radiophone service, after some two hours of satisfactory service today, was temporarily discontinued due to heavy static, it was announced by the American Telephone & Telegraph company.

The company refused to divulge the number of calls which had been completed, or the amount of tolls taken in, merely stating that commercial communication had been accomplished, and that except for periods of heavy static, would be kept up continuously. It was hoped to resume communication with London later in the day.

City Interested In Proposed Legislation

Solicitor Robert White was instructed to attend a meeting of the law committee, Third class cities, at Harrisburg January 13. The committee will prepare legislation which will be presented to the legislature.

New Castle will ask representatives to prevent legislation providing for an excess condemnation and annexation act. White is a member of the committee.

There were great leaders in the old days because they had ideas to teach instead of cash to pay for elections.

Town Talk

Most of us common folks expect a few comforts these days. And most of us have them. If we didn't have them we'd just naturally kick till we did get them.

Among these comforts are a place to sleep and some good bed clothing. It is natural then that we feel just a little pity for the fellow, who has no place to call home, or by force of circumstances, must go from place to place, seeking work and being without funds, must depend on charity or the municipal bunkroom for a place to sleep.

Of course in the municipal bunkroom, the principal accommodations consist of the bare iron bench on which to sleep and a good warm fire.

There are no covering provided. In fact you would probably be uncomfortable if you had any. It would be too hot and then "pesky critters" traveling companions of a majority of those stopping at the municipal bunkroom, would climb right in with you and help disturb your slumbers.

As far as that is concerned, common newspaper is the best thing known for warmth. It is the bed covering used by practically all of the night lodgers in the basement of the city building.

And the average occupant of a berth in the place is not too particular as to where it comes from. In fact we saw some of them getting a supply from the wastepaper can at the corner of East and Washington streets last night. So even a wastepaper can is capable of providing comforts for some one.

lishment of playgrounds for the children of employes and the providing of nursing facilities. It was an excellent paper and will be published in full in the University of Maryland Bulletin.

Speaks on Milk.

Dr. Frederick Taylor of Pulaski was the second speaker of the evening and spoke on the matter of the certification of milk supplies, designed especially for babies and persons in poor health. He explained that certified milk is that produced in sanitary barns, the testing of cattle for tuberculosis, at frequent intervals, the clipping of the hair of the cattle and washing of the animals, the wearing of clean white clothing by the milkers, the keeping of the hands of the milkers in a clean condition, the sterilization of the milk pails and containers, the discarding of the first part of the milk of each cow, the sealing, cooling and keeping cool of the milk until delivered, the inspection of the dairy at frequent intervals by a competent veterinarian, physician and bacteriologist, the determining of the condition of health of the milkers and cattle, and keeping the bacteria content of the milk to 10,000 bacteria or less per cubic centimeter.

Dr. Taylor proposed that the Lawrence County Medical society begin the proper certification of milk, agreeing to pay all expenses connected with the same and also to encourage other dairies of the county that might be interested in producing certified milk. As the movement grows the expense is to be shared by those participating.

Name Commission.

Following the address of Dr. Taylor the society voted to go into the proposition and a milk commission of five members Dr. W. A. Womer, chairman; Dr. E. U. Snyder, Dr. W. L. Steen, Dr. E. Kaplan and Dr. L. W. Grossman was appointed.

The appointment of three inspectors will be made in the near future. It will be the duty of the members of the commission and the inspectors to see that those proposing to produce certified milk know the rules and regulations for such a product which include barns according to certain specifications proper testing of cattle, inspection of the plants and employes and the installation of proper cooling, sterilization and bottling equipment and that the requirements are met before the society will certify the product. The commission will also take out a membership in the American Association of Milk Commissions.

The society proposes to share in the expense of certifying the milk which owing to the methods employed to make it a safe milk for babies and others needing it, will be higher in price than milk produced under ordinary conditions. Among these expenses will be the cost of special caps for sealing the milk bottles.

The local society was one of the pioneers in the certification of milk supplies undertaking it back as far as 1910 when the movement was new.

much attention to it as they should, but this defect is one easily remedied. I hope that these officers here tonight to inspect the troop will carry back with them the word that New Castle is back of the troop."

A. W. Chilton, commissioner of the Chamber of Commerce, was next and reiterated in part what President Rentz said. He urged that if the troop were retained here every man present take it upon himself to get back of the troop and assist the officers in keeping the organization up to a high standard.

Representative Bart Richards was the third speaker called and told of his meeting with Col. E. J. Stackpole Jr., commanding officer of the 104th Cavalry, in Harrisburg, in an effort to stay the order of removal. With Senator George T. Weingartner, chairman of the committee, he called upon Col. Stackpole on Monday afternoon. The colonel stated that the order had been issued for the removal of the troop to Clearfield. Mr. Richards said that in his opinion this order of Col. Stackpole's could be countermanded by men higher in authority.

Col. W. H. Zierdst, inspecting officer of the 28th Division, was asked to speak and gave a brief history of the National Guard since the war. He said that his job was to see that the units complied with the regulations of the guard, which were much higher than they were some years ago. He said that it was not his job to suggest whether or not units should be removed, that his job was to inspect and report what he saw.

Lack of Armory Cited

Major Guy J. Wadlinger was the last speaker and said that one of the reasons why the local troop had not been functioning at 100 per cent was the lack of armory facilities. He said that New Castle had been passed up in the matter of armories for many years, and said it was time that some steps were taken toward getting such a building here. During the remarks of the various speakers it was brought out that the county commissioners were authorized by law to appropriate a sum of money each year for the upkeep of the troop. This had never been done locally, and steps will be taken to get such appropriation for Troop A if it is retained, and the artillery battery in Ellwood City.

Following the dinner meeting the men adjourned to the armory of Troop A, where the inspection was held. Forty-nine men were present in uniform and apparently the inspection was a satisfactory one. Lieutenant Paul W. Keely has worked wonders with the troop in the past two months and they presented a splendid military appearance.

Because of lack of drill some of the squads did not go through the various maneuvers with the same precision they will in a few weeks, but the condition of equipment and the dress of the men was splendid. While neither of the inspecting officers would make any official statement, it was indicated that the inspection was pleasing to them.

Just what action will be taken toward the rescinding of the removal order is uncertain. Whatever can be done will be done, and the meeting with Colonel Stackpole in Harrisburg will be followed by meetings with Adjutant General Beary and possibly with Governor Fisher after he takes office.

Name Scouts To Guard Coasters

Boys Of Various Troops Named To Co-operate With Police

At the request of Mayor Dunlap and the police department, the Boy Scouts of New Castle will cooperate with the police in guarding the various streets designated by the police department for coasting. Of course, it is unnecessary to say that the scouts will go where instructions place them during the time assigned, and they will devote their entire time and attention to the guarding of the children who are coasting. The scouts are glad to have this opportunity to be of civic value.

The following is a list of scouts who will take part in this affair, as handed in by Daniel Reebel.

Burns Opposes New Extension

Believes Damages Will Be Large In Extending South Mercer Street

Council today passed finally two ordinances providing for the appropriation, condemnation and purchase of land in the South Mercer-South Jefferson street section to be used for the purpose of extending South Mercer street on an angle to South Jefferson street and also for municipal building sites.

Councilman Burns voted against bill number 82, giving his belief to colleagues that the extension of South Mercer street is unnecessary; that damages will be in excess of benefits and also that the interest in land of which George Patterson is the reputed owner is problematical.

The land to be used for extending South Mercer street and for which a bond issue passed recently contains provisions for its purchase is situated along Lawrence and South Mercer to Jefferson street.

The land which will be used for the site of the new fire station is in South Jefferson street.

The parcels affected by the first ordinance are owned by Dietterle, Hunter, Poggio, Gordon and Patterson.

The parcels to be used for municipal buildings are owned by Poggio and Viviani.

RELATIONS BETWEEN TWO COUNTRIES IN CRITICAL STATE

of an admiral who has been given carte blanche in their disposition. It comprises the largest naval show the American government has ever staged in Caribbean waters.

Serious Situation

That a very serious situation may result is universally recognized in Washington.

The American State Department put Diaz in the presidential palace and plans to keep him there. The State Department has accorded him official recognition, and the American navy has bottled up the Sacasa revolutionists, who were fast gaining the upper hand over him.

The Mexican government considers that Juan Sacasa is the constitutional president of Nicaragua. It accorded Sacasa official recognition and conveniently has looked the other way while his forces secured arms and ammunition from Mexican sources.

If Mexico now chooses to supply arms to this Sacas government, which she has officially recognized, an open clash with the United States may be one of the first results, for Admiral Latimer has instructions to stop Mexican gun-running.

Most international authorities here concede that in such a situation Mexico would have international law clearly on her side. They say Mexico is as much a sovereign power as is the United States, and as such is entitled to sell and deliver arms to whomsoever she pleases.

U. S. Position

The State Department, however, takes the position that in this instance American rights to the projected Nicaraguan canal and the naval base concession at Fonseca Bay are of more importance than technicalities over international law. Hence the 15 warships and the 5,000 men to put a stop to the revolution and the gun-running.

Thus the situation stood today, with only a spark perhaps needed to cause a general conflagration in the Caribbean. Mexico can set it off if she chooses.

Meanwhile, the Senate revolt against the administration's policy gathered force, but marked time pending the appearance of Secretary of State Kellogg before the foreign relations committee to "explain" his Nicaraguan and Mexican policies.

Unable to gain the support of Senator Borah, chairman of the committee, President Coolidge temporarily checkmated Democratic criticism of administration policy by summoning Senators Robinson of Arkansas and Swanson of Virginia, the Democratic leaders, to the White House, and after acquainting them with the situation, pledged them to secrecy.

Secretary Kellogg is exhibiting no desire to hurry his appearance before the committee. Invited to appear last Wednesday, Kellogg pleaded prior engagements which would delay his appearance until next Wednesday—a fact which caused considerable muttering today among the opponents of the administration policy.

BETTER BUSINESS BUREAU MEETING

Owing to the fact that it will be impossible to make satisfactory arrangements for a place in which to hold their meeting and because several of the officers will be out of the city the Better Business Bureau of New Castle will not hold their meeting which was planned to be held in the Elk's club at 6 p. m. Monday, January 10.

The meeting will be held one week later on January 17. Further notice of the meeting will be sent out just previous to that date.

Close Highways Leading To State Prison In Colorado

Hoodlums Gather Near Colorado State Prison And Disturb Peace

(International News Service)

CANON CITY, Colo., Jan. 7.—State highways leading to the Colorado state prison here are closed today by orders of Warden Thomas Tynan, following an attempt last night to shoot up the prison by several cars of hoodlums.

Shots were fired at the prison searchlight, located on an 800 foot mountain behind the structure, and later giant firecrackers were exploded at the penitentiary gates.

Warden Tynan has been suspended for a ten day period by Governor C. J. Morley and Sheriff Clifford Glasson, a Canon City Ku Klux Klan leader, appointed in his place.

Meanwhile the warden refuses to relinquish his office, declaring the governor has no authority to order his suspension. Governor Morley declares the next move is up to the courts.

Evolve New Plan For Milk Dealers

Must Make Affidavit Milk Is Produced At Home To Get Permit

Farmers who produce their own milk then sell it in New Castle may not have to pay a permit fee of one dollar but they will be forced to make affidavit to the fact that the milk they are selling is produced on their own farms in order to secure a permit.

Councilman Davies brought up the matter saying that "the milk men refused this year to pay for the permit."

He said last year one dollar was charged but this year there has been no collection of the fee.

Council talked of various ways of how to get the cost of the plate which the city issues. It costs about 20 cents. They also said the clerk's time was necessitated to issue such permits.

Finally it was decided that council on Monday will act on a resolution to be presented whereby the man who produces and sells milk will have to make affidavit to the fact. A permit will then be issued to them. That is the plan the city council has of keeping the charge on the milkman.

It is not probable that such a plan will meet with approval of the milk dealers who produce their own milk.

City To Retain Its Own Nurse

Council Not In Favor Of Having Nurse Do Work Outside City

Council today passed legislation which will result in the city retaining a municipal nurse.

The present incumbent, Mrs. Elizabeth Davis, will be retained, it was indicated.

She will continue to do nurse duties but will also be asked to do welfare work.

When the county assumed control of the local district for the poor, it was suggested by the commissioners of Lawrence county that a nurse be employed on a 50-50 basis, to do work in the city and county.

"This would keep the nurse busy all of the time in the county," said Davies.

Councilman Genkinger presented a motion that the "city retain a nurse."

It was decided that she should also do welfare work.

Her supplies for municipal nursing will probably be paid for by the county. However, this has not yet been decided.

Couple Confess Leaving Baby On Doorstep Of Home

(International News Service)

BEAVER, Pa., Jan. 7.—Mrs. Marie McElhaney Brown, 24, Beaver, and Joseph De Mons, Beaver Falls, admitted today before justice of the peace David Stewart here, that the baby abandoned last December 26, on the doorstep of the home of Mrs. Marie Kruttn, of Pittsburgh, is their son.

Mrs. Brown and De Mons were brought here from Pittsburgh, where they were arrested by State police and county probation officers, who found the couple living together in the home of Mrs. W. C. Tindall.

Mrs. Brown said she has been separated from her husband, William Brown, who is living with their two sons in Monaca.

The case will be disposed of next Monday, Justice Stewart said.

Name Mellon As Principal Backer Of Cyrus E. Woods

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—Secretary of the Treasury Mellon was named today before the senate interstate commerce committee as the "real influence" behind the appointment of Cyrus E. Woods of Pennsylvania to the interstate commerce committee.

Voicing strong opposition to Woods' appointment on the grounds that he had been associated with Pennsylvania coal interests, Senator Goff (R) of West Virginia declared that Mellon, who has an interest in the Pittsburgh Coal company, was "more responsible than any one else" for the appointment.

Borah-Kellogg Debate On Steps Of White House

Dynamic Senator Engages State Secretary In Debate Over Nicaragua

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—The front steps of the White House were turned today into an impromptu debating ground for the airing of conflicting opinions concerning the American intervention in Nicaragua, as between Secretary of State Kellogg and Senator Borah (R) of Idaho, chairman of the senate foreign relations committee.

Borah, after a conference with President Coolidge, emerged from the White House and, after expressing the opinion that the state department had erred in recognizing the Diaz government, said:

"We have no business in Nicaragua."

Secretary of State Kellogg, emerging after the cabinet meeting, said:

"The only way we can protect American interests in Nicaragua is by stopping the fighting there, and we intend to do it."

School Heads In Conference

Principals, supervisors, and teachers of the New Castle Schools met in the Senior High School auditorium Wednesday evening, when a general teachers' meeting was held.

The speaker of the meeting was Dr. O. T. Coursen, former Commissioner of Education in Ohio. He spoke on the "Appreciation of Children" and instead of dealing with the modern methods of pedagogy preferred to get back to age old fundamentals in the training of children. His address was well worth hearing and was appreciated by the local educators.

EPIPHANY FEAST OBSERVED SUNDAY AT TRINITY CHURCH

Next Sunday in Trinity church, corner of North Mill and East Falls streets, the services will have more of a festival character than on the ordinary Sunday, because yesterday was the Feast of the Epiphany, one of the five greatest days of the Christian year, and therefore kept for the week following. So the service at 11 o'clock will be the Holy Communion, with full solemnity and beauty. The commemoration is that of the visit of the Wise Men or Magi to worship the infant Christ, at the house in Bethlehem which his foster-father had provided, when they presented their gifts of gold, frankinsence, and myrrh the record of which is found in the first twelve verses of the second chapter of St. Matthew's gospel.

The following through of the life of Christ as given to us in the New Testament in the worship of the church, the keeping of these great events in his experience is to bring that experience home to every Christian.

"Well, did Santa Claus get to your house on time?" one man was heard asking a friend recently.

"If you mean on credit," replied the friend, "he did."

"Why don't you go into politics?"

"I am in politics," answered Miss Cayenne. "I cast a vote every time I have the opportunity."

"Why don't you run for office?"

"I cling to the idea of feminine superiority. I prefer having a man requesting me to vote for him to being in a position where I would have to request him to vote for me."

GIVING COASTERS SOME PROTECTION

ON SOME of the streets of the city last night, large numbers of the boys and girls of the city were enjoying coasting in a way that was comparatively safe, as the result of action taken yesterday by Mayor W. H. Dunlap. On these streets the intersections were marked with red lights by the police, and traffic was detoured from the streets during certain hours.

It was the start of a plan being tried out by the mayor and police to aid the youth of the city in enjoying the winter coasting.

There are few in the city who will not give wholehearted approval to this effort of the mayor and police. It is believed to be a step that will in a measure solve the coasting problem for the boys and girls of the sections affected, and one that can be extended somewhat for other localities.

The danger to coasters in this city heretofore has been that auto drivers who were strange to the localities did not know that the streets were being used for coasting. With certain streets designated and marked, auto drivers will be cautioned that coasting is in progress and will be warned to proceed cautiously at the intersections.

While it may not be possible to keep coasting entirely free from accidents of all kinds, the step taken by the police is a move that will certainly go a long ways in that direction. The lads of the city will coast, that much is certain, and a plan to keep them on one street in a locality, and put as many safeguards around that street as possible, seems to be the logical thing to do.

And on the other hands, it is up to the boys using the street to do their part to keep coasting free from accidents. They should be just as alert as ever to aid in preventing any kind of an accident.

New Castle wants her boys to enjoy this winter sport, but not at the cost of serious injury to any one.

AMAZING FLOOD OF PARDONS IN TEXAS

GOVERNOR MIRIAM A. FERGUSON of Texas is going out of office amid a veritable flood of pardons. In two days no less than fifty-three convicts have been the recipient of executive favor, bringing the grand total of her clemency proclamations to over three thousand. The latest list is said to contain the names of ten men who were serving sentences for murder. The category of crimes of which the others were guilty includes violations of the liquor laws, forgery, theft, burglary and highway robbery.

There is no doubt that some of these pardons were justified, but it can hardly be imagined that all of them were in the interest of the public welfare. In several cases the governor said the convicts were needed at home to help support their families, but if this reasoning were carried to its logical conclusion it would not take long to empty all of the jails of the country. In another instance a murderer who was doing an indeterminate sentence of "from five to ninety-nine years" is released because he "is a good blacksmith, doing as much work in the four years he was in prison as the average convict would have done in fifteen years." This to the average citizen unacquainted with all the details will seem a travesty upon the law.

There has been more or less of a controversy concerning the liberality of the Pennsylvania Board of Pardons, but compared with the clemency shown in Texas the members of that body will seem illiberal and hard-hearted. It is not always an easy matter to ascertain when and how official mercy shall be shown, but the wholesale pardoning of convicts is a doubtful procedure. This is peculiarly the case at the present time when we are having a nation-wide agitation against crime. Some of the most astute observers have expressed the belief that easy-going judges and big-hearted officials who pardon on the slightest provocation are largely responsible for the growth of criminality in the United States.

Airplanes at $400 each are predicted, but there will be the expense of keeping them up.

Just Folks

ONE GLORIOUS MINUTE

I admit I'm not much to behold,
I am not what my wife would call neat,
My newest of raiment looks old,
I attract no one's gaze on the street,
The women don't stare long at me,
I'm far from being handsome, that's true,
But there's one time I'm slick as can be
And that's when the barber gets through.

I'm not much to look at by night,
I'm not much to gaze at by day.
To my friends I am known as a fright,
For my hair in good order won't stay.
My splendor is fragile and fleet,
My glory is known to but few,
It is only correct and complete
For a wonderful minute or two.

When the barber has powdered my face
And taken his apron away,
And plastered each hair into place,
I look at myself and I say:
"Old boy, you've a classical brow!
What miracles barbers can do!
If your mother could look at you now
She'd scarcely believe it is you!"

Bootleggers are now referred to as "Booticians". That sounds better than what they are called after delivering a batch of poor hootch.

A golf beginner with a new car furnishes an interesting study. It's hard to tell whether he stretches the bow the furthest when he tells his score or when he talks about the miles he gets to the gallon.

People who obey the prohibition law do not die of alcoholic poisoning. Let that soak in before you buy hootch from a stranger or even from someone you know too well.

It is said that the easiest way to handle a traffic cop is to be a female. We wouldn't give much for a traffic cop who did not give a lady just a little the best of it.

"Talking over the heads of the people means no more than an inability to talk clearly.

There are people who will never be satisfied as long as they will even have to do a little bit of work in order to make a living. They would even be opposed to a five day week as being too much work.

If we are ever as successful in making the airplane as deadly to the enemy as to ourselves, heaven pity the enemy!

The Supreme court has ruled that baseball is not commercial. That may be, but it surely has been commercialized.

Another thing we have noticed since the modern styles arrived is that the police report fewer cases of Peeping Tom—and you can think out your own moral.

A health expert says twenty-five years have been added to the life span of the average man or woman in the last fifty or sixty years. This has been brought about by people learning how to live. Knowing how to live brings many good things to those who practice it.

Would women go back to the long, floor dragging skirts if fashion so decreed? Between you and me, I believe they would. Personally I haven't seen any of the women dodging any of the fashions during my over half a century of life.

Seed catalogues are reaching us through the mails now. This puts us in mind of gardening if it does nothing else and it is something nice to dream about even if one is looking lazily at the blazing logs in the fire place. What would we do without planning, hope and anticipation?

The woman governor of Texas has pardoned 3,000 crooks in the two years she was in office. These with their families and friends will be about able to re-elect her governor in two years hence. She has not been a popular governor with the masses.

Most of the people of Pennsylvania get some satisfaction out of the fact that Governor Pinchot is not leaving the office of governor of this state in a pleased frame of mind. He is bitter at most everything but himself and very few people sympathize with him in his selfishness. He is one of the men, and there are many such, who could be of great good in the world if they could control their own selfish desires and not be against every one who did not think as they do.

Four judges in New York ruled that Kip Rhinelander knew his wife was colored when he married her. One judge dissented. We hope he will know colors if he is not married. Anyhow, men should see their intended wives out in the sunlight and not in the shade before they marry them.

A brief and business like session of the Pennsylvania legislature is forecasted. This certainly will be a relief from the two we had during the past four years. Everybody has been wrong in Harrisburg but one politician during the past four years. Everybody isn't always wrong.

We saw an account of where the radio is checking the drift of the boys and girls from the farms into the city. Well, you can't blame them from preferring to hear the male quartette instead of having to see them.

A tobacco magnate who died some time ago left an estate of about ninety million dollars. He must have saved his money instead of spending it for cigs and we are betting he did not smoke. Most all successful saloon men used to say the booze was made to sell and not to drink and many of them did not drink it either.

If the gasoline supply of this country ever runs out the places hardest hit will be the filling stations. Just think of all of them being out of gas!

Observers at the watch towers at Gettysburg battlefield claim that this is a lean sason for tourists to Florida. A Language Union.
Religion's Bitter War.
Laugh Month.
The Proud Nordic.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE
(Copyright, 1927, By N. Y. American, Inc.

W. R. Hearst in his newspapers throughout the country advocates a union of English-speaking nations to maintain peace. He would have them agree to keep the naval and air forces down to a certain point, but also "up to definite strength and efficiency," able to compel peace, if necessary, by fighting for it.

No offensive alliance, no condoning by one nation of aggressive acts by another, but an agreement by English-speaking peoples not to fight among themselves and to protect each other from outside aggression.

This, according to Hearst, would not mean helping England to hold down subject races in Egypt, India, etc., but an agreement between free English-speaking white men in the United States, Great Britain, Ireland, Canada, Australia, New Zealand and South Africa, to insure themselves against war by preparation and mutual agreement.

With such an agreement Australia and New Zealand could peacefully develop their civilization within the shadow of Asia.

Why not include in the arrangement free immigration among the contracting parties? Intermarrying would help peace.

After the Romans stole their Sabine women all was serene, although nothing as drastic as that would be suggested in these silk stocking days.

If anybody objects to a combination based on language it may be pointed out that such a combination is easy, and a real movement for peace must begin somewhere.

Religious fighting it bitter and vile, whether one religion attacks another, or branches of the same religion exterminate each other.

Christians have led in the pious task of exterminating other Christions. You remember the fate of the Albigenses and busy St. Bartholomew's eve.

Jews have suffered so much from exterminating proclivities of Christians that you are surprised to read about rival sects of the Jewish religion fight each other in Czecho-Slovakia. Thousands of orthodox Jews at Munkacs destroyed the synagogue of a more liberal Jewish community at Belz.

It shows that an earnest religious fanatic can be more dangerous than an evolutionist.

The month of January, 1927, in which good resolutions are now oozing away, is to be "National Laugh Month." Moving picture potentates and others have decided and arranged it. Americans are to laugh, and thus keep up their "morale."

It would be better to locate laugh month in December. For looking back over eleven months of much promises, much resolving and little performance, laughing would be easy.

There is such a thing as overdoing laughing, for laughing is like smoking. When you do either, you don't think. And what the American people need is more thinking.

A learned Professor Eaton, who teaches geology, is worried about the world's food supply in case population should increase and says, "To allow wholesale immigration would be to distinctly lower the Nordic type of amalgamation."

In addition to "splitting the infinitive," which should never be done by a Nordic, the professor exaggerates the Nordic's importance.

We could use, very nicely, a few men like Caesar, Archimedes, Plato, Aristotle, Michael Angelo, Leonardo Da Vinci.

They were not Nordics, but Greeks and Italians, representing mixed races. Very likely they got some Nordic blood from the blue-eyed men running up and down the Balkan mountains.

Nobody, by the way, advocates indiscriminate immigration. But we do need, in California and Florida alone, at least ten million good Italians to make use of the land that the Lord has given us, or that we took from the Indians.

Dr. Crane's Editorial

A TURTLE ON ITS BACK

Have you ever watched a turtle on its back?

As it twists its neck and waves its legs, unable to touch anything solid, it is an object for laughter or pity, depending upon who sees it.

If it rights itself it is usually after an exhausting struggle.

A man who has been deceived by a trusted friend is like a turtle on its back.

The world is topsy-turvy, upside down. Everything is empty. There is nothing to grasp hold of. All the solid basis of relationship suddenly has disappeared and he is left beating the empty air.

In older age we learn the sad wisdom of the infidelity of some men.

We learn to expect a certain percentage of failures in mankind.

We are on our guard.

But in childhood being deceived by a supposed friend is meeting the actuality of life suddenly. It leaves an indelible, life-long impression.

The mind and the heart have not had time to become calloused over; the pain of the blister results.

In his mature years the poet James Whitcomb Riley said he could remember every detail of an experience in his childhood when he made the heartbreaking discovery that he had been deceived by a trusted chum.

One of life's hardest problems is finding the happy mean of trust in relation to others.

The too-suspicious man finds himself distrusting everyone.

One who trusts no one finds his life becoming bitter and narrow like a salt lake cut off from the waters of the world.

One who is too trusting finds himself continually imposed upon and hurt.

That is an individual problem.

Those who, seeing someone else deceived and losing faith in mankind, can show the sincerity, kindness and honesty that are inherent in the great mass of men, do an act of surpassing value.

It is like giving a lift at the right time to a turtle struggling on its back.

Bible Thought For Today

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

UNGRATEFUL REPUBLICS.

I believe that very observant patron of the Movies has been impressed with the Current Events pictures of Ex-Secretary Albert B. Fall and E. L. Doheny, taken on the steps of the Federal Court House, immediately after their acquittal of the Government's charge of Conspiracy, in connection with the now famous Oil Leases. The picture represented two happy old men, whose faces bore no evidences of guile.

It will be remembered that these two men started out in life together fifty years ago, as co-lawyers, that as Time went on, Mr. Fall having political ambitions, followed the path of Government Service, while Mr. Doheny became ambitious to develop the natural resources of America. It will also be remembered that through thick and thin, these two men have always been the closest of friends, —each was always, at all times, ready to assist the other. I think no one can deny these facts. Now if Mr. Doheny had been a clever crook, seeking to obtain an unlawful and unfair advantage, it would be the height of folly for him to deliberately give or loan to his dear friend Mr. Fall, the sum of one hundred thousand dollars, or any other sum, to induce Mr. Fall to do the things with which he has been charged. The verdict of the twelve jurors in the Conspiracy case would appear to be a natural verdict.

Unfortunately, this whole matter has been made a matter of politics, else why would a Senator from Alabama rave on the Floor of the Senate against this judicial verdict. The Senator was clothed with the privileges of High Office, when he spoke as he did, but as one editor has said, "It was not a question of Senatorial privilege, but of those elementary decencies which hold Society together, Law or no Law; the custom of fair play which is deeper in men's hearts, than any Constitution, or even the Common Law."

I talked to an Admiral of the United States Navy at the time Admiral Robertson was on the stand. I knew that my friend the Admiral knew all about the transaction connected with the leases made to Mr. Doheny, and he said "Mr. Doheny is one of America's great citizens. When the Pearl Harbor project was put up to him, with whitened lips tightly compressed for a moment, he threw back his head, and said, 'I will do it!' He knew at that time that the Standard Oil Company had turned down the proposition as too financially dangerous. It was in fact, the throwing down of the gauntlet to the Orient, and Mr. Doheny was the one American Oil Man that had the nerve to undertake it."

That was pretty plain language, and it is a far cry from that picture to the picture which the Alabama Senator drew, clothed with his Senatorial privilege. The Alabama Senator acted very much as did the citizens of Philadelphia during the French Revolution, when they gave a great banquet to the Envoy of the Revolution. These citizens were supposed to be loyal Americans. The Constitutional Government of the United States had been established, after the patriots had been assisted to the Nth degree by Louis of France; and yet these same alleged patriots served at this banquet a roast pig designed to represent that same French King, and each of the guests assisted in cutting the head from the pig, to show their unqualified approval of the act of the Revolutionists in beheading their king.

The only difference between the affair in Philadelphia, and the affair on the Floor of the United States Senate, lies in the fact that Mr. Doheny and Mr. Fall have not yet been "beheaded" by their political enemies.

LIBERTY DOES NOT MEAN—

That we are free to obey only those laws which we please.
That we are free to ignore other people's rights.
That we are free to prosper at other people's expense.
That we are free to impose on our friends if we can get away with it.
That we are free to denounce all those who disagree with us.

POEMS-HOWE

BY CHARLES HANSON TOWNE

"Prayer During Battle," by Herman Hagedorn.

Mr. Hagedorn wrote these lines during the war, and they were sent broadcast by the Vigilantes, a society of writers which he himself organized in cooperation with others. They attracted a good deal of attention at the time, and they deserve to live in the anthologies. There is always a high courage and a manly vigor in Mr. Hagedorn's verse. He has the faculty of saying briefly, in words of iron, something which he feels deeply. The pity is that political work has diverted him from poetry, for he is genuinely lyrical.

Lord, in this day of battle,
Lord, in this night of fears,
Keep open, oh, keep open
My eyes, my ears!

Not blindly, not in hatred,
Lord, let me do my part,
Keep open, oh, keep open
My mind, my heart!

State Taxation Methods May Now Undergo Change

General Revision Of State Taxation Methods Is Predicted

NORTH CAROLINA FIRST IN LINE

By ROBERT S. THORNBURGH,
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7. — Cooperation of the treasury in assisting state governments to remodel their tax laws and establish budget systems eventually may lead to a general revision and standardization of taxation methods throughout the United States, it was learned today.

The initial step in this direction was taken at the request of Governor A. W. McLean, of North Carolina, formerly an official of the treasury. McLean asked Secretary Mellon to loan the Carolina government, Joseph S. McCoy, actuary and tax expert, for the purpose of revising its fiscal system.

McCoy has completed the project, resulting in the establishment of a new budget and tax system somewhat similar to that under which the federal government operates.

Virtually every state in America has a different tax law and few of them have budget systems. It was pointed out that while the federal government cannot take steps to bring about state reforms, unless requested to do so, the present complexity and variance of the tax laws requires reform the situation has placed inter-state business under a great handicap.

400-Year-Old Bible Arrives In St. Paul

University Of Minnesota Buys Rare Book Printed By Robert Estienne In 1545

ST. PAUL, Jan. 7. — A Bible that was once a "best seller", now nearly 400 years old, has been obtained by the University of Minnesota library.

The Bible is one of the few Robert Estienne, Louvain Bibles and is dated 1545. It was printed by Estienne, the royal printer, who lived in the reign of Francis I.

In those days Bibles were "best sellers," for every one was anxious to possess them. Printing was at the mercy of the reigning power and copies were scarce.

The Sorbonne was quite indignant at the presumptous lad, Estienne, when he issued his controversial revision of the Holy Writ and of all things—in printing and actave—the undignified format of books intended for the sale to the "rabble".

Estienne stuck to his press and completed his textual examination of the first Bible and published the first editions in 1528.

This riled the Sorbonne officials considerably and they threatened extreme measures. Francis I protected young Estienne until his death and then Estienne was forced to flee the country. He died in 1559.

The reign of Francis I was marked by a great advance in the national art of illustration and many works in both Latin and Greek were published, including the Thesaurus and a great Latin dictionary published in 1532.

The print of the 1545 Bible is very small, but extremely legible.

Activities Of King's Daughters

Society Of First M. E. Church Report Of Work During The Past Month

The King's Daughters of the First M. E. church met in the church parlors for the regular monthhly meeting. Mrs. Frank Fischer, the president, being absent the vice president Mrs. Rearic presided. Mrs. Kyle led devotions and prayers were offered by Mrs. Craig Steen and Mrs. Shields.

STRAUSS SAYS GOVERNMENT SHOULD SUPERVISE INVESTMENT SECURITIES

By BEN STERN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

CLEVELAND, O., Jan. 7.—Federal and state supervision of all investment securities not now subject to such regulation is the crying need of the financial world today, according to S. W. Strauss, investment authority, who in an interview with International News Service declared that a new era in connection with the issuance and sale of investment securities has been reached.

"As a result of the tremendous growth of the investment field, the day of complete governmental supervision is not far off. Such reforms, however," he said, "should be approached most cautiously and in such manner as neither to interfere with the rightful flow of capital in business, nor dampen the ardor of personal initiative.

"We are today standing upon the threshold of a new era in the entire investment field and I believe the day is not far off when the methods of creating and selling the every type of investment offered to the American public will be in some manner under strict state or federal supervision and control. How soon that day will come I know not, but it is as certain as tomorrow's sun!"

Although admitting the fact that business can be hampered to a dangerous extent by over-regulation and over-supervision, Mr. Strauss said: "There should be the exercise of absolute fairness and great caution in approaching these grave problems, for the normal and rightful flow of capital should by no means be impeded by the intrusion of too many restrictive or regulatory laws.

"But the tremendous growth of the investment field, especially with the advent of millions of Americans as investors in our Liberty loan flotations makes it necessary that the public be offered every possible protection."

Judge Makes New Rule In Divorce Actions

BIRMINGHTM, Ala., Jan. 7. — Brides must cohabit with their husbands more than a week if they wish to get a divorce in Judge Roger Snyder's division of the circuit court, if what he told Mrs. Alice Kittrell of Bessemer, pretty, brunette and high-tempered, applies to all cases.

"Wives must live with their husbands more than a week to get a divorce in my court," was the mandate he handed down, denying her suit recently.

The testimony showed she left her husband, D. H. Kittrell, less than a week after their marriage in July, because he slapped her when she said she was going to leave him. He became enraged, she said, and slapped her because she said she "should have married another man."

The young woman married Kittrell after two days' acquaintance, jilting the man to whom she was engaged. The rejected suitor was the one she referred to.

"You have somewhat of a temper?" Judge Snyder asked.

"Yes," she answered.

"You've got too much temper to try to live with another man. Go back home."

"Smith-McAdoo breach." That little line between the names probably represents the one established by Messrs. Mason and Dixon.

Highway Police Ignore Order By Police Official

Pittsburgh Police Commissioner Has Run-In With Highway Police

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 7.— State highway police today held the upper hand in their miniature warfare with Superintendent of Police Peter P. Walsh here, while more than 50 persons held summons to appear before a justice of the peace to answer to charges of driving their automobiles without proper identification plates.

Walsh assured motorists here that they would not be molested if they drove their machines in Pittsburgh with 1926 license tags until the proper tags arrived from Harrisburg, taking the stand that hundreds of motorists had made application for the licenses in aple time to have received them before January 1, and that they should not be inconvenienced by failure of proper credentials to arrive.

State highway operatives thought otherwise, however, and stationed themselves at both ends of a passenger traffic tunnel here, passing out summons to scores of motorists.

College Board To Have Meeting

Trustees Of Grove City To Meet At Pittsburgh On January 18

NEWS NOTES OF COLLEGE TOWN

(Special To The News)

GROVE CITY, Pa., Jan. 7.—The winter meeting of the board of trustees of Grove City college will be held on January 18. The place of meeting is set for the William Penn hotel in Pittsburgh. The report of the college for the academic year since the opening of September 29 is now being made ready by Dr. W. C. Ketler. It is said that routine matters will be all that is brought up at this meeting. Any plans for the enlargement of the college facilities by building will not be presented at this meeting.

Dr. A. M. Allen is in receipt of information from Ontario, Cal., of the death of Captain Wilson E. Allen, aged 85 years, who was injured in an automobile accident. Captain Allen will be remembered by the older residents of Grove City as a frequent visitor. His son, Crombie Allen, was a student of Grove City college. His home is now at Ontario, where with another son of the family, Harold, they publish the Ontario Tribune. A daughter Alice and his sister, Miss Sarah Allen of Grove City also survive. Captain Allen was a veteran of the Civil war.

The many friends of Freddy Putts will be glad to learn of his continued improvement at the Wesley hospital in Chicago, where he was taken recently due to the serious illness of which he was a victim. Putts has been ill for several months with a malady which the doctors in his home town of Rensalaer, Ind., were unable to diagnose. A continued loss of weight to the extent of 45 pounds was the alarming feature of his illness. Putts will be remembered as a member of the varsity grid squad and student of the college from 1919 to 1922.

Dr. C. H Williamson, pastor of the First Presbyterain church, will be the speaker at a banquet of the men of the community of West Middlesex to be served on January 13.

Prospects for a squad of runners on the track team of Grove City college this spring that is exceptional in view of the fact that the sport has been shelved here for a number of years is announced today by members of the faculty who are interested in the sport and will assist in the coaching.

A call for candidates for the sprints and long distance runs will be issued shortly after the opening of the second semester around February 1, it is announced today by Prof. H. McBurrowes, who will start at once conditioning the men for the spring events. Of the sport events yet carded the most important is that with Allegheny college on May 28 here.

Several sprinters made the 100-yard distance in 10.2 last fall before the training season was over. Of the prospects for long distance runners the most promising candidate is Jim Evans, who starred the cross country team of the college last fall. Evans was not headed in any running during the fall season and it is related of him that he showed remarkable form.

With heat from the recently installed furnace in the new Catholic church turned on the plasterers have started work on the building. No time is announced for the completion of the building but all possible speed will be made in reaching a completion, it is announced by the Conrath Construction company officials who are the contractors.

A tureen dinner will take place in the Presbyterian church next Monday evening attended by members of the executive committee of the Sunday school of the church. Plans for the coming year for the school will be made at that time, it is said.

Professors George Fundenberg J. G. Bridges of the college faculty are confined to their homes with an attack of grippe.

British Legal Experts Disturbed Over New Divorce Publicity Measure

By CHARLES A. SMITH.
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, Jan. .—Legal experts are expressing great perturbation at the new act prohibiting the publication of divorce proceedings in English newspapers.

They contend that never in the history of the British houses of Parliament was a bill so clumsily drafted and so hastily put through its final stages. The coherent result is that practically everyone is at sixes and sevens as to what can or cannot be done under the scope of the act.

For instance the taking of shorthand notes for the use of counsel and the various parties interested is still very obscure. There are many ways in which the purpose of the bill may be defeated if the courts uphold contentions that are being made.

There is the question of publishing in English newspapers extensive accounts of divorces in America or Paris. High legal opinions that the bill cannot prevent such reports—that "judical proceedings" in the meaning of the act can only mean judicial proceedings in England.

A further possibility is the position of foreign newspapers or foreign editions of English newspapers which publish full accounts of divorce proceedings brought in the English courts. According to the atorney general in such a case the newspaper would be liable. But opinion seems to be that this could not extend to copies of such newspapers circulated privately for instance sent through the mails.

It has been officially stated that no attempt would be made to interfere with the normal supply of continental or foreign newspapers even if they broke the law but action would be taken if any attempts is made to exploit the position on a large scale.

"It is a bad bill from beginning to end" said a prominent member of the legal profession here in summing up the situation aroused. "It is especially bad because it prevents reports of divorce cases, it does not restrain the reporting of the worst cases which often occur in police courts.

DEED 84 YEARS OLD IS RECORDED

AKRON, O., Jan 7—A sheepskin deed, signed by President John Tyler eighty-four years ago, was filed at the office of Summit County Auditor Mary Paul this week, establishing what is believed to be a record here for time elapsed between the making and filing of such a document.

The yellow parchment was made out to Jacob Kepler of Stark county by the general land office of the United States and was signed by the president and by R. Tyler, his secretary.

The eighty and a half acres it conveyed from the government to the pioneer now lie in Summit county.

The deed was filed on behalf of the Kepler heirs by an Akron trust company to clarify affairs of an estate.

The land has been in the Kepler family, undisputed, since "the United States of America" did "give and grant" it in "the year of our Lord 1842 and the sixty-seventh of the independance of the United States.

Rubber Pool In U. S. Worrying British Groups

Interests Issue Letter Indicating Views On New Move In America

See Tire And Motor Car Makers In Program To Get Market Control

By F. A. WRAY
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, Jan. 7.—Considered British opinion on the new rubber "pool" in the United States can best be gauged by the circular letter issued by Symington & Sinclair, the well known British firm.

It italicises two sentences from a "Times" report: "The organization by a pool by a group of rubber manufacturers and motor-car manufacturers for the purpose of buying a substantial qantity of crude rubber, to forestall possible attempts to artificially increase the price of rubber through restriction measures, is reported.

"The purchased rubber will be used either to supply the manufacturers when restrictions raise the price, or to hold it over the market to prevent prices rising unduly."

The comment of the circular on this is instructive, as representing British trade opinion.

Hand to Hand Policy.

"We think," says the circular, "that the pool represents an effort to work with restriction to achieve something like stability of price for both producer and manufacturer. In our last annual review we made the following statement:

"'So long as the manufacturers insist on a hand-to-hand policy with their supply, so long will they be liable to be caught short and to find themselves compelled to pay abnormal prices. The cry of a "stabilized price" comes very largely from manufacturers. A "stabilized price" we believe, is an impossible ideal, but manufacturers have the remedy for very violent fluctuations largely in their own hands and can do more for themselves in this direction than anyone else can do for them by carrying sufficient reserves of stock thus preventing sudden squeezes.'

"This fact," continues the circular, "has been recognized for many years by consumers the whole world over, and particularly by the large American manufacturers with their combined consumption of more than 30,000 tons per month. Producers and others interested in the rubber market have blamed the buyers for lack of foresight in not buying rubber when it was cheap and scrambling for it when it was dear. Apart altogether, from that human weakness which keeps buyers out of a falling market, and sends them rushing into a rising one, manufacturers, and particularly American manufacturers, have been handicapped in the past by lack of finance.

Growing Trade.

"With a young and rapidly growing trade, such as the American tire trade, enormous amounts of money are constantly required for new buildings and machinery, not to mention the constantly-growing pay sheets of the employes. Then again, changes in type from the fabric to the cord tire, and more recently from the high tension cord to the balloon cord, involve the manufacturers in huge expense for alterations to existing machinery and plants, and in many cases for entirely new machinery, including the use of mouldsand machines which have become out-of-date almost before they have had time to pay for themselves in actual use.

"With such liabilities to provide for, it is, perhaps, not to be wondered at that the big manufacturers have not been able to set aside sufficient stocks of rubber to protect themselves against market fluctuations.

"The present pool now provides the capital to carry an adequate stock."

NEW FOOTBALL STAR

GLENDALE, Calif., Jan. 7.—Obed Lucas, 15, will not think so much about football in the future. Staging a game in his dreams, young Lucas tried to execute a punt from a difficult angle, or maybe it was a drop kick. Anyway he kicked a dent in the wall with his bare toes. Now he is temporarily out of the game with injuries.

ANGRY, SPREADING RASH ON BABY'S BODY

Checked and healed by soothing ointment

Los Angeles, Cal., July 28:—"When my baby was four months old, little red pimples which resembled heat or teething rash appeared on her body. I used various baby powders, but the trouble kept spreading until nearly all the lower part of her body was covered. Then it began to look white and scaly and I knew it was more than an ordinary rash. I decided to try Resinol Ointment, and after the first two or three applications I noticed an improvement. I kept on using this ointment, however, and bought some Resinol Soap to bathe her with. The result was that the trouble completely disappeared. I have always used Resinol Soap for her bath since. She is two years old now, and her skin is absolutely free from any blemish. When my boy began to have ringworms, I was so persistent in the use of Resinol Ointment that they were soon cleared away. I wouldn't be without Resinol in the house, and at the least sign of any eruption on the children, I use it." (Signed) Mrs. L. E. Crenshaw, 7806 Lou Dillon Ave.

Horse Coming Back? Not In New Castle!

Fewer horses are used in New Castle now than a year ago, said William E. Marquis, veteran horseshoer and horseman of the city.

Mr. Marquis said that there may be and likely are more horses in New Castle than a year ago but if there are they are not being used. As for driving horses, they are becoming fewer and fewer every year. There is no room on the road for them any more.

The only line in which there has been a decided increase is that of race horses. There are more race horses now over the country than there ever were, said Mr. Marquis. This is also shown by the report of a manufacturer of racing bikes who reports an increase of 68 per cent in the sales of 1926 over those of 1925.

It is reported from several of the large cities like Pittsburgh, Cleveland, etc., that many more draft horses are being used. This may be true for many firms are replacing trucks by horses on short hauls, but in New Castle this cannot be said to be true.

There seems to be a tendency among certain farmers to abandon the tractor and go back to horses. This has likely been encouraged by the very wet season that farmers had this last summer.

Mr. Marquis stated that there is fact that the boy of today overlooks that the boy of 15 or 20 years ago had advantage of. That is that a young fellow on the farm was often given the privilege of raising a colt and breaking it in, then he could drive it for several years and after five or six years he might sell it for a good price. The price of a horse would increase rather than diminish for several years. The boy now will buy a car on payment plan and by the time his car is paid for it is worn out. Each year it depreciates in value while a horse increases in value. Also it costs less to feed off the farm than the frequent calls at the filling stations. But as long as money is as plentiful as it is now we will hardly find many young fellows going back to horses.

Itinerants Flock South With Birds

Wanderers, Differ From Old Hobo In That They Will Work

SIOUX CITY, Jan. 7.—Moving southward through Sioux City with more or less speed is an army of about 15,000 "drifters."

The ranks are broken. Sometimes lone stragglers pass through, and at other times groups of twelve to twenty travel together. It is motely army, under no particular guidance excepting "Captain Chance," and its sole object, apparently, is to live from day to day as easily as possible.

Old type "hoboes," who begged a "hand-out" from door to door, practically have disappeared, and the modern successor is known as a "drifter." He usually "works" his way from "here to there." But he keeps moving. Seldom will he stay in one place longer than a month at the most.

Cold Drives Them South

Movement of the "drifters" southward through Sioux City now is under way, and will be at its height in a couple of weeks, when the weather probably will be so cold that corn husking in this vicinity will not be very pleasant. Many of the members of the drifting army follow the harvests northward in the summer and then return to the South.

When passing through a place like Sioux City the men usually visit the State-Federal employment agencies and missions, looking for odd jobs by which they may make a few dollars to keep them on their way.

Through the State-Federal employment office in the city building more than 50,000 men pass each year, according to estimates of J. W. Holmes, manager of the bureau. Many of the men merely call at the bureau, while others accept jobs in the harvest fields. It was estimated that about 10,000 of the men who call during the fall and winter months are working their way South.

Rich Copper Find Seen In Ontario

Survey Of Rock Formations Indicates Value May Reach $30,000,000

TIMMINS, Ont., Jan. 7.—Interest is running at fever heat here over the first geological report on what may be the biggest copper strike ever made in the north country in the Kamiskotia Lake gold area.

"Anything from 60 cents to $30,000,000" was the only declaration of possible wealth George Scott, prominent geologist, would give. "It may be worth a fortune and may be a washout."

Mr. Scott accompanied Geor Jamieson, well known prospecto to the district before the rush commenced and made a survey of the find. Comparing it with the Flin Flon and Horne camps, Mr. Scott said that in his opinion the Kamiskotia find appeared to have better prospects. "Every new discovery of sulphides in the area, no matter how small, will be of unusual interest," states the geologist.

He has been in and out of the Kamiskotia Lake area three times within the last few weeks, and on his second trip he would have staked a claim on his own behalf in Jamieson Township if he had been able to persuade the men accompanying him to cross the Mattagami River on an improvised raft. He explained that the schista on the outcrop of the Jamieson find ran northeast to southwest. Although at present there is no sign of a large copper mine developing in the district, the veteran geologist believes that a new lease of life will be given Porcupine Camp if his theories are correct.

Hollinger officials have acquired Jamieson claims, while Dome and McIntyre men are staking in the vicinity. Prospectors are still going out to the new copper fields and each day the trains bring in men with pack sacks, who immediately turn their faces to the north.

Master (to negro valet)—How do I look, Sambo?

Sambo—Bold as a lion, massa.

"Why, you've never seen a lion."

"Yes, massa, I see ... son's lion."

"That's a donkey."

WHY FATHER GOT WELL

Doctor (whispering)—"I'm afraid your poor husband is beyond help. I see no hope."

Patient (supposedly asleep)—"Whazzat? Whazzat? No hope for me? Say, what does that old—"

Wife—"Now father, don't excite yourself. You just leave it to the doctor. He knows best."

LOUD WATCH

The ship's officer, chatting with Levi and his wife, excused himself. "There's goes eight bells," he said. "It's my watch below."

"Vot a liar," remarked Levi after the officer had gone. "No vatch made strikes so loud."

American "Big Stick" Will Be Used To Quell Nicaraguan Revolt

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—The American "big stick" is to be used to the fullest extent to stop the revolution in Nicaragua.

This was made clear here Thursday when the state department announced that this government will "take any steps it deems necessary" to stop hostilities, which it considers are endangering American trade interests and menacing American rights to the proposed Nicaraguan canal and Fonseca naval base.

The announcement followed immediately upon the dispatch of two additional cruisers, three destroyers and an expeditionary force of 400 additional marines to Nicaraguan waters.

This government has decided, it was said at the department, that the flow of arms and ammunition to the Sacasa revolutionists must be stopped. The Sacasas have been fast gaining the upper hand over Adolfo Diaz, who is recognized as the president of Nicaragua by the state department.

How this stoppage is to be effected is to be left largely to the discretion of Rear Admiral Latimer, who has been given 13 warships, some 3,000 marines and bluejackets and almost unlimited authority with which to accomplish it.

The Sacasa troops have been getting their supplies from Mexican sources.

Asked the direct question whether American warships will seize Mexican vessels which seek to carry arms to the Sacasa troops, Secretary of State Kellogg declined to commit himself. But he would not say such orders had not been given.

An open clash with Mexico is admittedly one of the possibilities in the situation, for Mexico recognizes Dr. Sacasa as the constitutional president of Nicaragua and as a sovereign nation she has the right to sell arms and ammunition where she wills.

The heavy reinforcements sent Latimer would indicate that he is to be "equipped for any emergency."

Secretary Kellogg explained the lifting of the arms embargo to Diaz by jointing out that the revolutionists have been able to get supplies from Mexico. For the American government to deny arms to Diaz and at the same time permit his opponents to get them would be a reversal of American policy in such situations, Kellogg said.

Secretary Kellogg reiterated that the state department is "maintaining strict neutrality" in the politics of Nicaragua. It is only determined, he said, to protect American and foreign interests and to bring hostilities to as speedy an end as possible.

ALTOONA MUSICIAN, WHOSE CAR KILLED MAN, GOES TO JAIL

ALTOONA, Pa., Jan. 7.—For running down and killing Geo. W. Spotts, an Altoona street sweeper, last October, Kenneth Keller, orchestra leader, was sentenced to eight months in jail and $100 fine by Judge Baldrige on the charge of involuntary manslaughter, driving an automobile while intoxicated and failing to give assistance.

Veteran Physician Dies In Hospital

BEAVER FALLS, Pa., Jan. 7.—Dr. Everett Webster Sheets, 66, practicing physician in this city for more than 40 years, died in Providence Hospital of pneumonia. Dr. Sheets leaves one son, Dr. Raymond P. Sheets of Bruin, Pa., and two daughters, Miss Alba and Miss Alva Sheets of Detroit.

GOLD PIECES DROPPED IN SLOT BY MISTAKE

NEW YORK, Jan. 7—The $5 gold piece may be handsome, but to groping fingers it feels litle different from the lowly nickle. Either inserted in a telephone coin box will get a number.

This explains why collectors of the New York Telephone Company gather a harvest of gold coins around the Christmas season. In the last 10 days 69 have been turned in. Most of the owners quickly discovered their mistake, and 61 of the coins already have been returned.

Pimples, Boils, Skin Eruptions

Skilled physicians recognize the appearance of pimples, boils and other skin eruptions as being an indication of an abnormal condition of the system. This is why so many thousands have been enabled to free themselves of these unsightly blemishes and painful annoyances by taking a course of S. S. S. You owe it to yourself to try S. S. S. It helps nature build up red corpuscles. It improves the processes by which the blood is nourished. It is time-tried and reliable.

"I suffered from impure blood—was weak, and I had lost so much weight I didn't look natural. I had pimples and was also bothered with a breaking out that itched terribly. I also had boils one after another. I tried different kinds of remedies, but nothing did me any good until a friend advised me to take S. S. S., which I did. This was some time ago. Now I feel well, and I am getting along fine. S. S. S. stopped the itching and it cured me of boils. I advise all weak and run-down people to give S. S. S. a trial. It clears up the skin and makes you strong and fills you with energy." Mrs. J. W. Barker, 1337 Walnut street, Cincinnati, Ohio.

S. S. S. is made from the fresh roots of medicinal herbs and plants and is prepared in a scientific way in a modern laboratory.

S. S. S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

The Record of Electric Power & Light Preferred Stocks

CAREFUL analysis of the dividend records of practically every electric power and light company with gross earnings of $1,500,000 per year and upwards, the combined capitalization of which represents approximately 90% of the industry, shows that:

1. Current cash dividends are being paid on all of the preferred stocks included in this analysis.
2. In no case are there accumulated back dividends unpaid.
3. In fifteen cases dividends have been deferred but have subsequently been paid off in stock or cash.
4. In all other cases (124) the preferred stocks have unbroken dividend records.

The foregoing is from the published statement of Bonbright & Company, Inc., one of the large investment houses of the United States, on their investigation of the dividend records of 139 electric power and light companies. It is the judgment of this company that this remarkable record definitely establishes the investment position of the Preferred Stocks of large electric power and light companies.

WESTMINSTER WILL DEBATE

Plans Being Made For Extensive Schedule Of Debate Events

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Jan. 7.—Extensive plans for the coming debate season at Westminster College are in the formulative stage and indications are that the season will be one of the busiest in the history of the school.

The schedule as tentatively arranged is most attractive. According to Robert Ferguson of Bellevue, secretary of Tau Kappa Alpha, the honorary debate fraternity, the season will open Thursday, March 3, when a triangular debate with Geneva and Grove City will be staged. Western Reserve may be met in Cleveland March 11, and while in that vicinity a debate may also be held with Oberlin. A dual debate with Thiel is planned for March 17.

One of the features of the season will be a southern and eastern trip which will probably start about March 21. During the trip Washington and Jefferson, several West Virginia schools, Roanoke, Hampden-Sidney and Randolph-Macon, the last named three Virginia colleges, will be met. It is planned to end the tour at Philadelphia with a debate against Temple.

"Resolved, the United States should cancel war debts owed to it by the allied nations" is the question to be debated throughout the season.

The veteran debaters available are: Brown Bricker of Braddock, Jesse Cogley of Braddock, Robert Ferguson of Bellevue, Halden Williams of Carnegie, Samuel Colman of Philadelphia and Howard Hamer of Erie. Try-outs for the team are slated for next Wednesday.

Dr. C. A. Dawson, head of the department of English, is faculty coach.

Real Estate In New York Sets New High Record

(International News Service)

ALBANY, Jan. 7. — Real estate transactions in New York State State for the fiscal years ending June 30, 1926, amounted to more than five and one half billion dollars, a new high record, according to M. F. Loughman, president of the State Tax Commission. This total does not include cash transactions in real estate.

The estimate made by Loughman is on the basis of the legal tax rate of fifty cents per one hundred dollars of the mortgage and on the assumption that the average mortgage amounts to forty percent, of the value of the property involved.

The total gross tax collected from July 1, 1925 to June 30, 1926, amounted to $13,795,884.99 as compared with $10,872,139.56 in 1924-25.

In the last fiscal year there were recorded 322,633 mortgages, a gain of 43,361 over the previous fiscal year.

Newly Elected Kiwanis Leader Is Found Dead

Pittsburgh Kiwanians Plan Ceremonies For New President, He Is Found Dead

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 7.—While members of the Pittsburgh Kiwanis club waited at their dinner table to witness ceremonies which were to induct Charles A. Wilson into office as president of the club, Wilson lay dead in the garage at the rear of his home here it was learned today.

Wilson was found after several hours search apparently a victim of carbon monixide fumes after he drove his car into the garage.

The victim was recently elected president of the Kiwantans and a dinner program yesterday was to have been featured by his induction into office.

Erie And Nickle Plate Merger Of Little Effect Here

Merger of the Erie Railroad with the Nickle Plate railroad which took place on January 1 will make little difference with the interests of the company in New Castle.

Starting with the first of the year the merger took effect when the presidency of the Erie Railroad was taken by J. J. Burnett, president of the Nickle Plate Railroad, replacing F. W. Underwood, former president of the Erie Railroad.

Since New Castle is not on the main line of the Erie Railroad and the only interests of the company in New Castle are the freight interests, a branch freight line coming from the main line at Sharon, the public will not be much effected. But it may make a difference in freight of the Company such as new routings, etc.

Motor Car Toll Roads Is Plan Of Japanese

(International News Service)

TOKIO, Jan. 7.—Toll roads for motor cars will be common in Japan if a bill under consideration by the home office is enacted by the diet. The bill would provide for construction of system of highways on which only motor traffic would be allowed but a fee would be charged to each car using the highway.

India To Jail Old Men Who Marry Girls

(International News Service)

Largest Diesel Engine In World Built In Ohio

(International News Service)

HAMILTON, O., Dec. 28.—The largest Diesel engine in the world has been completed here.

The mammoth power plant capable of developing from 3,500 to 5,000 horsepower will begin a 30-day non-stop test at the works of the Hooven-Owens-Rentschler company where it was built. Upon successful completion of this test the engine will be installed in the U. S. S. Seminole, a freighter.

The engine will be run "on the block" with a simulated "load." This will consist of an enormous generator which will be hooked to it and which will require approximately the same power to operate as a propeller thrusting a ship through the water.

More than 2,000 kilowatts of electricity will be generated by this trnal. This force will be dissipated into a tank of water.

The makers predict that the Diesel engine will cut operating expenses more than one third and declare that many power plants are being supplanted by the new fuel-oil burning engine.

Government experts as well as engineers for various steamship lines which now use steam turbines are here to observe the tests.

More than four-fifths of all the asbestos produced in the world comes from the Province of Quebec.

Two Semaphores Will Be Bought

White Way Lights To Be Placed From Crescent To Railroad On Sixth Street

Police Ordinance On Arrests And Fines Amended By Council Thursday

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa., Jan. 7.—After much argument pro and con among the members of the Borough council at their regular monthly meeting last evening in the city building, it was decided that two new traffic signals will be purchased as a safety measure for the traffic in the Borough of Ellwood City. Upon the arrival of the lights they will be placed according to the discretion of the Streets committee and the Borough Electrician.

The petition very nearly got squashed when several members voted that it be placed on file. Although these members had a majority by one, the ensuing heated discussion ended by compromising in the purchase of two lights. A consensus of opinion among the tax peyers showed that a great majority were in favor of the purchase of these lights. One proposed location which caused no little debate was the placing of a light at the intersection of Line avenue and North streets, some members being in favor and others against it. Several accidents have been reported at that corner, and whether or not these arguments will prove strong enough to place a light there eventually, remains to be seen. Returns of questionaires sent to the citizens regarding left-hand turns on Lawrence avenue at Fifth street show two to one in favor of left hand turns.

While on the subject of street lights, Joseph Bowater, chairman of the streets committee voiced a complaint regarding the arc lights, stating that they didn't seem to give the amount of light which might be expected from the size. This matter was referred to the streets committee for investigation.

A continuation of White Way lights will be placed from Crescent avenue on Sixth street across Lawrence avenue to the railroad track. This ordinance was passed on secong reading before the council who gave the president power to appoint an electric light committee to work with the Borough engineer, in investigating, drawing up plans, and be ready to submit the results at the next regular meeting of council.

A letter regarding the delivery of unwrapped bread in Ellwood City as an unsanitary measure, was referred to the members of the health committee for investigation with power to act.

Committee Reports

Members of council rejected the sewer assessment complaint which was voiced at the last regular meeting by Mr. Bixon of the Fourth ward.

December fire report stated that 6 fires occurred during the month of December, damages not exceeding $20,000.

Burgess report stated total arrests during December 55; calls, 18; fines 8; forfeits, 21; total money received $638.00.

Board of trustees of the local library invited the council members to inspect that institution in an effort to view the need for a larger appropriation for the coming year. This was for the information of the finance committee and was received and placed on file.

Police Ordinance

Police Ordinance No. 81 was amended on the petition of Chief Teater. The old ordinance read that on a charge of drunk and disorderly conduct, fighting and general disturbance of the peace fines should be leveled not under $2.00 and not to exceed $25.00. This meant that an offender committing one or all of the charges could be fined only one amount. In the amended ordinance separate fines can be charged on each offense.

Two Borough employes, Miss Beatrice Sarver and Mrs. Elizabeth Gast requested in writing a raise in their salaries. This matter was referred to the members of the Rules and Regulations committee with the power to act, and report at the next session of council.

The Borough poor house, located on 13th street is to be placed on sale, according to action taken at last night's meeting, and council commissioned members of the Rules and Regulations committee to advertise for bids on same with the power to reject or accept at the discretion of council members.

Children's Hour At Church Tonight

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa., Jan. 7.—The regular weekly Children's Hour will begin for the new year with a program of instructive fun at the First Baptist church tonight.

Rev. Macgeorge writes a letter to each little member of his audience: "Dear Kiddies:—Do not forget that you have an engagement with the friend of the children on Friday evening at 7:00 o'clock at the Baptist church. Come and get the new ticket for the next three months of attendance. We assure you a pleasant evening. If you received a humming top from Santa Claus two weeks ago, bring it with you and we will see if you have a winner. Only the tops that HUM this time.

Local Boxer In Match In Erie

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa., Jan. 7.—Arthur Milnes, well known boxer of this city, accompanied by C. W. Houck, left for Erie today to engage in a boxing match this evening in that city. George Milnes, his brother and manager, expected to accompany him but was detained on account of the illness of a coworker in the mill.

Borough To Send Men To Convention

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa., Jan. 7.—At the regular meeting of the borough council last night in the city building the members decided that President Jud Turner should appoint two members of the borough staff to attend the sixteenth annual meeting of the Pennsylvania State Association of Boroughs to take place January 25 and 26 at the Penn-Harris hotel in Harrisburg. At this time many new ideas in borough management will be discussed and a new borough code is to be brought up for proposed presentation at the next session of the legislature. Uniform traffic laws will also be discussed.

Notice was received at the meeting of the seventh annual convention of the sanitation officials which will take place in St. Louis January 10 and 11. This letter was received and placed on file.

Rotarian Members Hear Dr. Deeler

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa., Jan. 7.—The members of the local Rotary club enjoyed a talk last evening by Dr. Deeler, professor of history, from Grove City college. The speaker gave an interesting talk on Rotary activities in general, which was well received.

The members received an invitation from the Beaver Falls club to attend a buckwheat feast January 17 in New Wilmington. The New Wilmington club is the baby club of the International Rotary organization, being in existence only one month.

BETHANY CLASS HAS ELECTION THURSDAY

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa., Jan. 7.—Thirty members of the Bethany class of the First Christian church enjoyed a meeting last night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Newton on Fountain avenue. Principal event of the evening was the election of officers.

The election meeting was presided over by Miss Callie Smith, retiring president, the newly elected officials being: Miss Fern Belles, president; Miss Leona Miller, treasurer; Miss Verna Thornhill, secretary, and Miss Lillian Aiken, vice president.

The next meeting of the class will take place Friday, February 4, at the home of Miss Verna Thornhill in Frisco.

FUNERAL PROCESSIONS WILL DISPLAY LIGHTS

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa., Jan. 7.—On and after this date funeral processions of cars will display lights, either dimmers or full glare to distinguish them from other processions. This measure of protection has been instigated by Chief of Police Teater. Any motorist caught cutting in on such a procession will be liable to arrest and fine.

The undertaking companies have been notified of this ruling and have signified their willingness to cooperate with the police.

BAPTIST CHURCH PROGRAM SUNDAY

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa., Jan. 7.—Services in the First Baptist church for Sunday will be conducted as follows: Bible school session at 9:45 and three adult classes to which all are invited. Morning service of worship at 11:00, sermon by the pastor, choir music; Young People's service at 7:00; evening service at 7:45. Rev. C. W. Macgeorge.

CLASS 17 PLANS DOLLAR SOCIAL

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa., Jan. 7.—Twenty-five members of class No. 17 of the Bell Memorial church enjoyed a meeting last night at the home of Mrs. Orval Gorden on College street. Following the routine discussion the members planned for a dollar social to take place at the next meeting which will be conducted February 3. The meeting concluded with the serving of delicious refreshments by the committee assisting the hostess.

MERCHANT SMOKER ON WEDNESDAY NIGHT

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 7.—The merchants' division of the local Chamber of Commerce planned a smoker to take place Tuesday night, Jan. 11, but owing to the fact that Tuesday is pay-day, the smoker has been postponed until Wednesday night, in the Chamber quarters.

BRAEDEN CIRCLE MEETS.

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa., Jan. 7.—The members of the Mary Braeden Circle of the Wurtemburg U. P. church held their regular monthly meeting Wednesday evening at the home of the pastor, Rev. Wm. S. Smith.

The devotional service was conducted by Mrs. Daisy Rutter.

Following the usual routine a social time was enjoyed.

STORK NEWS

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa., Jan. 7.—Mr. and Mrs. Bishop Cole of Mt. Lebanon, Pa., are proud to announce the birth of a 9-pound son. Mr. and Mrs. Cole are former residents.

New Kiwanis Head Discusses Policies

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 7.—At the regular weekly dinner meeting of the members of the local Kiwanis Club, conducted last night in the Methodist church, the newly elected president, Ray Smith, gave an interesting talk of proposed Kiwanis policies for the year of 1927.

Each member expressed willingness to bring a boy next week who is interested in becoming a Boy Scout.

The program committee plans to schedule the speakers and events for the entire year and get out a printed form on same. Of course this will be subject to change when necessary.

Fire Siren Will Be Tested Here

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa., Jan. 7.—Chief Plant of the local fire department announced that at 9 o'clock from now indefinitely the siren would be blown as a cold weather test. This test is being made on account of faulty working of the siren at the time of a fire during cold weather some time ago.

COUNCIL HEARS PLAYGROUND REPORT

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 7.—Members of the playground committee sent a report to the borough council meeting which took place in the City building last night, as follows:

The two playgrounds operated last year had a daily attendance of 430 children during the 49 days of operation. Total receipts were $2,058, part of which was secured by contribution, part by appropriation and part by sale of basket material.

During the previous year the playgrounds had an attendance of 900 per day. Children will not travel further than half a mile to a playground. It is important to the children of Ellwood City that more playgrounds be provided. With the proper appropriation from council two or three more playgrounds could be distributed over the borough in the places more in need.

The above matter was referred to the members of the finance committee, who will make a report at the next regular meeting.

EMANON CLUB WITH ERLA HARRIGER

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa., Jan. 7.—Miss Erla Harriger entertained the members of the Emanon Bridge club last evening at her home on Second street.

Mrs. J. B. Yeager of W. Cherry street, who has been quite ill with inflammatory rheumatism at the New Castle hospital is reported to be somewhat improved.

Mahoning Tops North Street

In the opening game of the junior high basketball league, Mahoning school varsity defeated the North street varsity by a score of 8 to 7. It was a hard fought game. The Mahoning team had the ball in their territory three-fourths of the time and the only fact that kept the score from being much larger for Mahoning was the stubbornness of the ball to go through the hoop after rolling around and balancing on the edge of the basket. Bender dropped the winning field goal in the basket for the Mahoning team. The game was played in the Mahoning school gymnasium.

The lineup:

Mahoning 8		North St. 7
Rishel	F.	Valle
McIlvenny	F.	Ward
Bender	C.	Schults
Sweener	G.	Mannis
Hilliard	G.	Hoose

Subs—Russo, Brumbaugh and Bunnel for Mahoning and Pollock for North street.

Field goals—Bender, Sweener, Russo, Schults.

Fouls—Rishel, Sweener, Valle, Schults 2, Mannis, Pollock.

Referee—Herbert Smith.

Timekeeper—Bruce Franklin.

BIBLE CLASS

About 25 were present at the monthly social meeting of the Sabbath school class of the Mahoning Methodist church taught by Mrs. I. E. McCoy, Thursday evening in the church parlor. During the evening the hours were spent socially with social chat. At a seasonable hour delicious refreshments were served by the associate hostesses, Mrs. Sam Fowler, Mrs. Byron Edwards, Mrs. G. G. Emerick and Mrs. J. H. Gwin.

ON SICK LIST

Mrs. E. J. Walter of the Willow Grove road is ill at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Walter on W. Clayton street.

For 50 years the Rev. N. F. McNeile has carried on a devoted ministry in a widely scattered country parish in England without ever having seen one of his 800 parishioners. The clergyman has been blind since boyhood, but he has never allowed his disability to discourage him or hinder his work.

Lost Son Found

Informed that she had only a few days to live, Mrs. James Fricks, Anderson, Ind., requested her son, James, to find another son, Howard Hedrick, who had been placed in an orphans' home sixteen years previously when his parents separated and who had shifted for himself. Found no farther away than Goshen, Ind., Howard rushed to his mother's bedside, arriving before her death. Photo is of Howard, taken on a western ranch.

Rev. Lambert At Greenwood Church

Rev. H. W. Lambert, pastor of the Alliance Gospel Tabernacle on Pearson street will preach in the Greenwood M. E. church on Sunday afternoon at 2:30 during the absence of the pastor, S. R. Maitland.

The services will be in charge of the Gospel Campaign Band of Energy. There will be special singing.

Britain Swings Axe Of Economy To Save Money

Seven-Month Coal Strike Forces Government Into Difficult Position

New Imperative Taxes Likely To Bring Disfavor On Cabinet

By F. A. WRAY
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, Jan. 7.—The British government is about to swing the "Economy Axe" in a way of which the ancient Viking never dreamed.

A seven months' disastrous coal strike is ended and now the bill has to be met. "How to meet it," is the question not only awaiting Winston Churchill as keeper of the nation's purse, but every spending Department of the Government.

If it were merely a question of paying for the actual cost of the strike itself, the outlook would not be so serious. But its indirect effects have absolutely crippled British trade and industry and dried up all the usual founts of revenue.

Four Plans Open

Four courses have already been decided upon by the government. Every spending Department has been peremptorily ordered to cut down its next year's estimates to the very bone, even at the risk of a loss of efficiency in some directions. In the second place the Government has decided to avoid all fresh taxes on food, if possible. Thirdly, new taxation, direct and indirect on all luxuries—including beer and tobacco—is regarded as inevitable. Lastly, an increase in income tax, already strained almost to breaking point, is regarded as inevitable.

The Government knows it is facing the gravest unpopularity. But it is influenced by the fact that, to take one tangible instance, the collection of income tax for the year is already $150,000,000 down. What the deficiency will be by the end of the financial year it is possible to state. But the indirect effects on other sources of revenue have not yet begun to come in.

Many Bankruptcies

A sidelight on the situation is shown in South Wales where bankruptcies are occurring daily and hundreds of traders and professional men are being summoned in the courts daily for non-payment of municipal assessments and trading debts.

Premier Baldwin is determined to handle the situation much as he handled the funding of the British debt to America. He believes the situation must be retrieved at the earliest moment. Whatever the individual sacrifices through heavy taxation may be, and the Government will act on these lines.

1926 Forest Fires Bring Less Damage

(International News Service)

OLYMPIA, Wash. Dec. 7.—Property damage resulting from forest fires in the state of Washington during the 1926 season was only about one half of that incurred during 1925, according to the annual report of Forest Supervisor George C. Joy.

The 1,151 fires occurring in logged-off and forested areas, this year burned over 247,621 acres doing damage of $249,476, while last year 1,271 fires covered a total of 142,355 acres and did damage of $457,170.

The total timber killed by fires this season amounted to 69,718,000 feet as against 60,091,000 feet killed in 1925. The loss from timber totally destroyed is shown to have been even worse this year than it was in 1925, the respective footage being 13,253,000 feet for 1926, and 8,897,000 for 1925.

Settlers living in localities where fires occurred, lost property worth $49,795 during 1926, as compared to only $35,291 for 1925.

"Almost one half of the area burned over is in Stevens and Pend Orielle Counties," Joy declared. "A dry lightning storm swept over that section of the state July 12 which started an unprecedented number of fires in remotely forested districts. One fire in Stevens County covered 30,000 acres—some of it but sparsely timbered.

"The worst fire in the Douglas fir region was near Eatonville in Fierce County, which cost nearly $90,000 to place under control. This fire extended over 7,600 acres, and was put out with the expense principally borne by the Washington Forest Fire Association."

The greater part of the world's supply of cacoa now comes from the Gold Coast of British West Africa, where fifty years ago the product was totally unknown.

Nathan Straus, who has donated a quarter of a million dollars for the creation of a health center in Jerusalem, is a noted leader of American Jewry who accumulated a fortune in mercantile pursuits in New York and then, in 1913, retired from business in order to devote himself wholly to philanthropic work, much of which he had initiated years before, notably his provision of milk for the children of the city, and his plans for helping the poor with food and fuel. Always interested in the welfare of his own race, Mr. Straus has given generously to projects in Palestine, as well as for the betterment of Jewish emigrants to the United States. Honors in the way of appointment to important civic positions have come to him from mayors, governors and presidents.

Trade And Life In Our Uutlying States Improve

Foreign Business Grows In Alaska, Hawaii, Porto Rico And Philippines

Colonies Sell U. S. Big Quanties Of Goods And Have Favorable Balance

By ROBERT S. THORNBURGH.
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7. — Under the control of the United States the economic position and plane of living in the so-called "outlying possessions' are eshowing a marked improvement, according to E. Dana Durand of the commerce department.

On examination of the foreign trade of these territories icluding Alaska, Hawaii, Porto Rico and the Philippines hows that in the year ending June 30 goods valued at nearly $251,000,000 were purchased from the United States.

The colonies at the same time sold to United States raw materials and other commodities valued at $361,000,000 enjoying a favorable balance of trade of about $100,000,000.

Under the present system of compilation of foreign trade statistics the Philippine Islands are classified as a foreign country. The trade of tthe other possessions is classed as domestic.

Like Foreign Trade.

"There is much to be said in favor of changing this practice and trating the trade with all outlying possessions as foreign trade notwithstanding the fact that Alaska, Hawaii and Porto Rico are part of the customs areas of the United States" Durand said.

"Practically all other countries in their trade statistics treat the trade with their possissions however intimately related they may be with the home country as part of their foreign trade.'

Commerce departhment studies show that the trade with the outlyig possessions is increasing rapidly. Comparison of the figures for the last fiscal year with those disclose an increase of 585 percent in shipments from Continetal United States to Alasko, Hawaii, Porto Rico and the Philippines as compared to an increase of 230 percent in our exports to foreign countries.

The gain in the case of Alaska was 234 percent, Hawaii 556 percent, Porto Rico 578 percent and the Philippines 1,529 percent.

"It may be suggested that these gains have been at the expense of trade of other countries with these possessions—that their acquisition has diverted a greatly increased proportion of their total trade to United States" Durand continued.

"As a matter of fact in the case of Alaska, Hawaii and Porto Rico, this country sas for an indefinite time enjoyed nearly all the trade. This was the naturel result of their proximity to United States. The gain since 1903 has been in no way as the expense of other countries; indeed the imports of these three possessions from other countries have increased almost as fast as those from United States.

Philippines Different.

"In the case of the Philippines the situation is different. In 1903 this country furnished about 12 percent of the imports while in 1925 it fuhnished 60 per cent. Nevertheless imports of the Islands from countries other than the United States wer more than 80 per cent greater in 1925 than in 1903."

Durand pointed out that the rapid gain in our shipments to outlying possessions is mainly due to the improvement of their ecqnomic position much of which may justly be attributed to the very fact of their polltical connection with the United States.

"The investment of American capital, education of the native population and maintenance of orderly government have increased uproduction in all these possessions" Durand said.

"Standards of living have been raised and their buying power enhanced.

"That the exporters of United States have gained the moset from this greater buying power is only natural."

And some took their last drink New Year's eve quite uintentionally.

UNCLE SAM HAS PINNED MEDALS ON 40,000 FISH IN FOUR YEARS

By ROBERT S. THORNBURGH.
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7. — At the present rate every fashionable fish in the ocean eventually will be wearing medals pinned upon them by the United States Bureau of Fisheries.

In a study of fish migration spawning habits and "housing quarters" the government has tagged more than 40,000 fish in the last four years.

Most of the tagging has taken place off the Massachusetts and Maine Coasts. During the past year the fisheries bureau pinned metal markers on 4,245 cod, pollock and paddock and recaptured 1,848 fish which had been tagged in former years.

"One important result of this year's investigation was the capture of young cod and haddock 2 to 5 inches long on Georges bank" the fisheries bureau said. "Hauls over smooth bottom resulted in no fish but good catches were made on rocky bottom.

'The stomach of one pollock taken on Georges Bank contained 12 haddock, 2 to 4 inches long. It is believed that large numbers of yearling cod and haddock and present on offshore fishing banks whenever suitable bottom, offering refuge from enemies can be found."

Officials said that the results of the 1926 operations prove that investigation should be continued over a long period of time. Whereas in 1923 and 1924 the stock of cod on Nantucket Shoals was composed chiefly of fish 22 to 32 inches long in 1925 a group of 18 to 20 inch fish was found in May and another of 14 to 16 inches in October.

"These smallest fish had been rare on Nanutcket Shoals throughout 1923 and 1924" the statement said. "In 1926 fishing was carried on only during September but at that time the cod population consisted largely of 17 to 20 inch fish and the former predominating sizes of 22 to 32 inches were in the minority.

"These variations in size seem to indicate that definite migrations of cod, other than the usual southern winter movement took place to and from Nantucket Shoals during 1925 and 1926. Therefore operations during 1927 are expected to prove unusually interesting.'

Another phase of the food fish studies relates to oysters investigations having taken place in Long Island Sound and Cape Cod regions. Additional projects were undertaken at Norfolk, Va., and Mississippi Sound, Miss.

The studies at Norfolk consisted largely in an intensive study of the oyster drill which is the most destructive pest of the commercial oyster beds in lower Chesapeake Bay. It is planned to investigate the life and habits of the drill with the aim of developing practical methods of control.

In compliance with the request of the city of Biloxi, Miss., a survey of Mississippi sound was started in October.

INDIANA TO SPEND OVER $1,000,000 TO MAKE PARK AMONG SAND DUNES

(International News Service)

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 7.—Tourists from all over the United States who have heard of the famous sand dunes on the southern shores of Lake Michigan will be given an opportunity to see and enjoy them in comfort, if the million dollar appropriation asked by the state conservation commission from the next legislature is approved.

Fully half of the sum will be used in building a first class, modern hotel and bath house for the benefit of the pleasure seekers who annually swarm into the area and the Dunes park, according to the commission's plans.

Richard Lieber, director, announced he will make a special plea for that section of the appropriation, in order to accommodate the throngs that visit the park over week-ends, to say nothing of those who spend weeks enjoying the weird beauty of the Dunes.

The hotel and bath house will not be the only things built in the Dunes park, if the request is approved. The commission plans to spend an additional $250,000 to construct a parking area in the sand, besides building a mile and a half of paved roadway and sidewalk leading into the playground. Portions of Fort creek, a small creek meandering through the park will be placed in conduits.

The popularity of the Dunes park not only as a national playground, but also as a permanent educational study in geological formations, and strange vegetation, has caused the department to place an unusual stress on the development of this state park immediately.

Guides, thoroughly acquainted with the great variety of different forms of vegetation and geological formations in the park have been provided by the state. These have been prepared to explain the causes resulting in the weird, haunting effects produced in the otherwise waste regions.

Prospects Good For New Year At Fleming Plant

Structural Steel Plant Head Sees Busy Year Ahead For Concern

Fleming Manufacturing company located at 411 Neal street, manufactures of all kinds of structural steel, have shipped orders to all parts of the country during the last year, said L. Kohn, general manager of the company.

The Fleming Manufacturing company has been located in New Castle for about 40 years, said Mr. Kohn. It was originally known as the William Fleming Sons but it was taken over in 1921 by Mr. Kohn who has increased its capacity about five times by the addition of new and more improved equipment and methods of handling.

The company which was once known as the boiler works now manufactures chiefly structural steel for use in bridges, buildings, etc. Many orders have been shipped during the year. Lately a large order was shipped to Florida, others have been shipped to New Orleans, Texas, New York, Chicago and other points. Just recently an order was shipped to Brooklyn for the Delaware and Lackawanna railroad for the building of a terminal wharf in the Harlem river.

Although the company finds the most of their busines in out of town orders yet nearly half of their work is done for local concerns. Many individuals from the city and farmers from the surrounding country also come for small jobs. Mr. Kohn said that they were equipped now to do any kind of work from the largest beam to the small steel braces.

Prospects for this year are very encouraging said Mr. Kohn. Recently they have made a canvass of the teritory, having a sales engineer viewing and securing prospective work.

Two Courageous Americans Offer Peace In China

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—Fighting between the Northern and Southern forces around Nanchang, China, was stopped by two American religious workers sent out under fire by the Nanchang chamber of commerce to make peace terms it is revealed in delayed correspondence from Kiangsi Province made public today by the National Council of the Y. M. C. A.

The Americans are the Rev. Lloyd Craighill an Episcopal Clergyman and Arthur J. Allen, Y. M. C. A. secretary stationed at Nanchang.

A communication just received from Allen said that during the seige of Nanchang by the Southern forces he and Craighill went out under heavy fire and induced the commander Chiang Kai-hih to withdraw his troops from the city. This was done on condition that the northern troops, who occupied the city would cease their orgy of looting and burning which had been going on for a month. Allen and Craghill reached the southern forces after two false starts under fire from both sides and were out three days before a truce could be arranged.

After the fighting had been suspended Allen wrote that the streets were filed with the dead but that the danger of immediate starvation was past. "Life seems more hopeful" he wrote, "now that Sun Chuanfan has come in and stopped the looting and murder—the orgy that 20,000 northern bandit troops have been indulging in for more than a month."

Information received by the National Council through other cources in China reported that conditions in Kiangsi Province of which Nanchang is the capital, were "very bad." shops are closed and the public schools it was said had been taken over by the soldiers who looted the buildings and burned the books and fixtures.

Nanchang, 500 miles inland from Hongkong is a city of about 600-000 on the Kan-Kiang river. One hundred miles farther up Lake Poyang is Kiukiang which has been the center of much recent fighting. Nanchang is a walled city with extensive porcelain manufactures and is partly surrounded by sandy wastes.

Telephone Company Meeting At Princeton

Annual Meeting Is Held And Officers Of Company Are Elected

Priceton Telephone company report the year 1926 as a very prosperous year in the management of their compay, the chief feature during the past year being the establishment of a sinking fund of $1,000. The annual meting was held January 5 in the Princeton hall.

Resume Hearing Of Oil Refiners On Freight Rates

Western Pennsylvania Refiners Fight Increase In Freight Rates

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Jan. 7.—As John B. Keeler, special examiner for the interstate commerce commision today plunged into a third day of testimony in the hearing here of applications of mid-continental oil refiners for reduced freight rates for their products through the middle west and south. He had before him testimony of Western Pennsylvania refiners to the effect that this district, caught in a cross-fire of competition from mid-continental and eastern seaboard refiners were barely able to continue business on the present scale and that a change in rates would prove disastrous.

E. C. Gardner treasurer of the Seneca oil works, Warren, Pa., told Keeler and the 100 assembled oil men that only the fact that the present rates prevented mid-continental producers from making extended hauls allowed Pennsylvania producers a living margin in the industry. Gardner appeared at the instance of F. W. Woodward of Washington, D. C., general counsel for Western Pennsylvania producers. He was cross-examined by James F. Lawrence of Tulsa, Okla., attorney for the mid-continent refiners' traffic association, leader in the movement for revised rates.

W. M. Lorenz of the Otis Steel company, Cleveland joined with representatives of the mid-continental interest in pleading for rate revision as did G. W. Orewiler of the South Bend, Ind., Chamber of Commerce while Charles W. Snyder of the Pure Oil company of Warren, Pa., backed testimony of Gardner to the effect that any revision would be detrimental to Western Pennsylvania interests.

Sabbath School Committee Meets

Plans Are Considered For Efficency Conference Here On January 21

The executive committee of the Lawrence County Sabbath School Association held its regular monthly meeting at the parlor of the Y. W. C. A., with the president, Robert M. Strickler Jr.; the secretary, Mrs. William J. Marshall, and the following members present: Mrs. J. L. Stratton, E. L. Guy, Rev. H. L. Johnson, J. C. Miner, H. L. Marvin and Rev. G. C. Fohner.

The chief matter brought up at this meeting was the mid-year efficiency conference which is to be held at the Y. W. C. A. Friday, Jan. 21. A splendid program has been prepared for the afternoon session, the chief speaker being Rev. G. L. Wellburn, the Pennsylvania State Sabbath School Association director of religious education.

There will also be a fellowship dinner in the evening, in the dining room of the Y. W. C. A., in connection with the mid-year efficiency conference, and Rev. Wellburn will also address this gathering of Sabbath school workers.

Hanlon Points Out Motor Club Progress During Year Of 1926

According to B. N. Hanlon, secretary of the New Castle Motor club 'American motordom has just gone through its greatest year and gives promise of developing 1927 into a year which will surpass even the great work of 1926.

Hanlon sums up the work done in 1926 as follows: "Large sums have been saved the American motorist the total mounting up into staggering figures; many thousand of lives have been saved through safety campaigns; speed traps have beeneliminated; gyp motor organizations have been reduced in number; scenic highways are being beautified; movement is on for uniform motor laws and war is being waged on taxes."

It is the belief of the American Automobile association that organization was and is, the keynote of success. The A. A. A. has played a large part in keeping this organization up. A million members of 850 flourishing and functioning clubs are doing all in their power to make this country better for the motorist. If this order is successful in their work more dividends will go to the owner of motor vehicles.

The first victory of the past year came early when congress was prevailed upon by the three A's and other clubs to cut th eexcess taxes. The main idea was to work for a complete obliteration of the tax.

Another step forward was the work of the association towards the building of state main highways.

Again the A. A. A. was in the lead in the battle against compulsory liability insurane laws. Their argument was that this would cost the motorist or car owner more money and would in no way solve the problem of safety. Massachusetts has had this insurance and it is now in operation in that state. Other states are awaiting the outcome of the act in order to see how it will be in Massachusetts before they adopt it themselves. The clubs concerned in this are doing all in their power to delay the adoption of the plan.

Millions of dollars were saved the motorists during 1926 and what was saved went toward enriching the nation. As it was it was estimated that 36,000,000 people, one-third of the nation drove 9,000,000 cars over the highways and by-ways spending millions of dollars.

Conditions were improved for motorists in the reduction of the number of speed traps throughout the country. Throughout the year, the wayside court was under fire. Along with this blight to the car owner was the gyp motor organizations. Several of these were put out of existence, one in Pennsylvania was destroyed and two hundred of its members brought before the criminal court. Another such case was experienced in Ohio.

For the pleasure of the motorist the scenic beauty of the roads is being restored. All shacks, hot dog stands, bill boards and other mars to the beauty of the scenery are reduced in number, as well as destroying the appearance, such things as these add to the danger of the road.

The most important step of the year was the movement towards uniform vehicle laws. Many states under the leadership of the American Automobile association have adopted this plan and others are ready to try it.

Summing all of this work was done in the past year. Hanlon, as well as all other members of the three A's believes that it is the greatest year in the history of the automobile and gives promise of growing even greater during the coming one.

Would Force Buses To Get City Permit

NORRISTOWN, Jan. 7—Blanket protest against applications for bus line, taxi and similar privileges in Norristown was authorized by town council to compel applicants to first obtain permission from the borough before taking their pleas to the public service commission.

Council, by ordinance, made a gift to the state of a piece of ground in Elmwood Park, a Norristown pleasure resort, for the erection of an armory to house the Norristown unit of the state National Guard. The park, situated along the Stony creek, a tributary of the Schuylkill river, was a gift to the borough many years ago by Amos Barnes of Philadelphia.

ONE HEIR TO ESTATE IN OHIO, GONE SINCE 1892, DELARED DEAD

ST. CLAIRSVILLE, O., Jan. 7.—Edward Jones, last heard from in 1892, when he was employed at the Keystone bridge works in Pittsburgh, was declared legally dead in the Belmont county probate court today.

The action was taken on the pleas of his brother, James Jones, and a nephew, James Foulkes, both of Pelsall, England, who made the trip here to testify that no word of Edward Jones had been received by his relatives in England since 1893. Three nieces and nephews in England will receive a $17,000 estate left by Robert J. Jones of Bridgeport, another brother.

Heart Beat Halts, Doctor Starts It, Carpenter Lives

Brooklyn Man Has Chance After Part Of Broken Skull Is Removed

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—Having been revived after his heart had stopped beating David Newburgh 47, a carpenter of Howard street, Brooklyn, is in Flushing hospital in a critical condition. Newburgh in a building operation in Kissena boulevard yesterday afternoon was handing planks from the first floor to carpenters on the second when a plank slipped and Newburgh was knocked over.

An ambulance was called from the Flushing hospital and Dr. Rosenborough diagnosed a fractured skull. Newburgh was rushed to the hospital. Just as the ambulance arrived there Dr. Rosenborough noticed signs that Newburgh's heart had stopped. Newburgh was hurried into the operating room and artificial respiration finally started Newburgh's heart beating. Dr. Rosenborough and Dr. Joseph Thomas then removed about two square inches of the skull where it was pressing on the brain. Late last evening Newburg was still unconscious with small chances of recovery.

MAN IS RETURNED TO FACE CHARGES

FARREL, Pa., Jan. 7—Woody McCann, negro, of 714 Beechwood avenue, was returned from Cleveland, Ohio to Farrell to face a charge of felonious assault. His arrest followed a fight in the tin mill, when he is alleged to have struck Peter Tankewitz, a fellow workman, on the head, causing a fracture of the skull. McCann is said to have used a pair of heavy tongs.

200-Year-Old Mummy Of Amazon, Shrunk To Doll Size, Displayed

NEW YORK, Jan. 7—The 200-year old torso of an Indian woman warrior mummified and shrunken to 9 1-2 inches, was displayed to reporters today by Charles P. Erez of Quito, Ecuador, when he arrived on the Manchuria from San Francisco and the Canal Zone.

The woman, he said, was killed in battle in Ecuador 200 years ago. The conquerors soaked the torso in vinegar for six years, after which a low lost chemical process was used without breaking the skin. Then the mummy was "ironed" with hot stones until it reached the present size He intends to present it to the American Museum of Natural History.

JUDGE HINTS FRAUD IN BANKRUPT'S PLEA

MARTINSBURG, W. Va., Jan. 7.—In an opinion in the case of Charles B. Gosnell of Keyser and Morgantown, railroader, setting aside a bankruptcy adjudication awarded October 15, Federal Judge W. E. Baker made it plain that bankruptcy proceedings were designed to protect creditors as well as petitioners. Pointing out that Gosnell violated the statute by filing a second petition before the required six years had elapsed after a first adjudication, Judge Baker said:

"Without assets to be distributed among his creditors, the only purpose or object which could have actuated the bankrupt to file his second petition was to hinder and delay or defraud his creditors in pursuit of their legal remedies against him."

Jurist To Impart Oath To Fisher

Joint Legislative Committee Selects Chief Justice Von Moschzisker

HARRISBURG, Jan. 7.—The joint legislative inaugural committee today invited Chief Justice Von Moschzisker of the State Supreme Court to administer the oath of office to Governor-elect Fisher at the inaugural ceremony January 18. The Rev. J. C. Pinkerton, pastor of Mr. Fisher's church in Indiana, the United Presbyterian, has been invited to offer the opening prayer.

Civilian marching clubs, intending to participate in the inaugural parade, are being advised to communicate with Major General William G. Price, Jr., chief marshall at his home in Chester.

Capital Viewed As Art Center

Secretary Mellon Expounds Upon National Capital As Art Center

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 7. — The national capital is viewed by Secretary of the Treasury Mellon as "an art center responding to the desires of visitors from all over the world and satifying this demand."

In expressing his views on the future of Washington Mellon sees in the development of the city a national capital comparable in its artistic phases to Paris and other great centers in Europe.

"In the capital an example should be set for the country as a while in the manner of city planning," Mellon said.

"Our national monuments will attract seekers of the ideal in art. More and more it will become the tendency to establish the headquarters of societies of literature and art in Washington and to make bequests collections to the national capital as well as to other great cities of the country."

Mellon declared that there is a definite project to establish in Washington a national gallery of painting.

In seeking to establish here a center of literature and art Mellon cited the examples of the great capitals of Europe, in particular of Paris, although the French capital differs somewhat, besides being a national capital being the center of great business and industry.

"Under the Haussmann plans of development of Paris, during the period of some 30 years beginning about the middle of the 19th century, the sum of $180,000,000 was spent on the opening of thoroughfares and general civic embellishments," Mellon said.

"A similar sum was authorized for further development at the beginning of this century and in between those periods other great sums were spent, estimated in all as upwards of half a billion dollars.

"The great war delayed the later program, although the work involved has been and is being slowly carried out according to the plan. It is generally recognized that the really splendid nature of the city development of Paris is responsible in a large degree for the number of visitors and that this work as contributed very largely to making Paris the artistic center of the world."

In discussing the expenditure of many millions of dollars here for government buildings Mellon suggested that no expenditure should be undertaken without a comprehensive study of the entire situation. He said that the outstanding consideration is that public buildings, as finally located and constructed, should place Washington in the forefront of the architecturally beautiful cities of the world.

To Teach Children Respect For Wild Animals And Fish

(International News Service)
DENVER, Jan. 7.—The school children of Colorado will be educated to protect and increase the wild fauna of the West, according to a plan announced here by Roland G. Parvin, game and fish commissioner of Colorado.

The weatlh and attractiveness of the state as a vacation spot can be greatly augmented through protection of wild animals and fish, in the belief of Commissioner Parvin, who proposes a course of instruction in every public school in Colorado concerning the laws governing wild animals and fish, their habits and haunts, and facts about migratory birds and beasts.

Commissioner Parvin is also working out a program whereby the aid of national park supervisors and others may be enlisted in a campaign to enlarge the fish and game resources of Colorado.

"The killing of game in Colorado has ceased to be a sport," Commissioner Parvin declared. "It has degenerated into something like a slaughter to provide a boast for so-called sportsmen.

"Last October during the four-day open season on game, 3,000 buck deer were slain in the state, and reports to this department indicated that hundreds of doe were running without fawn."

Real Missing Link Is Expected Soon, Writes Dr. Voronoff

(International News Service)
LENINGRAD Jan. 7.—"The "missing link" which Dr. Serge Voronoff has been attempting to produce in his Paris laboratory by the artificial crossing of man and ape is expected to arrive soon, according to a letter just received here by the Academy of Sciences from Dr. Voronoff.

The famous biologist writes that the famale ape upon which the experiment has been made is doing nicely. Within a few weeks, declares Dr. Voronoff, the world may know definite proof of the phylogenetic relationship between man and the anthropoids.

Soon after the consummation of the experiment Dr. Voronoff will come to Leningrad which was his home before he established his laboratory in Paris.

The late Henry Abrahams, secretary of the Boston Central Labor Union, and a generally recognized leader in the labor movement, is said to have been the first to suggest the five-day week. For the cigar industry, with which he was directly connected, he proposed a slogan which read "Five-Five-Five" and meant five days a week, five hours a day and five dollars a day.

Auto Repair Man Expects To Inherit Five Million Dollars

(International News Service)
HAVERHILL, Mass., Jan. 7.—Robert Scott, an automobile repair man of this city, has visions of an earldom in Scotland and a proportionate share of a $5,000,000 estate, through descent from the Marquisate of Laurieston of Scotland as a result of formal claims recently presented in the Court of Chancery. Sharing the fortune with him will be Mrs. John Brown, whose husband is a foreman for the Haverhill Gas Company, and Mrs. Annie Forest Fairholm of Laurieston, Scotland, through whom they hope to establish the legality of their claim. Mrs. Brown was formerly Miss Elizabeth Fairholm.

"If the claim which my grandmother, Mrs. Fairholm, is now making through a Scottish barrister is settled properly I am entitled to the earldom," said Scott. The Laurieston wealth, he explained, is now held in chancery awaiting proof of claim.

Mrs. Fairholm, the nearest of kin to the famous Marquisate of Laurieston, now surviving, is 85 years of age and the widow of a Scottish miner.

In the 18th century, according to the claimants, the Law family, which held the Marquisate, suffered disaster in the Scottish rebellions. Many members of the family were slain, while the survivors become scattered.

One of the survivors of those early rebellions had a daughter, Catherine Law, and two sons in whom the title and estate rested. Mrs. Failholm, Scott declares, has frequently related the story of the kinship as told to her by her grandmother. The grandmother frequently told Mrs. Fairholm how Catherine Law would cry over the absence of her husband, who was kidnaped.

Says Norwegians First To Settle On American Land

(International News Service)
MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Jan 7.—The Norwegians were not only the first to discover America but were the first actually to settle on the continent.

This was the declaration of Donald B. MacMillan, famed Arctic explorer, who gave a lecture in Minneapolis on the "Perils of the Far North".

Convinced that Norsemen were the country's first white settlers, Captain MacMillan announced his intention of returning to northern Labrador next June to spend 15 months there in exploration and excavation work.

More than a thousand years ago the hardy Norsemen came to the stormy Labrador coast in their one-sailed vessels and they built their homes out of stone and lived for generations.

Evidence of this "lost civilization" was offered by Captain MacMillan in many photographs taken of crude ruins of old stone huts which Norsemen built to protect themselves from the rigors of the Labrador climate.

"The far north is no good for white men," the explorer declared. "After 18 years of exploration in that region I am convinced that it is a land only for Eskimos, and valuable only for scientific navigation," MacMillan added.

Mortals are mean, and nearly everybody smiles inwardly while passing a man with a puncture.

Cancer Research Work Conducted At Leeds, England

By F. A. WRAY.
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LEEDS, Eng., Jan. 7.—Having more money at its disposal than any other place in Europe, Leeds is to be the headquarters of cancer research in Yorkshire.

The appearance of the new laboratories will be unusual. On the top story a room has been flored with bitumen and outside a big double window has been built with a veranda enclosed in stout wire netting. Presently there will be established there a little colony of fowls destined to play their part in the effort to "slay the dragon cancer" to quote the slogan of the British Empire cancer campaign.

It will not be a mixed collection of fowls either but a select company of Plymoth Rocks, this being the bred that Dr. Gye has found most suitable for experiments.

Sweethearts Wed After 35 Years

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Jan. 7. — What is perhaps a record for steady "company-keeping finally ending in marriage belongs to Miss Sallie Mason and Hugh H. Cawood, a relative and intimate friend of Congressman J. Will Taylor, who surprised their friends by getting married recently.

Mr. Cawood is in the sixties and his wife in the advanced fifties, and according to relatives they had been "going together" about thirty-five years. Neither had previously been married.

Their marriage was solomnized at Trinity Methodist Church at high noon. The Rev. Jesse P. Bogue, pastor of the church in which Miss Mason has for years been an active worker officiated. Only a few close friends and relatives were present.

Mr. Cawood is a retired business man, having for a number of years conducted a store and meat market on North Broadway.

Mr. and Mrs. Cawood left for a short wedding trip and will return to Knoxville to make their home.

HANDY SERVICE STORES

Grocery Delivery Versus Cash and Carry

Many housewives feel that they are paying a large sum to have their groceries delivered in their kitchen. A properly conducted business must add to the cost of merchandise the cost of delivery. Statistics show that the cost of delivery in a properly conducted HANDY SERVICE STORE is 3% of the sales.

Assume that your grocery bill averages $40.00 per month. Your cost per month would be $1.20. You are entitled to one delivery each day or twenty five deliveries each month. Your cost per day is less than 5c per day. This cost is less than your street care fare one way and is less than you can even start your motor if you use a machine.

The time and energy of a housekeeper is worth far more than the time and energy of a delivery boy. Your nerves are the secret to good health. Why destroy your nerve energy by cash and carry shopping when your HANDY SERVICE STORE will place your groceries in your kitchen for less than 5c per day?

Poor Kansas Legislators Facing Starvation On Pay Of $3 A Day

By JERRY QUISENBERRY.
International News Service Staff Correspondent

TOPEKA, Kan. Jan. 7. — A figurative wolf will stalk this winter before the door of the Kansas state capitol.

That is the dire prediction being mumbled into the ear of the Kansas body politic these days following its refusal in the last election to raise the wages of its legislators from $3 to $8 a day. As the coming session of the legislature draws near and as its members start to drawing up individual budgets that are economic masterpieces there is a sentiment that the Kansas farmer is not the only one in the Sunflower state who needs relief.

For nearly 70 years the Kansas legislators had been making Kansas laws for $3 a day. That was the salary fixed by them by the framers of the old Wyandotte constitution—$3 and mileage.

The first legislatures that assembled under the Wyandotte constitution set examples of thrift which were impeccable.

Some Saved Money.

Some of their members were known to have saved as much as $100 out of their salaries to carry home with them at he close of each legislative session. These marvels of economy stood henceforth as paragons. But 70 years can bring quite an appreciable advance in the price of beefsteak and potatoes and in recent years Kansas's legislators have estimated that the close of each regular session has found them on the wrong side of the ledger to the extent of $500 each.

They felt their position justified a constitutional amendment increasing their salaries from $3 to $8 a day. Only one other state, Oregon pays its legislators $3 per day. The majority of states average about $10. Several states pay a salary such as Illinois whose lawmakers draw $3,500 a session with no limits on the time spent.

Amendment Defeated.

Two years ago the Kansas legislators thought they had evolved a successful plan for making their financial burden lighter. They voted themselves $150 each for postage. Probably none of them used as much as $10 worth of stamps in the entire session.

The matter was brought to the attention of Attorney General Chas. B. Griffith. Griffith had experienced considerable friction with the lawmaking body. Very shortly afterward the legislators found the destiny of their new idea in the hands of the supreme court. The court held that they could not by subterfuge increase their pay above its constitutional provision. That put an end to the "postage" income.

So the constitutional amendment submitted recently—the third similar measure in the space of thirty years—represented almost a "last hope" for the long sought "raise." The voters defeated it overwhelmingly.

London Seeks New Remedy In Traffic Problem

(International News Service)

LONDON, Jan. 7. — Alarmed by the 710 deaths in the traffic jammed streets of London during the first nine months of this year, the various authorities of the capital are to meet in conference to endeavor to find a remedy.

Various suggestions have been made with an end to remedying the high death rate, but the majority of them have been thrust aside as useless.

Artificial Legs Show Increase

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7. — Production of artificial legs in 1925 was valued at $2,787,000, an increase of 13 per cent over the last biennial census in 1923, the commerce department announced.

Of the 123 establishments engaged in this industry nearly half were located in Pennsylvania, New York, California, Ohio and Illinois.

Officials said that a remarkable progress has been made in the manufacture of efficient artificial legs.

BREAT OPEN SPACES BROUGHT TO SLUMS

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Jan. 7.—An ingenious plan by which nature's "great open spaces" were brought to Manhattan tenement children, who have never seen the country, was described today by Anna M. Clark of the New York Training School of Teachers, before the American Nature Study Society.

Unable to give the "city kids" an idea of rural nature by book pictures and photographs, the School Nature League, she said, has placed in about 30 school individual rooms laid out a sylvan bower—with a miniature sea beach, moss garden and trees.

"Masses of New York children", she said, "have never seen green fields, gardens, wild flowers, brooks, hills and the thousand other things which are the everyday experience of the country child."

Special Children's Matinee Saturday To See Rin Tin Tin

Great crowds saw Rin Tin Tin in "While London Sleeps" at the Regent Theatre last night. It was pronounced by all the premier of all pictures in which Rin-Tin-Tin figtired as the star. "While London Sleeps" will show again tonight and tomorrow all day.

Saturday afternoon from 1 to 5 a special matinee will be held for children with an admission of 10 cents. Rin-Tin-Tin is a favorite with all the children and many will attend the matinee.

With each admission bought a ticket will be given which may win the pedigreed German Police pup to be given away free Monday evening, January 10 at 8 o'clock. It is a fine little pup and worth considerable money. Be sure to be on hand on Monday. Get tickets by attending Rin-Tin-Tin in "While London Sleeps".

Selected to Hear Browning's Suit

Justice Albert H. F. Seeger of Newburgh, N. Y., will hear the testimony in the suit of Edward W. Browning for separation from his young wife, "Peaches" Heenan Browning, when the hearing opens Jan. 24, at Carmel, N. Y. Justice Joseph Morschauser of Poughkeepsie, who was to have heard the suit, will preside elsewhere.

Houdini Claimed Rural Audiences Hardest To Fool

NEW YORK, Jan. 7. — Rural folk are much harder to fool than metropolitan audiences, the late Harry Houdini maintained in what is claimed to be the last interview ever granted by him, published today in the January number of "Farm and Fireside."

"If you can get away with a trick before a country audience you can get away with it anywhere," Houdini asserted.

The handcuff and escape king had plenty of opportunity to observe the reaction of rural people to his tricks, for it was among them that he first practiced the magician's art. He related several experiences he had with members of the audience.

Once in Iowa, he said, a farmer challenged him to make his escape from his new thief-proof barn within an hour. Although he had broken out of numerous jails Houdini was baffled by the locked barn and it was just before the allotted time expired that the magician leaned against the door and it opened. The farmer afterwards informed him that he had left that section of the barn unlocked out of pity for Houdini.

"There is nothing supernatural in what I do, although sophisticated observers say there is," Houdini stated in the interview. "No spirits help me. No magic trick has ever been done that cannot be explained by the laws of nature. In cities they fall for the claims of occultists and sometimes believe implicitly in spiritualistic hokum. In country parts, where men themselves perform the magic of making the soil harvest, I've found them less gullible. They know it's just a trick."

French Motor Bus To Carry Bigger Load Is Planned

(International News Service)

PARIS, Jan. 7.—There will be room for everybody and everything on the new style of motor buses which will soon be put into circulation on the boulevards.

Much more space will be given over to the second-class which is now more necessary than ever before. Dogs, cats and other small animals, if carried in a basket, will also be allowed to board the buses upon payment of a fare to be decided upon.

Perpetual Motion Watch Is Invented

International News Service

MADRID, Jan. 7. — A watch which is claimed will go forever has been made by Calixto Orbero, a young watchmaker of Lerida, Catalonia.

The watch shows the seconds, minutes, hours, days, weeks, months and years. It gives the hour by night or day, the day of the week, the day of the month, leap years, the signs of the zodiac, the number of weeks remaining in the year, the time of sunrise and sunset, the phases of the moon and a number of other things.

SOUTH AFRICAN CHURCHES IN FIGHT ON CHARLESTON

(International News Service)

CAPE TOWN, Jan. 7. — The Rand churches have launched a big offensive against the Charleston.

Leaders of the various denominations condemn the dance, particularly on the grounds of its reactionary effects on the natives.

It is declared that the result of seeing white people dance the Charleston will shake the native's faith in missionaries and Christianity.

FOOT-AND-MOUTH DISEASE IS GONE FROM ALL PARTS OF UNITED STATES

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7. — The United States again is entirely free from foot-and-mouth disease which appeared in 1924 and recurred in 1925.

This was officially announced by J. R. Mohler, chief of the Bureau of Animal Industry, Department of Agriculture, in his annual report made public today. Though the outbreaks were confined within portions of two states—California and Texas—the presence of the disease in the country caused great anxiety and necessitated quarantine restrictions, the last of which were withdrawn June 10, 1926.

"The final suppression of the disease, especially in the rough, mountain ranges of California where wild deer as well as cattle were infected, removed one of the most serious dangers that have ever threatened our livestock industry," Mohler's report said.

He pointed out that foot-and-mouth disease appeared in Mexico near the end of the fiscal year, thereby causing renewed vigilance but no immediate danger.

"Public sentiment in the United States fortunately recognizes the necessity for the aggressive measures used during the outbreaks of 1924 and 1925, including slaughter and burial or burning of infected carcasses," Mohler said, "With continued cooperation among livestock owners, county, state and federal officials, there is reason to be hopeful that the United States will maintain its freedom from this foreign plague."

The report called attention to a noteworthy betterment of conditions for the production of domestic animals during the past year. There was excellent progress in the eradication and control of important animal diseases. Research and experimentation yielded many important discoveries.

"The very active nation-wide campaign to eradicate tuberculosis from livestock continued with gratifying results," the report said. "During the year a large increase in country-wide testing of cattle occurred. The large area virtually freed from bovine tuberculosis is convincing evidence that the task of eradicating the disease from the entire country is possible of accomplishment."

Important Research.

Important research was undertaken during the year in connection with the nation-wide study of the factors which influence the quality and palatability of meat. This project was organized on a co-operative basis, with a number of state agricultural experiment stations, the Bureau of Animal Industry, and other agencies participating. The widespread interest in the project is shown by the fact that 19 states took part in the year's work.

Cattle and beef were given most attention, at the beginning of this study. It was soon apparent that the developments of accurate measurements for determining and expressing the quality in meat, other than by personal judgment, was a prime necessity, in this investigation, in order that results obtained at different stations could be compared.

Pa Newc Is Pouring About 31,200 Gallons Of Alcohol Into Radiators

About six cars averaging 100 barrels each or a total of 31,200 gallons of denatured alcohol will be used here this season by autoists according to one of the leading distributors of gasoline and oil in this district.

It is estimated that about 75 or 80 per cent of owners of machines use either alcohol or some non freezing compound in their radiators during the winter season. Those who do not use it generally are they who cannot place it in their radiator because of leaks or bad condition of the radiators. If alcohol were used it would only be a loss, so they will drain the car at night and refill it in the morning. But the majority of car owners prefer to use alcohol or some compound so that they can park their car for any period of time without danger of freezing and damage to the radiator.

A great number of owners are now using some compound of glycerine instead of alcohol alone, while others still hold that alcohol is the best prevention of freezing. All have their disadvantages as one must take the same caution in cold weather with his radiator as he does with his oil.

A certain restriction was placed on jobbers who handled denatured alcohol this last year. It was necessary to secure a permit which cost $100 and also to put up a $10,000 bond. This was to prevent certain irresponsible parties from securing it and reclaiming it in large quantities. Later on in the season these restrictions were limited so that a maximum of 40 barrels a month could be obtained without a permit and bond.

First Five Years Best Time To Develop Mind

NEW HAVEN, Jan. 7.—The first five years of a child's life go farther toward determining the mental condition of the adult than any equal length of time between the ages of five and twenty-four. This is the assertion of Prof. Arnold Gessell, director of the Psycho-Clinic at Yale, where a new child movement has been instituted.

Dr. Gessell, professor of Child Hygiene at Yale, and author of books on child life, today told of experimental work in his clinic. He showed with the help of moving pictures the reactions of children at ten different age levels to various tests the reaction of a child to a red block for his test.

"At the age of one month," he said, "the child does not heed the block. At six months he takes hold of it. At nine months he is able to give attention sufficiently long to take hold of two blocks. At twelve months, with two blocks in his hands, he will endeavor to take hold of a third with his teeth. At eighteen he is able to erect a column of several blocks. At two years he can take three blocks and make a bridge. At three, four and five years of age he is able to do tasks requiring greater skill and concentration with the blocks.

"By taking a number of children in this way and discovering what most children are able to do at a given age, it is possible to lay down rules as to what a normal child's reaction is," Dr. Gessell said. "And when we have these rules, we are able by testing children in the light of them to discover whether or not a child is normal, above normal, or sub-normal.

BURNS TO DEATH AS HOME IS DESTROYED

PHILIPPI, W. Va., Jan. 7.—Miss Della Smith, 40 years old, was burned to death when fire destroyed her home here yesterday. Her charred body was found in the ruins. The cause of the fire was unknown.

Miss Smith lived with her sister, Mrs. Arthur Wells, who was outside when the blaze started. She sounded the alarm, but firemen arrived too late to save the woman, trapped in an upstairs room.

BEWARE THE COUGH OR COLD THAT HANGS ON

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action: it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. Ad

Auto Drivers Licenses Expire February 28

New Application Cards Are Sent To Thousands Of Drivers In State

(Special To The News)

HARRISBURG, Jan. 7.—The Department of Highways today announced that 1,700,000 application forms for renewal of operators' license have just been mailed to persons who held 1926 operators' licenses.

All drivers' licenses expire at midnight February 28, W. C. Connell, engineering executive and acting secretary of highways, said today. Motor vehicles operators are urged to mail back the filled out form and the license fee at once. It is important that operators send checks, money orders or drafts, and not cash.

Licensed operators for the year 1926 who have changed their address since obtaining a 1926 operator's license should inform the Bureau of Motor Vehicles of the change in their address, since the 1927 applications probably will not be forwarded from the old address. In writing to the Bureau concerning a change of address, use form 1122, obtainable at all offices of the Department of Highways, or give the name, old and new address and the record number, which is shown on the left of every 1926 operator's license, immediately above the name and address of the driver.

A licensed operator who has not changed his address and does not receive the renewal form by January 8 should write to the Bureau of Motor Vehicles before January 15.

Anyone who held a 1925 operator's license and who has not yet applied for operator's license for 1926, and who will desire operators' license for 1927, should make application for the 1926 operator's license at once; otherwise, he will be unable to obtain operator's license for 1927 without obtaining certificate of learner's permit and successfully undergoing examination.

Erie To Pick New Senator January 18

Special Election Called To Fill Vacancy Caused By Death Of Marvin E. Griswold

ERIE, Jan. 7.—A special election to fill the vacancy in the state senate caused by the death of Marvin E. Griswold is called for Tuesday, January 18.

The Republican county committee will meet next week to select a nominee, and it is believed the Democrats will meet at the same time to pick their candidate.

S. Y. Rossiter, Republican county chairman, announced he would be a candidate for the Republican nomination, and friends of Miles B. Kitts, former mayor, long a Liebel Democrat, said he also would be a candidate for the Republican nomination.

The coming election was seen as a test of strength between Rossiter, who directed the Vare campaign in Erie county, and Charles H. English, former Democratic leader here, recently named as a member of the state executive committee of the Republican party.

Municipal and county elections next fall have brought about the decision to fight out now the leadership of both parties.

Dry Executive Proves Ability In Battles With Alert Foe

By CHARLES P. STEWART,
Exclusive Central Press Dispatch To New Castle News

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—Wayne B. Wheeler is a wonderful man, whatever else anybody may say about him.

The number of fatal mistakes he could make, if he weren't everlastingly on the alert, is something appalling for a dry to think about. Every sentence he utters goes through the acid test for the least trace of anything that might be used to prohibition's disadvantage. It always turns out to be pure prohibition.

Of course Wheeler makes plenty of remarks that wets disagree with. He enrages them with his advocacy of poisoned liquor. They call him a fanatic. They accuse him of hypocrisy. But they never catch him in an inconsistency.

* * *

And Wayne B. talks a great deal.

He's a strong believer in publicity. Busy as he is, he's about the most accessible individual in Washington. Nobody who wants an answer to any question connected with the wet-and-dry issue ever is turned away from his office unsatisfied. He doesn't even object to getting up in the middle of the night to answer queries over the telephone.

He's available 24 hours a day and invariably affable and smiling.

* * *

Wheeler doesn't dodge and shuffle, either.

He interprets things to suit himself, but they're definite, clean-cut interpretations.

If, for example, the wires bring news of a wet election result somewhere, Wayne B.'s on hand to explain why it should be interpreted as a dry result. He doesn't tell you he'd rather not discuss the subject or try to wriggle out of doing so.

I never heard of a case where a direct, sensible question relating to prohibition was put to Wheeler without getting a plain answer. Its accuracy may be disputed but there never is any uncertainty as to its meaning.

Wheeler shows no enthusiasm over the prohibition unit's effort to evolve a denaturant which will make alcohol too disgusting to drink without resulting fatally if, despite its shocking taste and smell, it nevertheless is drunk.

He indorses a denaturant which will mix so thoroughly with the alcohol as to be impossible for bootleggers to "cook" out again, but he's very frankly for poison. If people insist on committing suicide, he expresses the opinion that they ought to be at liberty to do so.

A less outspoken dry might have hemmed and hawed over this poison proposition but Wheeler, as usual, spoke straight from the shoulder.

* * *

Wayne B. isn't an austere individual in external appearance.

He's a wisp of a person, with a brisk manner, a round face, a pair of very large spectacles and, almost always, an extremely wide grin, strongly suggestive of the one depicted in the nursery books on the visage of the pussy-cat which has just devoured the canary.

The look of holiday good cheer never for an instant vanished from his features even as he was in the act of prescribing poison for Volstead law violators.

One of the most influential men in Washington, Wheeler is quite without airs. Nevertheless there's nothing bashful about him. When he calls at the white house he expects to get in, and he does, without any waiting. It was just after a recent visit which he paid there that he pooh-poohed the idea of the non-poisonous liquor denaturant the prohibition unit is looking for.

Elasticity In Prison Sentences Urged As Crime Wave Weapon

(International News Service)

BOSTON, Jan. 7.—While jurists and the general public are demanding lengthier jail sentences and more drastic laws to combat the crime wave which has swept the country in recent years, District Attorney Thomas C. O'Brien of Suffolk county urges greater elasticity in sentences and greater study of youth.

Retiring from office after two terms in a county which includes the city of Boston with its undefeatable proportion of crime, Dist. Atty. O'Brien is considered an authority on matters pertaining to criminals and the law dealing with them.

The definite jail sentences is staunchly opposed by Dist. Atty. O'Brien. Offenders should be encouraged to work out their own cures and salvation is another belief to which he adheres. The Suffolk county prosecutor has much sympathy for the man who, after years of honest work falls before temptation.

The First Crime.

"A man may commit the first lawless act of his life which at first flush appalls the public, but he may be far from the hardened criminal, even if a murderer on impulse," says Dist. Atty. O'Brien. "The man who after a long and respectable life suddenly succumbs to temptation and steals a large sum of money often suffers more from the publicity than he does from the sentence imposed.

"Such types deserve special observation and consideration in the mater of penalty. To assist these men is the paramount duty of society."

The indeterminate prison term is supported by Dist. Atty. O'Brien. This term is found on the statute books of many states, he says, but in most cases it isn't as elastic as it should be.

State prison terms as a rule do not have sufficient range between the minimum and maximum to permit the authorities to determine when a cure has been effected. A reduction in the minimum and an increase in the maximum number of years defined by law for punishment is recommended by Dist. Atty. O'Brien. Thus would a sentence of from five to seven years be expanded in both ways so that it might be passed as three to nine years.

For Young Offenders.

He bases his belief on the theory that no judge has the vision to forecast just when a change or reform will take place in a prisoner as no two are alike. He says that "a judge cannot predict a moral cure any more than a doctor can tell you how long a patient will have to stay in bed."

Offenders under 21 years of age should not be sent to state prison. Upholding this belief, the district attorney has never in his time in office asked a court to so sentence a youth under that age. While prosecuting he handled over 1,000 cases of youths himself and in but six cases did he move for sentence. In those cases he felt that the offenders should be subjected to a term for certain corrective purposes.

Worthy clubs for young men sponsored by officials and business men who are recognized as leaders in their communities is the greatest remedy for irresponsible youth according to Dist. Atty. O'Brien.

Local Firm Gets Heating Contract

The William Clark Company of New Castle, was awarded the heating contract for the new school building to be built in Butler township, Butler county, at a meeting of the school board Wednesday night. Bid of the local firm was $9,055 and was the lowest of three. The general contract for construction of the new building was let to C. C. Miller of Euclid, Butler county at his bid of $56,450.

Message Of Power By Rev. Mel Morris

Evangelist Assists In Discourse That Hell Is Not Mythical Or Allegorical

"A Message from Hell" was the subject of Evangelist "Mel" Morris' sermon last night at the First Baptist church. His discourse was an exposition of the familiar 16th chapter of Luke, which depicts the condition of the rich man and Lazarus before and after death. Mr. Morris said in part:

"This story has been labeled by the higher critic and the no-hellite as being mythical and allegorical while a number of cultured clergymen class it among the parables. There is not the slightest degree of information in the Bible that would warrant the most learned scholar placing this story among the parables of the Lord. Christ prefaced every parable by calling it one, but He did not do so here. Christ was familiar with this incident, it was an actual occurence, and He related it, not as a parable, but as an historical and established fact."

Mr. Morris said that the fact that the majority of people may not believe in a hell does not alter the fact of hell. "God's word cannot be broken," said the speaker," and God's word through the testimony of Jesus Christ, the Holy Spirit, and the rich man, clearly declares that there is a hell."

A very graphic picture was drawn by the preacher of the contracts between the earthly and after-life of the rich man and Lazarus. One was shown to be a beggar on earth, the other was shown to be a beggar in the world beyond. Said Mr. Morris :"Here is a man in hell, for Jesus says so."

It was also pointed out by the evangelist that the three persons mentioned in the story were all conscious and possessed of their mental faculties. "This story is fatal to the unscriptural doctrine of soul sleeping," he said. "Can one entertain respect for Jesus Christ," asked the speaker, "and yet doubt in the face of this recital that such punishment is consciously endured? Is He capable of such awful utterances—'hell, torment, anguish and flame', well knowing that there is neither reality nor truth behind them? Christ gives us a picture of a soul in hell and offers us a way of escape, that we might not meet the fate of the rich man."

The eternity of memory was emphasized by the speaker. He said: "Remember is the most soul-piercing word that can be spoken to us in the future. Memory is one of the most horrifying facts connected with the subject of hell.

"Those false doctrines that teach a 'second chance' for man in the hereafter", asserted Mr. Morris, "find poor comfort in this chapter.

The evangelist closed by urging every sinner to accept Jesus Christ as his personal Savior and enjoy the assurance that by God's atoning grace he will not need to fear hell. "Christ died," he said, "to save us from hell."

The hour of the week-night services has been changed to 7:45. It was announced that tonight Mr. Morris would speak on "Jonah and the Whale". Other subjects are as follows: Lord's Day, 11 a. m., "The Powerful Blood"; three p. m., "The Suicide of America Through Evolution, Modernism and Atheism"; 7:30 p. m., "The Story of My Life".

Following the song service a special unmber will be given by the choir, which has done exceptionally good work throughout the campaign. A solo, "That Wonderful Name," was sung in a very acceptable manner by Mrs. George M. Landis.

Now she lies in Michael Reese hospital, Chicago, following an operation, and her condition is serious. Photos show Miss Bauer in swimming garb and in her bed in the Chicago hospital.

Thugs Are Given Sound Trouncing

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 7. — Infuriated when two bandits shot Muzzio Marcio, 35, a pool room proprietor during an attempted holdup of his place of business, customers seized pool cue sticks and beat the pair so badly that police called to the scene were forced to rush the bandits to a hospital for treatment, authorities reported today.

Marcio's wound were reported by hospital attaches as serious. He was shot twice when he attempted to argue with the men, who identified themselves to police as George Gilhooley, 25, and James Gallagher, 22, both of Pittsburgh.

Excitement Attends Closing Session Of Citizens' Committee

Committee Refuses To Seat Negro Bishop Churchman From Kentucky

Coolidge Letter High Spot In Closing Session Of One Thousand

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—A furore of excitement attended the closing banquet here of the citizens' committee of one thousand, organized to compel enforcement of the eighteenth amendment.

The excitement was caused by the committee's refusing to seat bishop Clement, a negro churchman of Louisville, Ky., and it afforded captiol wets much fun today as they pointedly asked their dry brethren whether the eighteenth amendment "was more sacred than the fourteenth".

Clement is chairman of the committee on race relations of the federal council of churches. Originally he had been urged to attend the banquet and two tickets had been forwarded him with the suggestion he bring a guest. It was indicated by officials of the committee of one thousand that the barrier was set against him because of objections from the hotel management, but hotel officials stated they had had no advance information that he was even to be present.

The high light of the banquet was a letter from President Coolidge who declared that if the law "fails to be enforced, government itself fails."

"If it fails to be observed," he wrote, "The very foundations on which self-government rests is weakened and destroyed".

Senator Sheppard (D) of Texas, "Father of the dry law," and Senator Borah (R) of Idaho, made the keynote speeches.

Borah attacked "The two great evils—corruption and lawlessness," assailing indirectly the Smith and Vare election cases. He dared the wets to enter a candidate in the next presidential campaign.

Sheppard led his argument with an attack on those who purchase liquor, holding them to be guiltier than the bootlegger who sells.

Jury Still Out In Suit Against Loeb-Leopold

Disagreement Seen As Jurors Argue Case Of Multiliation

(International News Service)

JOLIET, Ill., Jan. 7.—Disagreement in the civil action through which Charles Ream, Chicago taxicab driver, hopes to collect $100,000 apiece from Nathan F. Leopold Jr., and Richard Loeb, for criminal mutilation, threatened today when the jury still argued the case shortly before court convened.

The jury began its deliberations shortly after 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

The young "thrill slayers", now serving life sentences for the murder of little Bobby Franks, were identified by Ream as his assailants.

Leopold and Loeb, denying they knew anything about the mutilation, stuck to alibi stories that they attended a party at the Leopold home which lasted until early in the morning, on the witness stand.

Neither Leopold nor Loeb will be present when the decision is announced, according to officials of the penitentiary. Both were taken to their quarters when the case went to the jury. Unless the case is retried, they have had their last taste of freedom.

There are two reasons to keep the mouth shut: (1) keep out germs, and (2) keep in words.

Recollections Of Red School House By W. S. Reynolds

County Superintendent of Schools, John C. Syling, this morning received the following letter from Attorney Walter S. Reynolds:

Dear professor: I read with much interest in last nights News the reminiscence concerning the Eastbrook school by my old friend Marion McNickle. His account of the little red brick school house carried me back many years.

I was most interested in the product and influence of that plant. I felt that you, in charge of the public schools, might be interested in the picture.

In a single term there were gathered in that little building, now obsolete, and under the charge of Professor Widel, the raw material from which in a few years sprang the splendid mothers of many of the present students in the new high school, also three high school teachers, four ministers of the gospel, two civil engineers, one superintendent of department of U. S. Steel, one superintendent of an orphans' school, one physician, one member of legislature, three lawyers, I believe one deputy sheriff, and several merchants. I cannot recall the number of teachers. As far as I can recall, every pupil made good.

The influence and power in this community of these men and women stands as a memorial to the one who inspired in the hearts and minds of these young common school pupils a longing and a desire to go on to something higher.

I challenge any school, urban or rural to show an equal record of achievement.

Yours truly,
Walter S. Reynolds.

Big Rush Of Dog Owners Expected As Time Limit Expires

Only 1750 dog owners, out of a possible 6300 have secured licenses for their dogs, according to County Treasurer David Nessle. The latter figure was the number issued last year. Time limit for securing the licenses expires on January 15th. After that date the owner of an unlicensed dog is liable to be fined. Indications are that there is liable to be a big rush toward the last, and owners who wait are likely to have to stand in line. The dog license fee is $1.10 for a male and $2.10 for a female.

Women Adopt Trousers For Sports Wear

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—Trousers for women engaged in outdoor sports probably will become general in 1927, according to a forecast by Baron De Meyer, noted international fashion authority, in a cabled dispatch from St. Moritz, Switzerland, to Harpers Bazar today.

"Trousers are now considered as suitable for the old fashioned mother as for the sophisticated modern daughter," the Baron's dispatch says. "Fashions in sport clothes now derive from the masculine attitude. Both sexes present an identical appearance in winter sports here, such as skiing and skating.

"Most of the smartest women up here (at St. Moritz) wear dark suits, trousers and short coats. No top coats are worn. Beneath the short coats, sweaters are worn. On fine days heavy silk scarfs or men's neckties are worn in racing stripes or club colors."

More Donations To Henry Home

Margaret L. Henry of the Henry Home for Children regrets that the following donations were overlooked in the list that was printed the other day, and hopes that in the rush of looking after a family of 45 children at Christmas time that no other friends who made donations were missed. Although it may be a little late, Miss Henry says that she wishes all the friends of the Home a Happy and Prosperous New Year.

Those who made donations were:

South Side Merchants who donated 3 crates of apples, 3 pails of candy in sacks and 2 bushel baskets of other candy.

Mrs. David S. Pyle of Lincoln avenue who donated a bushel of apples and one-half bushel of oranges.

Stamp Vending Machines Failed To Work Right

Purchaser Lost Money Operating Them And Wants Back Money Paid For Them

W. L. Harris of Ellwood City, has filed a suit against the Sanitary Postage Association of America, with offices at New York, in which he asks for the return of $500, with interest, which he claims was paid the association for stamp vending machines which failed to work.

In his statement of claim he alleges that in July, 1925, he purchased ten postage stamp vending machines for $500. These machines were supposed to sell two 2-cent stamps for a nickle. Harris says that when he bought the machines the agent represented to him that they could not be "worked" and would vend stamps systematically.

Harris says that after installing the machines in stores at Ellwood City, he found that they could be "worked," and that they could be made to give several more stamps for a nickle, than the two which they were supposed to give. As a result they were operated at a loss. They were sent back for repairs, but acted the same upon their return.

Harris claims that he was victimized and wants the return of his money with interest.

Boy Scout News

TROOP 21

Scoutmaster John R. Dunfee was in charge of the meeting of the St. Paul's Lutheran church troop held Wednesday evening, January 5. Seventeen scouts were present. Four visitors, a member of the troop committee and Assistant Scoutmaster Bothwell were present also.

Business was first taken up and the remainder of the evening spent socially.

TROOP 1

Rotary troop 1 met last night with an attendance of 16 boys. Scoutmaster Cotton and Assistant scoutmaster Ben Wise were in charge of the meeting.

After the regular meeting had taken place, instructions were given the boys in signaling and first aid.

SCOUTS TO AID

Friday evening, January 7, four boy scouts, as selected by the scoutmaster of Rotary troop 1, will report at Carlisle street on the north side at 7 o'clock. These boys will receive their orders from Mayor Dunlap after school in his office. Saturday, January 8, the coasting at Carlisle street will be under the direction of Ernest Schultz of the Presbyterian church troop 17. On Monday and Tuesday evenings it will be under the Highland troop 18, Ralph Davis in charge. On Wednesday the Rotary troop 1 will be in charge again, under Mr. Cotton, and Thursday will be in charge of the colored troop, Mr. Wilkes in charge. The schedule will then be repeated if the weather permits coasting.

Smithfield street on the west side will be guarded by the Lions troop 13, Peter Grittie, scoutmaster. Mr. Grittie will assign the boys for each evening, starting tonight.

Lutton street will be in charge of Rev. James Charbonnier of the Italian M. E. church and Scoutmaster Hook of the Third U. P. church. These men will place the necessary boys on this important thoroughfare, taking their turns with this evening as the start and continuing for a week.

Crawford avenue will be taken care of by the First Christian church troop 15, under Scoutmaster Sid Smith and troop 10 of the Epworth church, Scoutmaster Guy Raney in charge. The First Christian church troop will be in charge this evening and tomorrow evening. Croton troop will have charge on Monday and Tuesday evenings and troop 10 Wednesday and Thursday evenings.

The coasting places of Mahoningtown will be looked after by the Kiwanis troop 4, under Scoutmaster Milford.

All scouts who are to guard these places will meet with the mayor in his office for instructions as to how to handle this traffic condition.

TROOP 5

Troop 5 met Wednesday evening at the Croton school with Scoutmaster Ralph Davis in charge. Twenty-four scouts, three officials and 12 visitors were in attendance. The assistant scoutmasters, George Ward and Tony Colaluca, assisted the scoutmaster. The chairman of the troop committee was present and business for the new year was discussed and a review of activities of 1926 given. The following points were remembered: Planted 3,500 trees, built 28 bird houses, won second place in the scout camporee, won first place in the spring round-up, held high standing at the 1926 scout camp, won first and second places at the annual Thanksgiving marathon race, tied for second place in the fall roundup. Other items that were discussed were one meeting each month to give tests, court of honor, registration and coasting accidents.

At the next meeting the marathon cup and medals will be presented to the troop and all scouts are to be present.

Croton troop will play the Hi-Y basketball team in the boys' league of the Y. M. C. A. Saturday at 12 o'clock.

MENU HINT

Have you fallen into a rut in your menus and serve the same things over and over? No matter how well cooked and appetizing they are one loses one's appetite for the same old thing on the menu. Try a few new recipes and you will find the labor of cooking the meals lightened by a new interest.

Roast Pork	Vegetable Puree
Apple Delight	Cranberry Garnish
Spinach	Rolls	Butter
Grapefruit Salad		Wafers
Coffee		Salted Nuts

Mosaic Sandwiches—These are very simple sandwiches, but they look pretty and taste delicious. Cut three slices of white and graham bread one-half inch in thickness. Spread a slice of white bread with creamed butter and put a slice of graham bread on it. Spread this with butter and place on it a slice of white bread. Repeat this process beginning with a slice of graham. Put both piles in a cool place under a light weight. When butter has become firm trim each pile evenly and cut in three one-half inch slices. Spread these with butter and put together in such a way that a white block will alternate with a graham. Place again in a cool place under a weight and when butter has become perfectly hard cut in thin pieces for serving.

Vegetable Puree—One cup diced carrots, one-half cup minced onions, eight Irish potatoes, two tablespoons butter or substitute, salt to taste.

Cook vegetables together until tender and nearly dry, add seasonings and mash. Serve hot as mashed potatoes.

Grapefruit Salad—Two packages lemon gelatine, one cup diced celery, one-half cup shredded cabbage, one-half cup broken pecan meats.

Prepare gelatine according to directions on package, when it thickens fold in celery, cabbage and nuts. Place lettuce inside empty grapefruit cups (which have been saved for the purpose), then fill with gelatin. Use whipped cream on top if desired.

SUGGESTIONS

Important Trifles.

Keep the kitchen bright and it will be more easy to keep cheerful.

To make cut flowers last set them in a pail of water up to their necks each night.

Put a few drops of ammonia into the water when the dishes are unusually greasy.

Labor Saver.

Use a black leather belt to wear with your housedresses instead of making a self-material for each dress. It will save the time of making the belt and also of laundering it whenever the dress is washed.

Deputy Sheriff Sees Real Winter Snow On Trip To Warren, Pa.

Deputy Sheriff William Reynolds, who made a trip to Warren, Pa., hospital yesterday, says that he never saw anything like the snow up in that section of Pennsylvania. It was more than three feet deep on the level and where it was drifted was anywhere from five to ten feet deep. Residents of Warren, with teams of horses and big snow plows, were cleaning the snow from sidewalks of city streets. Scenery through the country was beautiful, small shrubs and fences being covered, so that the countryside presented a perfect blanket of snow. Mrs. Reynolds, who accompanied her husband on the trip, was greatly pleased with her experience. Notwithstanding the heavy snow the state highway department had the roads in good shape and Deputy Sheriff Reynolds had no trouble in getting through by auto.

MEDICAL PROFESSOR WORKS YEARS IN MEXICO TO HELP KIDNEY SUFFERERS

Discovers Rare Plant in Mexico—Concentrates the Sap—Thousands of Cases Now Show How It Relieves Backaches, Stops Dizzy Spells, Swollen Ankles, Weakness.

NO MORE DISTURBED SLEEP

By An American Doctor

New York City—From the time that I was a member of the faculty at one of our best American Colleges I have been keenly interested in the constant reports of what the fresh sap of the Mexican Maguey Plant has been doing for sufferers of certain forms of chronic Kidney and Bladder inflammation.

Then one day a remarkable case was brought to my attention. A well known man of 45 years was rejected by a large insurance company because he was found to have a marked case of cronic kidney disease. Yet, after a few weeks' treatment with Maguey Sap this man was passed 100% by a board of doctors of the same insurance company and I soon was convinced that the claims made for Maguey Sap were true. None of the natives in the district where this remarkable plant grows had these symptoms, but I found many Americans who had been sent to Mexico in a run-down condition and who had been restored to health and happiness by Maguey Sap. Many people, including doctors, told me of the marvelous effect it has.

I finally perfected a scientific method of concentrating this natural sap, preserving it so that it retains all of its great medicinal properties. Each pint of Matamel, as this treatment is now called, represents 8 quarts of fresh sap—nothing added, only water removed.

200,000 packages of Matamel have already been used in this country in a short time. Our laboratory files contain hundreds of reports from hospitals, doctors and sufferers who have found true relief from certain forms of chronic kidney and bladder weakness—people like yourself who suffer with—headache—pains in the back—tired feeling in the morning—lack of energy—dancing spots before the eyes—strange noises in the ears or head—dizzy spells—poor appetite—coated foul tongue—dry, itchy skin—pins and needle cramps—loss of weight—restless sleep.

MATAMEL is dispensed here by

ECKERD'S OF NEW CASTLE, INC., 30 E. WASHINGTON STREET, also at Albert's Pharmacy, Ellwood City; Maybury's Pharmacy, Slippery Rock.

Sea Gulls Are Pests On Coast

Salt Lake City Erects Monument To Sea Gulls; San Francisco Terms Them Pests

WARNER SIGNS AT STANFORD

By THOMAS R. CURRAN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 7.—There's a monument to the sea gulls in Salt Lake City, but the birds are a pest in San Francisco.

At the present time the board of supervisors is considering an ordinance making it a misdemeanor to supply a sea gull with food. Certain misguided persons, according to complaints, have so generously furnished the gulls with the necessities of life that they congregate in great numbers in and about the city, thereby becoming a nuisance.

It is a crime to shoot a gull, soon it may be a crime to feed one.

Gulls, however, are highly esteemed as scavengers, and constantly soar in the wake of the transbay ferries.

There were 1,662 forest fires in national forests of California in 1926, according to figures released today by Chief S. B. Show of the California district, U. S. forest service.

These fires swept over 584,601 acres of timberland and cost $565,136 to suppress. Human carelessness caused more fires than the vagaries of nature. Tobacco smokers started 427; incendiaries, 178; railroads, 170; campers, 137; lumbering operations, 52. Lightning was responsible for 524 fires.

The total damage caused by these fires in the state of California alone was nearly $1,000,000.

Airplane patrols to detect forest fires will not be used in 1927, it was reported. Aerial patrols this year totaled 1,002 hours of flying time, without a major accident.

With the services of "Pop" Warner assured for next year and probably several seasons to come, Stanford University has at last "arrived" in the football elite.

Teams coached by Warner can be beaten some of the time, but they can't be beaten all of the time and this season Stanford waded through all competition on the coast, emerging Pacific Conference titleholders.

Warner built slowly and carefully at Stanford. It has taken five years to pyramid Stanford into a championship. For two years "Pop" taught football at Stanford only in the spring. When his contract at Pittsburgh expired, however, Warner became full-time coach and for the past three years has builded for the happy year when Stanford would defeat both California and U. S. C.

Canada Radio Fans Fight Interference

(International News Service)

OTTAWA, Ont. JAN. 7.—Alleged pirating of Canadian radio channels by United States broadcasting stations is driving the radio listeners of the Dominion to desperation and bringing a flood of complaints to the radio branch of the Department of Marine and Fisheries.

According to Lieutenant Commander C. P. Edwards, director of radio for the Dominion of Canada, the situation is steadily going from bad to worse.

Under the arrangements with the United States Department of Commerce, Canada is supposed to have use of 17 waves, six exclusive and 11 jointly with United States stations, but since a radio station of Chicago flouted the order of the United States Department of Commerce to keep off the exclusive wave of 329.5 meters, and was vindicated by a United States court, Canadian broadcasting stations no longer enjoy freedom from interference.

Broadcasting from Landon, Ont., are almost completely spoiled by heterodyning from the station at Chicago and stations throughout Canada are similarly affected by rivals in the United States broadcasting on the same wave lengths.

The Canadian government Radio Department is taking the matter up in a friendly way with Washington, with a view of remedying this unsatisfactory state of affairs.

HEIRESS FORFEITS SHARE IN MILLIONS FOR LIFE OF NUN

NEW YORK, Jan. 7—Devotion to the tenets of her creed has cost Miss Grace Minford, daughter of the late Lewis W. Minford, wealthy sugar broker, a share in her father's $2,000,000 estate.

Because she continues to lead the cloistered life of a nun in the home of the Dominican Sisters at Newark N. J., Miss Minford was disinherited under the will, filed for probate this afternoon. The will was made June 2, 1904, two years before Grace, in open defiance of her father's wishes, took the veil. He died last month.

GOVERNMENT PLANS 12-STORY POST OFFICE

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 7.—Workmen of the Pennsylvania Railroad started dismantling the old Grant street freight station to make space for the new post office building to be built here.

The work is to be finished early in February when the property is to be turned over to the government.

The new building will be 12 stories high and will cost approximately $7,000,000. The approximate date set for its completion is 1930.

Money isn't everything, but it is very handy to have around the house in case of trouble.

GONE TO "DAVY JONES' LOCKER"

The treacherous shoals of Cape Cod have claimed another victim—the two-masted schooner "Roger Hickey," which piled up on the shore at Wellfleet, Mass., at night, with a high sea running. The coast guard, notified by flares in the ship's rigging, rescued her crew of seven and a dog by means of a breeches buoy. Top view shows high surf pounding vessel to pieces; lower view, flares of the coast guard making light for rescue work.

Murder Solved?

The brutal assault and murder of Beulah Purvis, 19, of Lawrenceburg, Ind., is believed solved by the reported statement of Joseph Carr, 23, to Assistant Prosecutor Carl Basler, of Hamilton county, O. The body of Miss Purvis was found battered and bruised on the bank of the Big Miami river near Valley Junction, O., last October 20, just 10 days after she disappeared from home. Carr made his statement to Marshall Andrew Wagner, of Lockland, O., while the latter was questioning him regarding a burglary. Wagner turned him over to the assistant prosecutor.

"I'm Telling for Sake of My Boy," Says Risberg, Shown Here With Lad

"My only reason for telling what I know about 'sloughing' ball games is that I have a boy growing up and I want to save baseball for him." So says Charles "Swede" Risberg, former Chicago White Sox infielder, who has startled baseball with his statements regarding "contributions" to rival players during the 1917 season. This photo, taken since the expose, shows him with his wife and son on their farm at Rochester, Minn.

Pennsylvania Farm Land Value Average Highest In Nation

(Washington Correspondent of the News.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 7.—Farm land in the state of Pennsylvania last year had an average value well above that of all the New England and middle Atlantic states combined as well as slightly above the average value for all farm real estate in the United States.

A study of rural real estate values just completed by the bureau of agricultural economics of the United States department of agriculture today disclosed that the value of farm land in Pennsylvania has declined materially since the peak registered in the inflation year of 1920.

The bureau found the average value of farm land in Pennsylvania in 1926 to be $77, having dropped from $85 in 1921. In 1922 the average per acre value in the state was $78; in 1923, $79; in 1924, $75; and in 1925, $77, the same as the past year. In 1920, however, the average value of farm real estate in Pennsylvania was fixed at $92 per acre.

Pennsylvania's 1926 average for the value of agricultural land, placed at $77, was substantially above the average for the whole of New England, which came to $61.26, but was slightly below the middle Atlantic states, put at $78.69, and just did top the average of all farm land in the United States, recorded at $76.47 for the year. Pennsylvania stood fourth among the New England and middle Atlantic states in the value of farm land, being exceeded by Massachusetts with an average of $109 Rhode Island with an average of $100 and New Jersey with $130. Maine had an average of $51, New Hampshire $50 and Vermont only $44.

The bureau of agricultural economics finds from its study that the value of farm real estate in the country has shown an apparent steady trend toward stability since the peak of 1920. The decline for the country as a whole represents a decrease of about one-third from the 1920 high, and the 1926 values, according to the bureau's data, were at about the level of 1917, which in turn is about 25 per cent above the 1912-13-14 average, regarded as pre-war. Announced reductions in farm mortgage interest rates and possible further easing of the credit situation, in the opinion of the bureau, may aid in checking further declines.

Uniformly the most severe declines since early 1920 have taken place in the grain and livestock states of the middle west. In the northeastern states, prices of dairy, poultry and vegetable products to which this region is largely devoted, maintained the highest levels during the depression of any of the major groups of American farm products, and farm values fell relatively little. In the industrial sections of the east, also, sustained values were partially attributable to an apparently active demand on the part of urban workers for small farms.

In Pennsylvania last year, the proportion of changes in ownership of farms was less than for any other New England or middle Atlantic state except Connecticut and Massachusetts. Total changes in ownership in Pennsylvania amounted to 52.13 per 1,000 farms, compared with a ratio of 56.29 per 1,000 farms for all New England and 56.40 for the middle Atlantic states. In New Jersey, which showed the greatest proportion of changes of ownership in the New England and middle Atlantic group the ratio was 76.96 per 1,000, while in Massachusetts, the lowest, the ratio was 46.31. For the United States as a whole, the rate was 60.28 per 1,000 farms.

The proportion of forced sales and defaults of farms in Pennsylvania, however, was lower than the average for New England, and the middle Atlantic, and well below the average for the United States as a whole. In Pennsylvania, the rate of forced sales and defaults for 1926 was 8.95 per 1,000 farms, compared with an average of 13.69 for the whole of New England, 11.67 for the middle Atlantic and 21.39 for the United States. Of Pennsylvania's forced sales and defaults of farm land last year, 1.95 per 1,000 were for delinquent taxes and 7 per 1,000 were through foreclosure of mortgages, bankruptcy, default of contract or other transfer to avoid foreclosure. The ratio of changes in ownership of farm real estate in Pennsylvania through inheritance and gift last year was 6.99 per 1,000. The ratio of voluntary sales and trades to the total number of farms in the state was 33.67 per 1,000, while all other changes in ownership were at the rate of 2.52 per 1,000.

According to the bureau's data, the averages for forced sales and defaults of farm land were lowest in New England and in the middle Atlantic states, and were highest in the west north central and mountain states.

REWARDED FOR HEROISM

CINCINNATI, O., Jan. 7.—Miss Edna B. Drake of this city is the first woman to be awarded a medal for heroism by the Pennsylvania railroad. Miss Drake saved a man's life by pulling his unconscious form from the railroad tracks. She was presented with the medal by W. W. Atterbury, president of the road.

Dandruffy Heads Become Hairless

If you want plenty of thick, beautiful, glossy, silky hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for it will starve your hair and ruin it if you don't.

It doesn't do much good to try to brush or wash it out. The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and two or three more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop, and your hair will look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. Four ounces is all you will need, no matter how much dandruff you have. This simple remedy never fails.

STATE POLICE ARREST USERS OF 1926 TAGS

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 7.—State highway patrol officers, ignoring the unauthorized extension granted Pittsburgh motorists for the use of 1926 automobile license tags by Superintendent of Police Peter P. Walsh, did a land office business yesterday at the Liberty tubes where they arrested about 50 drivers using last year's tags.

Six officers, three at each end of the tubes, were on hand yesterday morning when the residents of the South Hills began driving downtown and they were still on duty last evening when the tide of traffic turned the other way. Many motorists who believed themselves protected under the orders of Superintendent Walsh, found that the state officers cared nothing for the extension order.

The charge preferred against the drivers was that of violating the state automobile laws and they were ordered to appear tonight before Justice of the Peace James T. Koch of Bridgeville, where they face a probable fine of $10. Just how many fell into the toils of the law could not be learned but Squire Koch said that there was "quite a number".

Indecent Modern Art Decried By Famous Actor

(International News Service)
LONDON, Jan. 6.—A violent attack on modern art on account of "indecency" has been made by Sir Johnston Forbes-Robertson, the famous actor. His condemnation of the advanced schools was absolutely sweeping.

"I can claim to speak," he said, "because I was intended for an artist, and I never enter a friend's studio with a smell of turpentine without wanting to set my palette. But a certain percentage of the young people of Britain seem to be infected by the disease which might be called Bolshevism. This disease seems to be affecting not only painting and sculpture, but also literature; it is really the cult of the ugly; not only of the ugly but positively of indecency.

"If those who produce monstrosities of angels, cubes, and weird delineations are right, then then great masters of the past were wrong.

"These methods are called an advance, but actually it is a going back, for no cave man, drawing on a piece of stone, had ever produced anything so ludicrous or perfectly meaningless."

American Slang Due For Fadeout Experts Agree

By FRED J. WALKER,
International News Service Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO, Jan., 7.—American slang is merely a part of the hustle and bustle of modern life and probably will be forgotten when the country settles down, in the belief of Prof. Edward C. Marie, professor of speech, University of Iowa.

Prof. Marie did not condemn slang. He termed it "charming rather than disgusting" and said it speeded up the process of language but having served its purposes in aiding the substitution of quick, concise speech for the more redundant Victorian variety, it will disappear.

The passing of slang will be a part of the growth of an American civilization rivaling in many respects that of the Athens of Sophocles according to Prof. Marie. The incorporation of schools of speech in various colleges into theatrical institutions will be predicted, "produce an artistic public rivaling Greece in her greatest days."

"Students by study and through actual production of great plays," he said, "will acquire an appreciation of dramatic classics which will be the foundation of a vast appreciative American audience."

The well known word "ain't" was barred forever from proper American vocabularies.

"While it may be short and vivid," said Prof. Marie, "it will never appear in standard dictionaries. It is a debased contraction of two words and has no place in the vocabulary."

Prof. Marie is president of the National Association of Teachers' of Speech and specializes in dramatics.

Betting Tax May Cause New Arrests In England, Shown

(International News Service)
LONDON, Jan. 7.—Three-quarters of the total population of Britain are in danger of arrest.

This is the official declaration of the Inland revenue department.

It is the result of the recent Betting tax. The department takes the view that every bet made is liable to the tax.

Consequently if one man bets with another privately—without either holding a bookmaker's license—he transgresses the law and puts himself in danger of arrest and summary imprisonment.

A legal test case is imminent to decide the difference between a private wager and a friendly bet.

Thomas Shaw, who was Minister of Labor in the late Labor Government in Great Britain, worked in a cotton mill at the age of eight. Entirely self-educated, he speaks several foreign languages and is reputed to be one of the best-informed men in British public life today.

Salvation Army Says World Is Improved Today

Gen. Evangeline Booth In Analyzing Conditions Is Sure People Are Better

Says Smoking Is Matter Of Health And Not One Of Morals

By GEORGE A. STRICKLER
International News Service Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO, Jan. 7. — Twentieth Century youth is unjustly indicted in the publicity given the smoking, immodest dress, and prohibition issues, General Commander Evangeline Booth declared in an interview here.

Diverting her attention for the moment from the executive duties of her office, the aged Salvation Army head enthusiastically relegated the issues to their "proper" places by a comprehensive analysis.

Smoking is a matter of health and conscience, not one of morals, she explained. It is wrong only when a woman feels it is improper and will set a bad example.

"As much as I am opposed to smoking," she said, "I cannot accuse a woman of being on the downward path because she smokes. As a health issue, I think smoking is bad for both men and women. There is enough smoke in the world anyway."

Dressmakers Blamed

Dressmakers and fashion designers were held responsible for the immodest dress controversy, the commander asserted. It's not the modern girl's fault her dresses are up to her knees or points higher. That's the way the dressmakers and designers make them and a girl has to wear something.

"Loose moral standards are not responsible for the short dresses. Our pretty girls dress the way they do because everybody is dressing that way, and not because they have wrong ideas in their head," the motherly Evangeline decreed.

In spite of all the anti-prohibition propaganda to the contrary, the Volstead act is not running the youth of today, the commander said in further defense of flapper and her boy friend. In fact, prohibition has made home and moral conditions much better, especially among those in moderate and poor circumstances, she added.

The advent of the automobile has not enhanced immorality among young people. Boys and girls went just as far off the right road in the days of the horse and buggy as they do now. It was their own feet and an old plug that took them along immorality's detours in those days. Now it's an automobile and there is no difference, according to Commander Booth.

World Is Better

"The world is a much better place to live in now," she said, speaking from her vast contact with all manner and classes of people.

"The poorer classes, for which the Salvation Army had its beginning, especially, are better. The wife has more money than she ever had before in her life, and the presence of a little money in the household builds up the morale and the whole condition of the home.

"Prohibition has brought peace into the home of the poor family, so that the children have more chance than ever before.

"I believe, however, that certain people—particularly the anti-prohibitionists--press agent such crime and instances of immorality nowadays solely to give prohibition a "black eye," Commander Booth concluded. "They want the public to think girls and boys are in danger because of prohibition. There was just as much wickedness in the old days, only not so many people knew about it."

Opposition To Woods Growing

Kentucky And West Virginia Delegations Oppose Pennsylvania

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—The fight against confirmation of Cyrus E. Woods of Pennsylvania as a member of the interstate commerce commission gained ground today as hearings on his nomination continued before the senate interstate commerce committee.

Opposition to his appointment grew after revelations that he holds more than $400,000 in railroad and industrial stocks and bonds. Woods declared he would divest himself of all his railroad holdings if placed on the commission. He also asserted that his holdings would not prevent him rendering judicial decisions and pledging himself to consider each case "on its merits".

The opposition to Woods began in the Kentucky and West Virginia delegations to congress. Led by Senators Goff (R) of West Virginia and Sackett (R) of Kentucky, the delegations attacked the naming of any Pennsylvanian to the commission on the ground it might endanger the preferential railroad rates given their states on coal shipments to lake ports. This differential was awarded Kentucky and West Virginia by a previous commission on a 3 to 2 count. If Woods voted against the preferential rates, it was pointed out, they could be overthrown by the present commission.

Woods, a former American ambassador to Spain and Japan once, recently acted as campaign manager for Senator George Wharton Pepper in the $3,000,000 Pennsylvania senatorial primary.

New Pole Flight By Dr. Eckner In German Dirigible

By H. R. KNICKERBOCKER.
International News Service Staff Correspondent

MOSCOW, Jan. 7.—Preparations are now on foot here for a flight over the North Pole to Alaska in a dirigible built by Dr. Anton Eckener the German pioneer of trans-Atlantic Zeppelin flights.

Prof. Samoilovitch, Russian delegate to the Intertanional congress for the study of the Polar regions recently held in Berlin reports that the Soviet government has promised to assist the flight. The Soviets have more interest in the expedition than any other country since it is planned to explore sections of the Polar regions which the Russians will claim as their territory under their law declaring that all land lying north of the now known borders of the Soviet Union belongs to the Soviets.

Dr. Eckener reported Professor Samoilovitch, declared himself ready to direct the construction of a dirigible for the flight which will be financed by the governments of several European countries. It is not yet certain which governments besides the Soviet Union will participate and until the financial side of the project can be fixed for the undertaking.

Meanwhile however the Soviets are preparing to establish next spring on the New Siberian Islands an observatory which will be used as a possible relay station by the polar dirigible. Under the direction of the All-Union Academy of Sciences the Soviets propose to establish a chain of such stations along the extreme northern boundaries of the Union.

Tentative plans for the flight outline a route from Lininggrade via Murmansk and the Taimyr Peninsula to Alaska. The aerial explorers will attempt to map hitherto undiscovered land suspected to exist between the New Siberian islands and Wrangel Island which was recently colonized by a Soviet expedition.

Legion Discourages Borrowing By Vets

Keep Certificates Unless Money Is Urgently Needed; Penna. Commander Advises

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Jan. 7.—"Don't borrow money on your adjusted compensation certificates unless you are absolutely forced by circumstances to do so."

With veterans besieging the banks for loans on the certificates and the banks in many cases refusing to accommodate them, this advice to former service men men was given yesterday by Colonel Robert M. Vail, district commander of the American Legion in Pennsylvania, after a conference with local legion officials.

Convinced that the situation over the loans had approached a point where the attitude of the American Legion should be made clear, Commander Vail came to Philadelphia from his home in Wilkes-Barre to discuss the subject and to determine the stand his organization will take. After a conference with State Adjutant James J. Deighan and State Liaison Officer Thomas V. Dowd, a statement was forthcoming discourging veterans from seeking loans.

Will Only Advise.

Other than giving this advice, the American Legion will adopt a hands-off policy on the matter. If a veteran insists upon trying to "cash in" on his certificate that is entirely a matter between himself and the banks, said the commander, adding that he could not conscientiously criticise the banking institutions for wishing to keep out of the thing.

"While the banks are protected by the goevrnment against ultimate loss, the small amounts of the loans and the bookkeeping and red-tape necssary in handling them make the business unprofitable," he said. "The legion takes the stand that it cannot criticise the banks for not wishing to let themselves in for a lot of unprofitable work.

A decided mistake was made in the first place in giving the bonus certificates a loan value at the end of two years, Colonel Vail said. Many unthinking veterans, he added, have come to regard the certificates merely as slips of paper good for a few dollars on which they can have a good time rather than a form of insurance which will be worth $1500 or more at the end of 20 years.

"Many of them have altogether lost sight of the purpose for which the adjusted compensation was established," he said. "They see a chance to get $80 or $90 now and they persuade themselves they need it, forgetting that the money will have to be paid back with interest or the compensation will be eaten up. A great many of them have no intention of recovering the loan."

Dr. Clemens Speaker On Founders Day In First Church

Dr. J. H. Clemens of the Grace Methodist Episcopal church of Oil City and former pastor of the First M. E. church of this city, will be the principal speaker at the celebration of Founders Day of the Deaconess Home of this city which will be an event of Thursday, January 20 in the First M. E. church.

The meeting will open with a dinner at 6:30 in the church dining room served by the Woman's Home Missionary Society. An attractive program will be carried out at the conclusion of the dinner in connection with the address by Dr. Clemens.

Biggest Airship Soon Ready To Start To India

Closely Guarded Secrets Of Newest Construction Are Shown Premiers

New Type Of Flying Ship Shortly To Go On Flight To Far Dominions

By CHARLES A. SMITH.
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, Jan. 7.—The closely guarded secrets of what is claimed to be the most wonderful airship in the world were unfolded to the Dominion Premiers at the Imperial Conference recently when they visited the airship sheds at Cardington.

R-101, Britain's super-airship destined for the England-Egypt-India route was shown to them in its partially completed state while they wer given access to the plans showing how the ship will look when she is completed.

Although details of this new airship have not been officially divulged it is generally understood that the R-101 breaks completely away from the nations of Count Zeppelin and that she differs in practically every detail from any predecessor.

Stainless steel is being employed throughout in her construction and it has been found, that strength for strength, it is lighter than duraluminum.

Five Big Engines.

There will be five 600 horsepower engines each housed in a car slung underneath the ship. Gasolene will not be used, heavy oil which is stated to be very economical in use, taking its place. The propellors will be of steel in order to resist tropical conditions.

Other main features of the airship are:

Carry capacity: 100 passengers and their luggage and ten tons of mail.

Sleeping cabins with two and four berths.

Lounges, smoking rooms and dining rooms, capable of seating 50 people at a time.

Promenade decks on which passengers will be able to stretch their legs.

Fully equipped kitchens making it possible to serve a five or six course dinner.

Shower baths.

Acommodation for dancing and games.

Probable facilities for radio entertainment and possibly even for a daily newspaper.

An elevator.

The whole of the passenger accommodation of the R-101 will be contained in the hull of the airship. The accommodation is amidships, divided into upper and lower decks. On the upper decks will be the lounges and the main part of the sleeping accommodation while running along each side of the airship will be two promenades.

Elevator to Dining Room.

On the lower deck will be the smoking room, kitchen—with an elevator to the dining room—crew's quarters and the remainder of the passenger's sleeping accommodations.

Both R-101 and her sistership R-100—which is being built later at Howden—will have a minimum speed of 70 miles an hour at an altitude of 5,000 feet with a cruising speed of 63 miles an hour and will have a range at cruising speed with an ordinary load of about four thousand miles.

When completed they will have trial flights in England and will then be further tested on cruises to Egypt and India.

The airships will have ten days on a trip between England and Bombay, 18 days between England and Melbourne and 13 1-2 days between England and Africa.

R-101 will be 730 feet in length with a maximum diameter of 130 feet. Her load lift will be 150 tons half of which will be reserved for fuel.

SEEK WOMEN ON CHICAGO JURIES

By FRED J. WALKER.
International News Service Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO, Jan. 7.—Women jurors would be a big help in stamping out gang rule in Chicago through fearless votes for conviction in the belief of a majority of the prosecutors on the staff of state's attorney Robert E. Crowe.

The discussion originated with Charles A. McDonald, former judge and special prosecutor who bluntly declared after Joe Saltis and Frank Koncil were acquitted of slaying John Foley that the male jury was afraid of gang retribution" which would not have been the case had women been on the body."

Marie O. Andresen only woman prosecutor in Cook county enthusiastically endorsed McDonald's views.

"There is no question in my mind" said Miss Andresen "that men are a bit afraid to follow the dictates of justice. I do not mean that as a sex they are yellow. But they have responsibilities of family and business connections that they cannot afford to overlook.

"Women juries would be comparatively free from these handicaps. Furthermore as a woman I feel they would not hesitate to do what they regarded as right regardless of any personal danger.

Louis Blumenthal, another assitant prosecutor took sides with Miss Andreson declaring the "symbol of justice is a blindfolded woman with a sword in her hand."

"With women on juries" he said "I believe we would be more likely to obtain justice."

Michael Romano voiced the minority view.

"Jury verdicts now are largely the composite emotional reactions of 12 men" he said. Juries of women, I believe would be either more stern or more likely to swing to the extreme of hysteria."

BOYS AND GIRLS CLASSES TO MEET AT CITY MISSION

Tonight at 6:30 the Girls Bible class will meet at the City mission in their room on the second floor; also the Boys Bible class will meet in the room down stairs. This Bible study will be conducted from 6:30 to 7:30 after which the regular service will be held.

Tomorrow afternoon beginning at 2 o'clock the Girls' Sewing school classes will meet for their regular sewing work between the hours of 2 and 4. Saturday evening a praise and testimony meeting will be held with the superintendent in charge.

Atlanta business men have subscribed a million-dollar fund for a national advertising campaign to be conducted by the city in a quest for new industries.

Ages Old Bones Found In Thames

Noted Anthropologist, Places Them As Dating From Bronze Age

LONDON, Jan. 7. — Skulls and bones of what are believed to have been lake dwellers of the bronze age approximately 2,000 B. C. have been found in the bed of the River Thames at Sunbury and Sir Arthur Keith famous anthropologist pronounces them to be at least 4,000 years old.

The bones were found about 20 feet below the river bed while exconstruction of a new lock and they consist of a woman's skull; thighbone of a woman about five feet one inch in height; man's left shinbone and man's right armbone.

The shinbone is flattened with what the scientists call the "squatter's facet" showing the man spent much of his time in a crouching position.

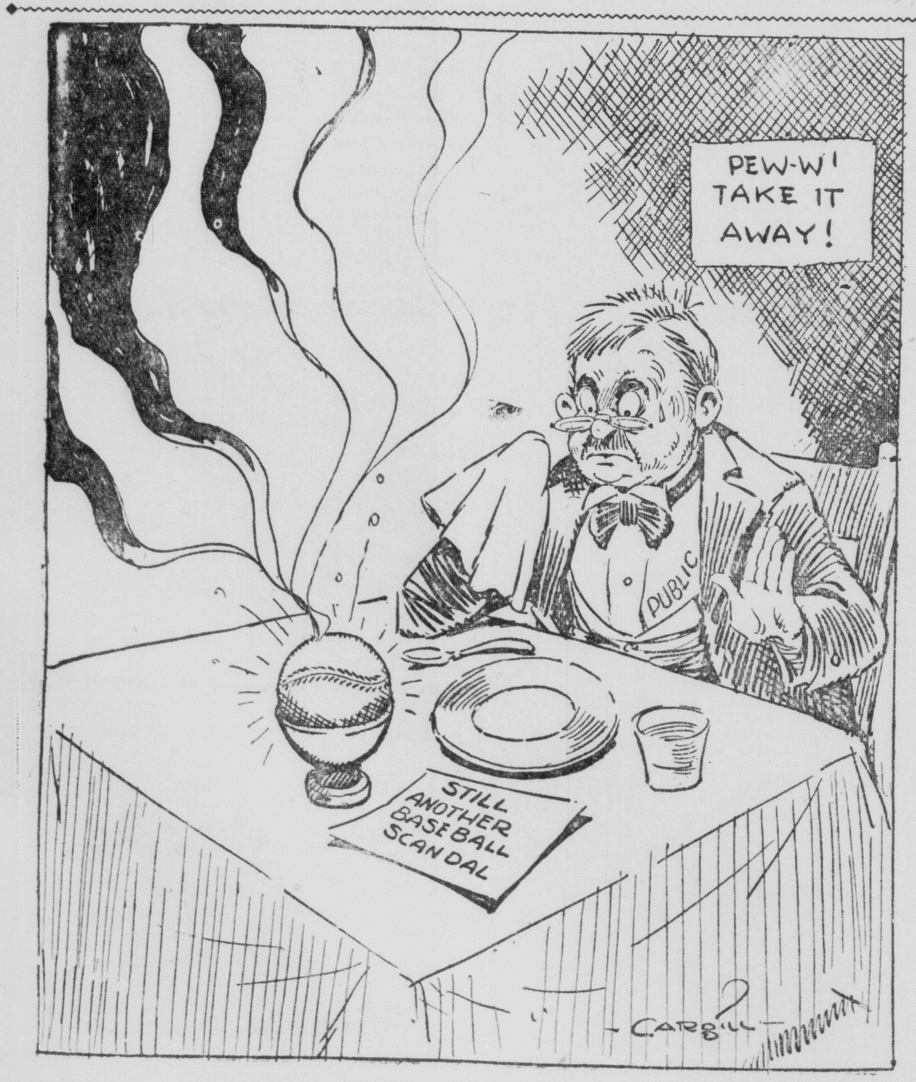

Bones of oxen, horses, pigs and red deer also were found as well as six antlers from the last named There were no bones of either sheep or goats.

Sir Arthur Keith says the human bones were doubtless those of the lake, or pile, dwellers of the Celtic pre-Roman race of the late neolithic or early bronze age. No flint or bronze implements were found but some of the antlers show signs of having been used as pick axes. One of the antlers belonged to an exceptionally large an dearly species of red deer common in the neolithic age but now rare.

The bones will be exhibited at the neighboring Kingston museum.

Scotch Burn Seaweed To Get Valuable Ashes

(International News Service)

OBAN, Scotland, Jan. 7. — The very seaweed on their impoverished shores is likely to bring prosperity, in a measure, to the unhappy islanders of Luing, Argyllshire.

Hugh McCowan, a Cullipool merchant, is building a large factory at Luing for the manufacture of kelp, the commercial product of seaweed. The ash residue from the seaweed, burned slowly at a low heat, is very valuable, being rich in carbonates and sulphates of soda, as well as iodine and bromine.

A poultry food will also be manufactured from the seaweed and the new industry will give much-needed employment to the islanders. The majority of the male population emigrated to the United States about a year ago, owing to the impossibility of making a living from the land.

PETERS ADVENTURES IN ANIMAL LAND

By Florence Smith Vincent

MOO!

Snoozer the Dog, looking after Puss-Cat, sighed and shook his head.

"Poor old Puss-Cat! Not for anything would I be standing on her paws!"

"But why not?" demanded Peter. "As I said before, I can't see anything so terrible in what has happened to her. To listen to you two one would think the sky had fallen in!"

"But I tell you the poor thing will never get over it—never as long as she lives!"

"Nonsense!" Peter was impatient. "Do you think that a clever Cat like that is going to keep that bell around her neck for long? Why, I dare say that even now 'tis lying on the ground beside her!"

"If 'twere only the bell that she needs must lose that would indeed be nothing at all. But you see, Boy, the trouble is much more serious. Never before in all Cat Kingdom has a Cat been belled by a Mouse and 'twill be many a moon before the disgrace will be forgotten. And, oh, my goodness, gracious buttercup! Speaking of Moons, where, oh, where is that Cow?"

Strange how things happened in the Land of Shadows. Scarcely had the question popped out of Snoozer's mouth when the Night Wind brought an answer.

"Moooo!" Long, low and a little mournful, there was no mistaking the call. The voice that cried in the night belonged to a Cow, if ever any voice did!

"SHE COMES, SHE COMES!" BARKED SNOOZER

"She comes! She comes!" barked Snoozer, and straightway Puss-Cat and her troubles were forgotten. Off ran Snoozer, Peter at his heels, not in the direction of the voice, as one might have supposed, but down the path of the Moon. For, as Snoozer explained to Peter, barking as he ran, it was always best to be in the front row when anything was going on!

Next: "A Leap for Luck!"

DINNER STORIES

A guest hurried up to the hotel clerk's counter. He had just ten minutes to pay his bill, reach the station and board his train.

"Hang it," he exclaimed, "I've forgotten something. Here boy, run up to my room—No. 427—and see if I left my pajamas and shaving kit. Hurry! I've only five minutes now."

The boy hurried. In four minutes he returned, empty handed and out of breath.

"Yes, sir," he panted. "You left them."

"I'll explain deduction," announced Willie, desirous of airing his knowledge in the home circle. "In our back yard, for example, is a pile of ashes. By deduction that is evidence that we have had fires going this winter."

"Yes, yes," broke in father, "you might go out and sift the evidence."

A spinster living in a London suburb was shocked at the language used by two men repairing telegraph wires close to her house.

She wrote to the company on the matter, and the foreman was asked to report.

"Me and Bill Fairweather were on this job," he said. "I was up the telegraph pole, and accidentally let the hot lead fall on Bill. It went down his neck. Then he said: 'You really must be more careful, Harry.'"

Opinions of our own are worth something in Washington. They get you an invitation to breakfast.

Berks Prisoners Lose Fruit Diet

READING, Jan. 7. — Because a number of Berks county jail inmates took advantage of the holding of Sunday services, at which attendance was optional, to attempt making moonshine in their cells, they lost peaches, prunes and other dessert, fruits served with their menu, it was made known today by Dr. H. B. Schaeffer, the prison physician.

Peaches and prunes added to the regular menus had been fermented in the cells, and making hooch was progressing when Warden Daniel B. Hill discovered what was going on and cleaned out the cells.

Hankow Situation Somewhat Improved

(International News Service)

LONDON, Jan. 7.—The situation at Hankow was somewhat improved today, the marauding Cantonese troops having been withdrawn from the British concession there, according to Central News dispatches from Shanghai.

The Cantonese authorities left a police force, under British control to maintain order.

Two steamers bearing British women and children refugees from Hankow were due to arrive at Shanghai today.

Merchant Ships Carry Booze To U. S. From Paris

Reputable Boats Are Seen As Taking Cargoes Of Liquor To America

Rum Row No Longer A Principal Booze Source Owing To Risks

By WILLIAM P CARNEY
International News Service Staff Correspondent

CHERBOURG, France, Jan. 7.—Few chartered ships loaded with wet cargoes are leaving French ports for a rum row anywhere along the American coastline.

Contraband cheer has been exported on a larger scale from France for more than a year in the many passenger liners crossing the north Atlantic.

These revelations came today from a reliable source during an investigation by the International News Service of how champagne and liquor could have reached New York and other American cities. It would be hard to find anyone better informed on this subject than William Foyle, who was convicted in New York of violating the Volstead act over two years ago, when he was chief purser of the Royal Mail liner Orduna.

Now Hotel Manager.

Foyle is a British subject and now manages the Anglo-American hotel in Cherbourg. With other members of the Orduna's crew, he was profitably engaged in catering to New York's thirst. When the Orduna called at Hamburg, Southampton and Cherbourg, extra stores of beer, scotch and champagne were taken aboard without the captain's knowledge. These prohibited beverages were covertly disposed of in New York.

Foyle says they were caught "because a customs man was dissatisfied with his rake-off and turned us in." The purser's confession resulted in a libel being filed against the Orduna, whereby the United States government sought to seize the ship. He explains that he was forced to give up a seafaring career then, as he was blacklisted thereafter by all steamship companies.

But there are today many well paid agents of bootleggers, Foyle asserts, among the crews of freighters as well as passenger liners operating between American and European ports.

Risk Too Great.

"Rum row no longer figures importantly in liquor smuggling," he declared. "The risk and the expense are too great since the coast guard was enlarged. It is easier now to 'fix' customs guards on duty at the Manhattan, Brooklyn and New Jersey piers. In waterfront saloons and restaurants in Hoboken you can get as wide a choice of wines and liquors as in Europe.

"The United States customs service and even upright officers in the merchant marine are not so well paid that they can always resist the big money offered by the bootleggers. I do not know of any ship's master ever taking their bribes, however.

"Thus buyers for big bootleggers are not needed abroad. A native commissionaire can fill orders and make all arrangements for shipment from the foreign supply base."

Tailor finds way to overcome rheumatic stiffness and ache

A Philadelphia tailor has found a quick way of getting rid of stiffness in the hands and arms caused by constantly using a hot iron.

"I am by trade a presser," he writes. "I am always using a hot iron and my hands and arms get stiff. I have been using liniments for a long time and I find that Sloan's Liniment is the best. It always gives instant relief."

Sloan's gives real help because it stirs up your own bodily forces to throw off the trouble, and to restore normal, healthy action in the sick tissues.

Just pat it on lightly, without rubbing, and the first thing you know the aching and stiffness are gone. Get a bottle today. All druggists—35 cents.

Russian Grain And Ore Moves

(International News Service)

MOSCOW, Jan. 7. — Millions of tons of grain and ore which piled up in Black Sea ports awaiting transport facilities during the strike of of coal miners in England, are beginning to be moved on steamers released by the ending of the strike.

Owing to the great demand for steamers to carry coal to England during the strike, shipping costs rose until they reached 35 shillings a ton from Black Sea ports to continental destinations. Even at this price few steamers were to be had, and by the end of seven months of the strike the Soviet warehouses at the principal export points were over-filled. Thousands of tons of grain had to be stored in hastily constructed sheds.

An order for a fleet of 25 passenger air liners has just been received by a large British aircraft firm from Japan, which country plans to establish a number of new air lines this year.

NEW CASTLE HIGH TO PLAY EVANS CITY TONIGHT

Opening Game Of Section IV

New Castle Team Primed For Opening Of W. P. I. A. L. Season

GIRLS TO PLAY IN PRELIMINARY

By "BUGS" WALTHER

New Castle High's strong floor team will usher in the W. P. I. A. L. season here tonight at the Senior High school gym with Evans City team as their opponents. The New Castle-Evans City girls' teams will play in the preliminary. The first game starts at 7:15 o'clock.

Tonight New Castle High will start playing in Section IV. The championship of Section III rests peacefully within the confines of the local institution. Last year for the first time in the history of basketball in this city a representative Red and Black clad team crashed through with a championship trophy dangling at their belt. New Castle High hopes to repeat this year. With a well balanced team, composed for the greater part of "green" material, the locals look mighty impressive and it is generally believed that the team stands a fine chance of copping honors in the section allotted them this year by the league committee.

Ellwood City and Butler look the part of real teams this year, and New Castle figures on hard games when it comes time to prance out on the court to battle with the two teams in mention. Zelienople, Mars and Evans City complete the section. Little is known of the relative strength of any of the three schools in mention.

Evans City High in a pre-season game played recently defeated Pittsburgh Tech by a score of 25 to 13, this giving some idea as to the team that will oppose the locals tonight. In Schriva and Ritter the Evans City team has a pair of clever boys and it will behoove the locals to cast an optic on this pair.

Coach Bridenbaugh has tried out many combinations in the five pre-season games. Not one of the combinations tried out so far have shown what one could call a "world beating attack". It may be such a thing that the coach has been "fooling" somewhat, but this is only guesswork on the part of the writer. Coach Bridenbaugh, it can be assured, will have his strongest possible aggregation on the court tonight. The big thing is to get the "jump" and New Castle will be out there tonight jumping.

Girls to Play

The preliminary game will find the New Castle High girls pitted against the Evans City High maidens in what should prove an interesting contest. The girls have played several pre-season games with local teams and have managed to win them all.

Coach Boyd has given the team plenty of practice and they are ready for the season starting tonight. The team is composed of four veterans from last year. Two of the girls who will start the game tonight are newcomers to the squad. Miss Anne Ponion, a forward, and Miss Patton, at side-center, are the girls in mention. Both girls have shown enough in the past games to warrant their being given an opportunity of showing their worth to the varsity.

Following is the probable lineups of both boys and girls for tonight:

Boys' Game

New Castle		Evans City
Reider	F	Schiva
Franklin	F	Kennoy
McGrath	C	Ritter
Klaber	G	Heyl
Ostrosky	G	Neal

Girls' Game

New Castle		Evans City
Patterson	F	Porter
Ponion	F	Heasley
Plattner	C	Wilson
Patton	S.C	Fox
Wolf	G	Sutton
Wygonowski	G	Leonberg

Wampum Indies To Play Nonpariels

The Wampum Indies will clash with the Nonpariel Club of Beaver Falls on the Opera House floor in Wampum on Tuesday night, Jan. 11, it was announced today. The Wampum Cubs will play the New Castle Buccanneers in the preliminary game. The first game starts at 7:15 o'clock.

Owing to the fact that the Wampum Indies scheduled the Wellsville, O., team last week and they failed to show up, the Nonpariel and preliminary games will be played free of charge to the public.

Baseball Drama Is Tragedy As Played On Witness Stand

By NORMAN E. BROWN
Central Press Sporting Editor

CHICAGO, Jan. 7. — Baseball must be played on the field—and not on the witness stand. This is emphatically clear to me as I review in my mind the scene I witnessed here— the opening session of the hearing before Judge Landis, high commissioner of baseball of the charges of "Swede" Risberg and the defense of the men accused.

I saw the game "played" across the mahogany desk of the czar where the swish of court reporters' pens and the dashing of messenger boys with newspaper copy replaced the slash of the bat and the dash to first.

And what a tragedy that game was.

The witness chair in a baseball trial is no place for the powerful shoulders of a big league pitcher, the broad back of the catcher or the clear, keen eyes of an outfielder.

There are not cheers that come with the recital from the official box scores of the base hits that won the game. There is no sympathetic applause for the pitcher yanked from the game in the sharp tones of the commissioner as he reads the summary.

The Thrills and Zest Are Gone

There are no fans to pour out silently or vociferously their hero worship. Baseball is stripped of everything but bitter wrangling, double crossing, stories of double crossing, personal grudges, whispered curses and muttered innuendos.

This is no longer baseball.

Picture for yourself two dozen of the game's best known stars of today and a decade ago as you know them on the field, effervescing power, courage, stamina, physical fitness and mental alertness.

Then as I saw them in Landis' office (and as they were to be again in later hearings) sitting restlessly in their seats, uneasy from the humility of the thing or squirming in their guilt, revealed later in hesitating fashion under the merciless questioning of the commissioner. No atmosphere for heroes. None were made there. And the life of baseball is the building up of heroes.

Only one man emerged from the hearing untouched by the soot of the scandal smoke. That was Ed Walsh. Called under the belief that he was with the White Sox in 1917 and 1919 Walsh stated quietly that he was not with the team at either time. Gracefully he accepted Landis' apology and stepped from the witness chair—still the admired figure he was in the glorious days of 1908 and thereabouts.

But the others——

They sat in uncomfortable silence as the soft-toned chime clock on Landis' desk tolled off 45 minutes—while Risberg was seeking an entrance to the building that would permit him to escape the gaze of some 500 fans, irate or curious, in front of the building.

Was the game ever delayed before while a player slipped in under cover of a back entrance to escape a befuddled if not a swindled public?

Then these stars sat another hour while Risberg, the "collector," told into the records of baseball his belief that four baseball games that had been filed as "official," honest efforts to win, were "hippodromed," "framed" performances.

Then there followed him to the witness plate such men as Ty Cobb, Eddie Collins, Harry Heilmann, Howard Ehmke, George Dauss and others. But instead of testing their skill with the bat, the ball or against a bounding infield hit or smashing line drive they parried a cross fire delivery of questions hurled from a distance of six feet by a white-haired jurist.

Ty Cobb, with 3,000 major league games behind him, was asked to recall just four of those games 10 years ago—two others eight years ago, and discuss individuals and features of play in those games.

He knew nothing that would distinguish those games from the others—nothing that would have impressed him as did the 17-inning game which is included in his career.

Eddie Collins up. But instead of matching his wits against a wily pitcher Collins, shaken by his emotions, tore open a package and hurled at Landis a book of check stubs—dragged from the desk at home—to show that he had not paid any money to Chick Gandil, co-collector, for "good work of the Detroit pitchers" until after the world's series of that year had been played.

George Dauss — dependable George of many a Tiger team, held his good right arm idle at his side while he told of receiving $180 "for beating Boston."

Oscar Stanage looked anything but at home as he growled out roughly how he got "$60 or $75" for a suit of clothes for catching the pitchers.

The other players and the newspaper men tried to laugh when Bernie Boland, Detroit pitcher, said he "guessed" he got his $50 share of the pool for "rooting from the bench," but the laugh sort of strangled in their throats. And newspaper men aren't naturally hero worshippers. They have seen too many heroes tossed into the ash can.

And so the "game" went on. Into extra innings.

And then came the end of the session.

One man, banished from baseball for his part in a "queer" world's series, had repeated once more his assertion that members of his team had collected a "pot" to give to the Detroit players for "sloughing" an entire series of ball games.

Mixed "Pool" Money and Hits.

Twenty-six men had faced him across the table and called him "liar". But eight or nine of these men were forced to admit that they contributed to a pool that went to the Detroit pitchers for their "goodwork against Boston."

It had taken six hours to play the game. And every man in the judge's lineup had been forced to wallow back to the bench through a sea of filth.

It wasn't baseball. It never will be.

Baseball can't be played in December, on the thirteenth floor of a skyscraper—in an atmosphere of hate, vemon, double crossing and crookedness.

It must be played in the balmy days of summer—out where the clear air and sunlight pleads for all that is clean in sport. And it must be played on the level there—or die.

That much is clear to me. It would be to you had you sat with me.

The result of the hearing matters little. The harm was done 10 years ago.

Trojans Take 36-26 Victory

The Trojans defeated the Houser-Kennedy team by a score of 36 to 26 in a fast game played Thursday night. The Trojans have recovered their stride after their recent defeat at the hands of the Gerson Imperials.

Geddis by caging a field goal and a foul in the first minutes of play gave the Trojans a lead that was never overcome during the remainder of the game. The score at half time was 12-10 with the Trojans in the lead.

Kaufman and McKay were the big scorers for the Trojans, the former caging five and the latter 3. For the Houser-Kennedy team the work of Pittaway with five baskets and Hannon with a pair featured.

The lineup and summary:

Trojans 36		Houser-Kennedy 26
Reiter	F	Hannon
Kelley	F	Pittaway
Kaufman	C	Kelso
Craig	G	E. Gilbert
Geddis	G	R. Gilbert

Subs—McKay, Bluedorn, Bees, McCaskey.

Field goals—Reiter 2, McKay 3, Bluedorn 2, Kaufman 5, Bees, Geddis, Hannon 2, Pittaway 5, Kelso 2, E. Gilbert, R. Gilbert.

Fouls—Trojans 8 out of 14, Houser-Kennedy 4 out of 9.

Referee—Alexander.

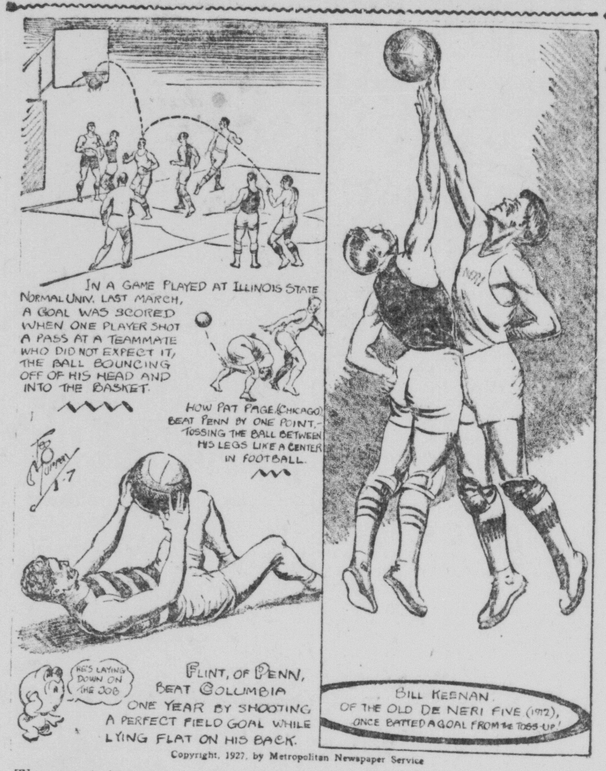

Timer—Watkins.

League Teams Play Tonight

While New Castle high is entertaining Evans City here in the opening game of the W. P. I. A. L. season other section IV teams will be playing as follows: Mars at Ellwood City, Zelienople at Butler.

Section IV this year is composed of New Castle, Evans City, Mars, Zelienople, Ellwood City and Butler.

Freak Basketball — By Feg Murray

Copyright, 1927, by Metropolitan Newspaper Service

The great American indoor game of basketball has its freak shots, the same as golf, tennis, and other outdoor sports. Listen to these examples if you don't believe that "anything can happen in basketball."

In an intra- mural game played at Illinois State Normal University last March, a most uncommon play occurred. One player threw the ball to a team-mate who was not expecting to receive it. The pass hit him on top of the head and bounced high into the air and squarely through the hoop for a field goal! Claude S. Miller, the referee, credited the thrower of the pass with the basket, but wasn't at all sure that he was right. Some thought that the man whose head the ball hit should at least received an assist!

Pat Page, now football coach at the University of Indiana, made a startling play in 1908 while a member of the University of Chicago basketball team. Pat was little, but his fighting spirit made him one of the stars of his day in three different sports. In a game with the university for the "national intercollegiate title," Chicago was one point behind and there was only a minute to play. Pat then got hold of the ball after a mad scramble, but some opponent jostled him off-balance. He let fly for the basket just the same, shooting the ball between his legs like the center does in football, and thus scored one of the freakest goals in all basketball history, winning the game for dear old Chicago.

A year or two later, it was a Penn man who figured in " a play for the books," and a victory for his alma mater. Flint, one of the best forwards in Red and Blue history, dribbled the ball down the court in a game with Columbia until rudely spilled by a tough wearer of the Light Blue named Ryan. Lying flat on his back he shot the ball through the hoop without even touching the backboard, and Penn won by that shot!

In 1912, the De Neri team of professional fame, boasted a great center named Bill Keenan. In one game, Bill made the equivalent of a hole-in-one at golf and batted a goal from the toss-up!

Feg Murray Says—

"What are you grinning about?" asked the fan at Madison Square Garden, New York, of his henpecked friend.

"My wife let me out to see the bike-race," chuckled the h. f., "and said I could stay till it was over, and" (he couldn't control his mirth) "she doesn't know it's a six-day affair."

Wilmington High Opens Season In Game This Evening

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Jan. 7. —New Wilmington high's basketball team will open its season Friday evening by meeting an alumni quintet, according to announcement by Coach Wiggins.

Wiggins is again able to drill his men after having his practices cut short by repair work on the gym floor. However, the team will not be in the best of shape to face fast opposition, but the encounter is expected to give the coach an opportunity of sizing up his men under fire.

Just how the varsity five will line up is uncertain. Wiggins will select his five from such men as Herriott, Davis, Patterson, Hutchison, James brothers and Lewis.

The alumni five will be composed of lads who have graduated from the school in recent years and are in prime condition. The team will be composed of Ralph Thomas, Henry Penberthy, Bill Hartwell, Joe Rose and the Bucher brothers.

The boys' game will be preceded by a girls' contest.

Fifteen thousand men, women and children enjoyed Christmas Day skating on the 26 public rinks in St. Paul.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

By ED. FRITZ

GENE Tunney signed a contract at St. Louis yesterday to defend his title next September against a foe of Tex Rickard's choice. Tunney will receive a flat guarantee of $400,000, in addition to 50 per cent of the net receipts over $1,000,000. Dudley Field Malone, his attorney, said this would exceed the highest purse ever paid for a heavyweight champion to defend his title. Tunney also signed a contract with Billy Gibson as his manager.

THE University of Pittsburgh lost their first home cage game to Allegheny College at Pittsburgh last night. The score was 22-18. The Panthers trailed from the start. McClurg caged four field goals and shot eight of nine fouls, which was not a bad night's work for the Methodists.

JOEY Novak of Lawrenceville, Pittsburgh, defeated Phil Logan in ten rounds at McKeesport. He was awarded the decision by Referee Eddie Kennedy after the judges had disagreed. Marty McHale lost a technical knockout to Maxie Strub of Erie, and in addition was suspended for 60 days by Commissioner Boyle.

JOHNNY Rawlings, famed utility player of the Pirates and Giants, who was released unconditionally, may play with the Columbus A. A. team. The manager of the Columbus team is trying to locate the infielder. Recently the Columbus franchise was bought by the Cincinnati Reds, who named Ivy Wingo as manager. He will succeed George McQuillan, former Pirate.

Two Fast Games In City League For Saturday

The Tin Mill team leaders in the City Industrial floor loop will play the P. and O. team and the Rick-Overlands will clash with the P. R. R. quintet in the games scheduled for Saturday night at the Y. M. C. A.

The first game will start at 8 o'clock and will bring together the Tin Mill boys and Electric tossers in what should prove a hot contest. The Tin Mill team looks the part of real champions. The Fraser coached combination of 'Tin Wallopers" have not yet tasted defeat.

The second game between the Overland and P. R. R. should be a fast contest. The Overlands lost some little ground last week by dropping a hard fought game to the Tin Mill and they hope to regain their stride tomorrow night.

James Holds Spotlight In Scandal Probe, Was Money Gift Or Bribe?

BY DAVIS J. WALSH
Sports Editor Internat'al News Service

CHICAGO, Jan. 7.—Bill James, the one creditable witness in America who can be expected to know with definite finality whether the $1,100 fund raised by the Chicago White Sox in 1917 for sole distribution in the Detroit locker room constituted a gift or a bribe, was scheduled to take the stand this morning in baseball's latest self-inquisition. His testimony probably will furnish the finale of Judge Landis' hearing of the charge that the Detroit-Chicago series of September, 1917, was a "slough", a term of great culture meaning to cast off, as of a used razor blade.

Gandil as Witness

Other witnesses may include Chick Gandil, brother conspirator in the "Black Sox" scandal with "Swede" Risberg, instigator of the present investigation; Oscar Vitt, Roy Wilkinson, Byrd Lynn and a gent named Hasbrouck, ex-major leaguers, who took part in the disputed series, also were scheduled to be heard today, but the tip was that the judge would concentrate every effort in trying to break down the stories told on Wednesday by Detroit players or in seeking corroboration of Risberg's testimony from James.

The latter was due to arrive in Chicago at 10:30 this morning, only an hour before the scheduled start of the hearing. It was James who has been named by everyone concerned as the middleman from the Detroit end, and agent who officiated at the pay-off.

He, therefore, might be suspected of knowing whether the money he received for distribution was for Detroit's alleged "slough" of the series in question, as charged by Risberg, or was a semi-legitimate reward paid to Detroit pitchers for beating Boston earlier in the same month, as maintained by Eddie Collins, Ray Schalk, Donie Bush and the remainder of the accused.

Landis' pre-hearing attitude today was said to be that he would not convict any of the 29 witnesses heard to date on the allegations of self-incriminated conspirators such as Risberg and Gandil. But he did hope to get somewhere by a thorough grilling of those mentioned from the Detroit end, particularly James.

May Recall Pitchers

An especially hot tip was that George Dauss and Bernie Boland, Detroit pitchers, would be recalled to the stand to elaborate upon the testimony they furnished on Wednesday. It was said that Landis, in the meantime, had thought of additional questions to ask them. Dauss testified that he did not pitch in the disputed Detroit-Chicago series, but the judge neglected to ask him why he wasn't one of the participants.

Furthermore, Detroit will get another rally on the question of scandal just as soon as the present inquest is finished. The judge, I understand, means to probe the charges aired that the St. Louis Browns gratuitously engaged in a "slough" to the Tigers in 1923. These charges originally were credited to Ty Cobb and the judge, it is said, will look into them thoroughly, in spite of Cobb's reluctant disclaimer of authorship at Wednesday's hearing.

However, the judge apparently didn't even dare to hope that he would get any further with this investigation than it seems probable he will progress with the present probe. The latter, barring corroborative testimony by Bill James of Risberg's allegations or failure on the part of some of the previous witnesses to stay with their story, seems destined to degenerate into a question of veracity between Risberg and Gandil on one side, and, on the other, all the remaining witnesses involved.

Chick Gandil Will Substantiate Yarn Told By Risberg

Gandil Will Appear Before Landis And Back Up Charges Hurled By "Swede"

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Jan. 7.—An affidavit bearing the signature of Arnold "Chick" Gandil, which fully substantiates the charges made by Charles "Swede" Risberg that the White Sox "bought" a four-game series from Detroit in 1917 was made public today.

Gandil arrived in Chicago last night in answer to the summons of Commissioner Landis. He announced he will attend the hearing in the commissioner's office today and repeated the substance of his affidavit, which corroborates in almost every detail the story told by Risberg.

"I met Bill James under the grandstand at Comiskey Park before the first game," Gandil's statement reads. "Bill said to me: 'These are going to be pretty soft games', and I said, 'Well, Bill, if it goes all right I will see that you are fixed up for it.'"

Gandil said he is perfectly willing to go before Commissioner Landis and tell his story, but serves notice he will take no bullying.

"If they try any of that, I'll just pick up my hat and go home," he said. "That was the trouble with Risberg. The 'Swede' was too easy with those fellows. He was telling the truth, but he let them bluff him out of it. No one better call me a liar within hearing."

Stage Set For Second Act Of Scandal Play

Judge Landis And Company Ready For Presentation Of Second Act

LOTS OF TALENT IS AVAILABLE

By GENE HOFFMAN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO, Jan. 7.—An all star cast is billed for the second act of Swede Risberg's new play "What Price Ball Games," scheduled to go on before an exclusive audience in the chambers of Commissioner Landis today. The curtain will raise promptly at noon.

The skit is arranged in the order of a minstrel, with K. M. Landis, the grey-thatched commissioner of baseball, acting as interlocutor and stage director.

The cast of characters scheduled to appear in today's act include:

Bill James—Fresh from California and once a pitcher with Detroit, who was named by the author of the play as the man who handled the $1,100 alleged to have been paid the Detroit team by the White Sox for "throwing" four games in the latters' direction toward the close of the season of 1917. What James replies to Interlocutor Landis is expected to furnish the climax of this tense drama.

Arnold "Chick" Gandil—Fresh from Texas, and once a famous first baseman with the White Sox, who left the pastime for other pursuits following an unfortunate episode back in 1919. Gandil was quoted as being ready to substantiate the charges brought by Playright Risberg. Speculation as to whether he will or not, only adds to the tenseness of the drama.

In case these two famous end men fail to furnish thrills enough Director Landis may rush back for a curtain call or two. Risberg appeared in the first act Wednesday, but was something of a flop. His audience over-awed him, it was said.

There is a wealth of available talent, to put the show over. The supporting cast includes such men as Oscar Vitt, Byrd Lynn, Happy Felsch, Buck Weaver, Roy Wilkerson and others, not to mention any number of stage hands and hangers-on, such at telegraph operators, sports writers and public-spirited fans.

Service Team Takes Victory

The Handy Service team won their initial victory of the season last night on the Rose avenue gym floor by downing the Crusaders 19 to 15. The game was hard fought in all quarters.

The Crusaders jumped into the lead at the very start of the game but they did not retain their lead for very long. The score was deadlocked at 8-8 as the first half ended.

The playing of Laurell, Mackey and Honkonen featured for the Service team, while the work of Rohrer and E. Mackey was the best for the Crusaders.

The Handy Service team will play the Musketeers in the Boy's league at the Y. M. C. A. on Saturday afternoon. The team will practice at the Y. M. C. A. tonight and the following are asked to report: Mackey, Honkonen, Laurell, Soyring and Captain William Hemming.

The lineup and summary:

Handy Service.		Crusaders.
Hemming	F	McClymonds
J. Soyring	F	Bauman
Laurell	C	Rohrer
A. Mackey	G	E. Mackey
Honkonen	G	A. Soyring

Subs: Crenney for A. Soyring.

Field goals: Honkonen 3, A. Mackey 2, Soyring, Hemming, McClymonds 2, Rohrer, Bauman 2.

Fouls: Service team, 5 out of 8; Crusaders 5 out of 10.

Referee: Woods.

Yale's Ball Squad Will Train Early

(International News Service)

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Jan. 7.—Yale and Holy Cross will return to a home-and-home series in baseball next spring and so resume their ancient struggle for diamond honors of New England if not of the northeast, as far as colleges are concerned. Games between Yale and Holy Cross form the chief attraction of the baseball season in New Haven because of a rivalry that has extended over many years.

To prepare for a season of 31 games next spring, Yale's baseball squad will get into action in midwinter, using the Winchester Club building, nearly a mile from the campus, for their indoor training quarters because the old baseball cage has been razed in building operations to enlarge the Yale plant. Early in April the team starts a southern trip of five games, opening at Richmond College April 7. On the road home Yale drops off to play the first of a home-and-home series with Columbia on April 13.

During the month of May Yale will play Bowdoin, Virginia, Columbia, William and Mary, Cornell, Catholic University, Holy Cross, Colgate, Georgetown and Syracuse in New Haven, and will move out to meet Pennsylvania, Cornell and Holy Cross on the enemy's fields.

Vanderbilt University and Providence College come to New Haven in June. Princeton plays here on June 4, while Yale goes to Princeton on June 18 for the commencement game. Yale's own commencement day game with Harvard is set for June 21, while on the next day the team moves on to Cambridge for a commencement game with Harvard.

R. L. Jones of Wilmington, Del., is captain of the Yale team for next year, while Benedict N. Quinn of Greenwich, Conn., is manager. Jones plays third base.

The Hoboken Model Yacht Club, organized in 1840, was the first in America.

HALL of FAME

Nominating HUBERT PRUETT.

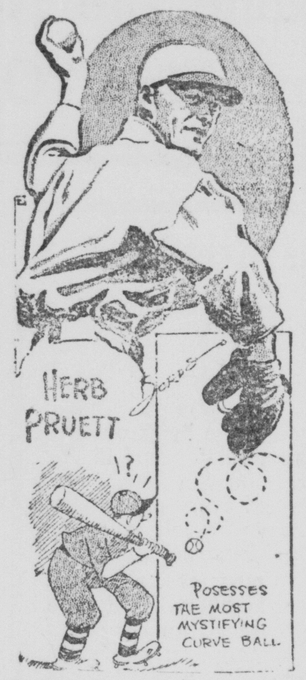

Because, called done once, he is coming back to the big show as a member of the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Because he posseses one of the most mystifying deliveries in baseball, a "screw ball" that comes up to the place slowly as big as a balloon and then, just as the batter swings seems to fade away to the size of a pea.

Because this shoot baffled no less a personage than Babe Ruth the Mighty who struck out 10 of the 11 times he faced Pruett in 1922 when the hurler was with the Detroit Tigers.

Because Pruett hopes to laugh at the experts who said that the delivering of the weird shoot would end his pitching days inside of a few short years.

And because his acquisition by the Pirates relieves Ruth's mind for at least another year as the Babe was haunted with the spectre of Herb's left arm all the while the flinger was in the minors fighting for another chance in the big show. Ruth's only chance of facing him now is in a world's series.

For a long time we thought alphabet noodles were put in soup to give everyone the proper key.

Captain V. A. Smith Starts Golf School

Golfers Will Keep In Training For The Coming Season In That Sport

More and more each year the ancient and honorable game of golf is becoming a major sport in the interest taken and the number of persons engaging in it as a pastime.

While normally an outdoor sport [illegible] ches of land are needed and make it one of the most [illegible] orts, yet there is such a thing as playing it indoors and learining how to play it in an expert manner when the opportunity comes to follow the little ball over the greens the hazards and the hills of the New Castle Field club course.

Captain V. Arthur Smith, professional of the New Castle Field club is planning to help out those wanting to keep in active training for next season or start to learn the game by conducting a school for golfers. This will be held the balance of the winter season beginning next Tuesday on the second floor of the C. Ed Smith Hardware and Sport Goods store on East Washington street.

The captain has all the equipment necessary to make this indoor game just about as interesting as well played in the open and indications are that he will have the usual large classes of aspirants for local honors next season in attendance.

Frank Walker, a former major leaguer, who piloted the Greenville team to the South Atlantic League pennant last year, has disposed of his other business interests and purchased the Greenville franchise with a view to giving his whole attention to the club next season.

The thing that does most to encourage a taste for finer and better things is credit.

Brick Layer Labor Shortage Charged To White Collars

(International News Service)

FRENCH LICK SPRINGS, Ind., Jan. 7.—"White collars" and the "lily white palm" are luring the bricklayer and the plumber, comic strip plutocrats of the nation, into more aesthetic activities. Such is the warning of E. L. Bowman, manager of the Clay Products extension bureau.

Not only does Bowman fear that they are being lured away from their present vocations, but he fears that there won't be enough left to carry on building operations at the rate the United States is now taking.

'Potential bricklayers and embryo plumbers are taking jobs where they can keep their hands clean, and their faces washed, and the result is that the trades need thousands more apprentices if we are going to guarantee competent construction in the future," Bowman says.

The American Face Brick Association has felt the need of new blood in its ranks as well. A plea for more apprentices was made at a meeting of the association here, on the ground that expert bricklayers are constantly decreasing in numbers.

The Washington Senators will probably go to bat next spring with few new faces in the line-up, as President Clark Griffith and Manager Stanley Harris seem to be pretty well satisfied with the present outfit.

SPORTS DONE BROWN

Judge Landis, supreme power in baseball, is in a receptive mood.

Almost snowed under by the statements and accusations of baseball players regarding "sloughed" games, "thrown contests" and use of "presents" in the conduct of the game in past years he has invited all the players involved or interested to tell all they know about the conditions which now threaten to bring baseball down about the heads of its leaders.

He asks, "for the good of the game," for the players and ex-players who know to come clean so that the game can be cleared of all unquestionable practices and characters. Some 30 players were politely "summoned" to help him in his efforts. Many of them stepped to the fore to do their part.

But there is still another angle.

Frank Navin, owner of the Detroit Tigers—members of which team have been drawn into the various scandals—now reveals the fact that he was aware in 1917 that Detroit pitchers were receiving presents from the Chicago White Sox players for the efforts of the former team to defeat the Red Sox.

Barney Dreyfuss, owner of the Pittsburgh Pirates, states that players of the New York Giants offered money to certain Brooklyn pitchers in the closing days of the 1921 campaign to urge the latter on to defeat the Pirates.

Which leads us to ask:

What have the baseball magnates—including Dreyfuss and Navin—told Landis regarding conditions in baseball, past and present?

They are vitally interested in baseball. It is their business—the source of their income. They cannot be blind to the facts and rumors that have gone the rounds. Such ignorance would simply reflect upon their business ability and astuteness.

But perhaps because of fear that their business would be harmed through such disclosures they have not told even Landis—the man hired to protect their business—all that they know, first hand and hearsay, of matters that were undermining the game.

So why not invite them to a public hearing also, Judge, and hear their stories?

They are not holier than the ball players. They owe the public more than the players. The public clicks the turnstiles. The moguls owe the clean players in the game something—the effort to clear their names.

We're having the players' side.

Come on, Judge, let's hear what the magnates have told you. And let's put it up to those who know more to come right out in public and tell it.

Tubercular Deaths Halved In 20 Years

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—The death rate from tuberculosis has been reduced 100 percent in the last twenty years, the National Tuberculosis Association said in a statement issued here, commenting upon the recent report of the United States Census Bureau, which showed that the death rate from this disease had declined from 90.4 in 1924 to 86.6 in 1925. More than 100,000 lives were saved in 1925, the association declared.

"When the National Tuberculosis Association began its work, 22 years ago," the statement continues the death rate from tuberculosis was 200 in every 100,000 persons. In 1925, it had fallen to 86.6. The significance of this decline will be realized better when the figures are stated in another way. If the death rate of 1925 had presisted in 1926, there would have been more than 10,000 additional deaths from tuberculosis.

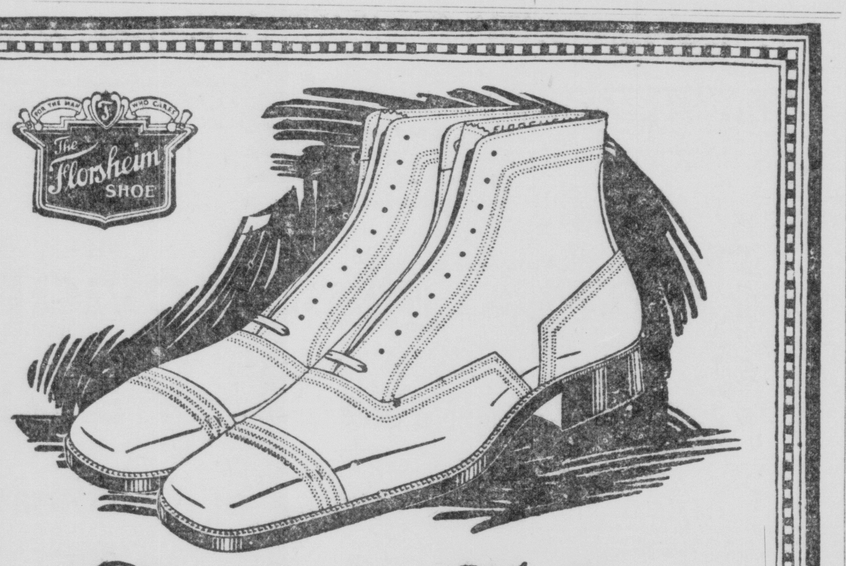

"When the tuberculosis campaign was begun tuberculosis was the leading cause of death in the United States. The new figures of the United States Bureau of the Census indicate that heart disease heads the list, as cause of death, with nephritis as second cause and tuberculosis as fifth.

"The United States has saved as a result of this decline in the death rate in 1925 alone, the hugh sum of over $550,000,000, valuing each human life at $5,000. This gain is net over and above other savings that cannot be computed, plus the savings in health and happiness."

ATWATER KENT RADIO

How many is ONE?

LOOK AT THIS PICTURE. How many dials do you see on this Atwater Kent Receiving Set?

Just ONE. It's there at the right, with the man's fingers on it. The other knob, at the left, merely controls volume of sound, and has nothing to do with bringing in a broadcasting station.

Will any "one dial" set do what an Atwater Kent ONE Dial set will do?

Some of the so-called one dial or single control sets have secondary devices which you have to manipulate before you hear the station you want as you want to hear it. The Atwater Kent ONE Dial does the whole job. Make your own comparisons.

When you have convinced yourself, be sure and get an Atwater Kent Radio Speaker with your Atwater Kent Receiver. They work together in perfect harmony to produce true, natural tone.

Do Rent Receipts Keep You From Owning A Home Of Your Own

Why pay rent when you buy a home on easy terms from the houses advertised for sale in our Real Estate Column. There you will find houses of all sizes and descriptions, in every part of the city, and you will find dealers who will make the terms to suit your individual financial condition.

If you are working for a moderate salary, tell your problems to the Realtor and he will help you to convert the rent you are paying into a home of your own. A few years of paying rent will buy a house. It has been estimated that a person who rents 30 years pays for at least six houses. Pay for your own house and then buy another that some one will pay you for in rent.

The Realtor will tell you how.

HIGH LIGHTS OF HISTORY

The Story of The Declaration of Independence—Part Five. by J. CARROLL MANSFIELD

Registered U. S. Patent Office.

THE JOYOUS NEWS OF THE ADOPTION OF THE DECLARATION OF INDEPENDENCE WAS COMMUNICATED TO THE WAITING, ANXIOUS THRONG BY THE RINGING OF THE BELL (THE "LIBERTY BELL") IN THE STATE HOUSE IN PHILADELPHIA.

© McClure Newspaper Syndicate

COPIES OF THE DECLARATION WERE MADE AND BORNE BY SWIFT RIDERS TO ALL THE COLONIES. EVERYWHERE THE GLORIOUS NEWS WAS HAILED WITH DELIGHT. ALL THE CHURCH BELLS WERE SET A-RINGING AND CANNON BOOMED A SALUTE TO THE NEW NATION.

IN THE LARGE CITIES THE DECLARATION WAS READ AND CELEBRATED WITH HUGE PUBLIC DEMONSTRATIONS. IN NEW YORK BY THE LIGHT OF BON-FIRES A CROWD OF PATRIOTIC CITIZENS PULLED DOWN THE STATUE OF GEORGE III IN BOWLING GREEN AND LATER MELTED IT INTO BULLETS FOR WASHINGTON'S ARMY.

WASHINGTON WAS THEN IN NEW YORK, WHITHER HE HAD MOVED AFTER FORCING THE BRITISH UNDER HOWE TO EVACUATE BOSTON (MAY 17, 1776). ON JULY 9TH HE CAUSED THE DECLARATION TO BE READ TO HIS TROOPS, WHO NOW BECAME THE NATIONAL ARMY OF THE UNITED STATES.

N. Y. STOCKS

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—Industrial stocks settled down to a slightly lower range of prices in early trading today. The stock exchange's December exhibit of brokers' loans, showing an increase of about $163,000,000 in that month, was nothing more than the presentation of figures issued weekly by the Federal Reserve Board, but that did not prevent new speculative selling by the bearish traders, with the object of forcing a decline in representative stocks.

The commodity markets made a better showing than in most of the previous sessions of the week. Grain and cotton were firm, while slight advances were reported in the coffee, sugar and rubber markets with a good inquiry for both spots and futures.

The industrial stocks gave ground consistently in the second hour though the losses in U. S. Steel, Baldwin, American Can and other pivotal issues were mostly fractional. The railroad stocks were firm in this period, with Atchison up 1½ and New York Central a point higher. Independent oils were also firm, under the leadership of Marland and Mid Continent, the latter of which is expected to join the dividend class this month.

Will He Reach the Top or Be Impaled Upon the Iron Spikes

Here's a picture showing John James Murphy in action. Like every normal, healthy, wholesome youngster, Johnny is adventurous. He's only a little fellow but he has ambitions to climb higher. But will he make the grade? Notice those death dealing spikes upon the top of the iron fence near his left foot. Johnny's mother is hanging over the back fence while her neighbor broadcasts the latest scandal. She's not worrying about the boy. If parents would caution their children against every day perils, there would be fewer funerals, avers Homer E. Niesz, vice president of the National Safety Council, which is endeavoring to safeguard youngsters so they may live to enjoy the real adventures of life.

Police Investigate Reports Gamblers Play In Cemetery

You've heard of the haunted houses and the city of the dead, where ghosts are supposed to walk at night, to prevent desecration of the last resting place of the dead. That's old stuff.

But there is apparently a new type of "ghosts" and cemetery desecrators extant in this city, according to the reports reaching Day Sergeant Frank M. Jones and the police are investigating.

The complaint reaching Sergeant Jones on Thursday afternoon was to the effect that some apparently very choice spirits of some kind were indulging in a little gambling in or at a vault of Valley View cemetery.

Officers Hagan and Allgier were detailed to investigate this ghostly report and according to the records at the police station, they found only ghosts playing "stud poker" at or near the vault.

In other words, if there has been any desecration of this kind at the cemetery, that the spirits behind the alleged desecration have moved on and will not likely repeat their acts that caused the complaint.

In a primitive state the young left home early but they didn't come back at 2 a. m.

Mrs. W. P. Felch To Broadcast Sunday

Parke V. Hogan, Former Organist Of This City, To Be Accompanist

Mrs. W. P. Felch of this city, one of the leading contralto soloists of this district, will on Sunday evening at 7:20 o'clock broadcast a solo from Station WJZ, New York City. Her solo will be one of the features of the Estey Organ Hour at that station. Parke V. Hogan, for many years pipe organist of the First M. E. church of this city, and one of the best known musicians that ever resided here, will act as her accompanist. It is anticipated that the growing radio audience of this city will be listening in to hear both Mrs. Felch and Mr. Hogan.

Two Aviators Are Killed As Planes Crash

Two Student Aviators Near San Antonio, Texas, Meet Death Today

(International News Service)

SAN ANTONIO, Tex.,—Two cadet fliers of Kelly Field, near here, were killed about five miles west of San Antonio today, when their two planes collided and crashed from an altitude of 1,500 feet.

Cadet Richard E. Terrell, of Eagle Lake, Texas, was in one of the planes and attempted to make a turn, causing the wing of his plane to hit the wing of the plane in which Cadet Charles Shields, Jr., of Durand, Mich., was flying. Both planes went into tail spins.

Terrell is believed to have attempted to jump, but he failed to pull his parachute string, and the chute failed to open. Shields remained with his ship. Both were killed instantly.

An ambulance plane, sent from Kelly Field brought the bodies here. Both planes were wrecked.

BRIDE BEATEN NIGHT OF WEDDING, COURT GIVES HER DIVORCE

CRAFTON, Pa., Jan. 7. — The love Raymond N. Beatty had for his wife Cornelia J. Beatty of Fontaine street, Crafton, vanished in the bridal chamber for on their wedding night last August 5, he kicked her out of bed, threw her downstairs and fought continually with her until she left him nearly a month later.

Mrs. Beatty, who was given a divorce yesterday by Judge James R. MacFarlane, told all that — and more. She said her husband wanted an automobile and made her order one. It was done, but later she cancelled the order only to throw him in a fit of rage. Then he chased her from home.

BLAMES "JOY RIDES" FOR DELINQUENCIES

NORRISTOWN, Pa., Jan. 7. — Increasing delinquencies among school boys, due to auto "joy" riding," is the biggest problem faced by the Montgomery county probation society, according to its twenty-second annual report, submitted at the annual meeting.

"We find there has been a marked increase in the number of American children of native born parentage brought before the court," says the report.

The auto is becoming quite a factor as a cause for delinquency among boys. The number taking cars for joy rides is increasing, which in some measure may be due to the thoughtlessness of parents in teaching young boys to operate cars."

Wright Estate Aids Students

Forty-Three Are Being Aided In School Courses By Fund

OTHER NEWS NOTES OF MERCER COUNTY

(Special To The News)

MERCER, Pa., Jan. 7.—There are now in colleges located in Pennsylvania, Ohio and New York 43 boys and girls who are beneficiaries of the residue of the estate of the late Senator G. W. Wright of Mercer, who provided in his will for the education of "worthy young men and women" and left as trustees of the fund that approximates half a million, Judge J. A. McLaughry and R. C. Kerr, the executor of the estate of Mercer and Alexander Wright of New Castle.

There are three requisites that the board demands in giving financial assistance: the necessity of assistance, judgment in the spending of money and a high rating in scholarship.

At the semester ending of the college year, which occurs in most institutions around the February 1st date, each of the 43 now in school will have their grades checked by the board of trustees to determine their application. All applicants must also meet the board in person that, a mutual understanding may be arrived at before any financial assistance is extended and that the trio of trustees may determine from the conference their opinion of the merits of the applicant.

It is stated that the trustees have on their books a number of applicants whose cases will be taken up in order at the periodical meetings of the guardians of the fund.

The late Senator Wright was interested in education for the period of his life. This interest is perpetuated by the provisions of the will of the decedent.

A food that contains all the vitamines known to science as productive of healthy chickens is contained in the mixture now being prepared and tested out by Walter Byers of Mercer, chicken fancier. After a thorough test the food will be put on the market, states Mr. Byers, who reports the securing of 1,883 eggs from 200 hens of White Leghorn strain within the last six weeks.

An increased production once the panacea is ready for daily diet is expected by Byers.

The following is the list of Mercer county doctors who have been selected for the year by the board of poor directors to look after the charity cases in their respective districts. There is but one change in the list, that of Dr. H. F. Massy of Sharon, who replaces Dr. Jones, deceased. Dr. M. G. Yeager of Mercer, who is also in charge of the patients at the home, was elected for a four-year term, which is as yet unexpired. The board took action on the re-election of the following: Dr. A. B. Montgomery of Grove City, Dr. J. H. Hunter of West Middlesex, Dr. R. H. Kelly of Farrell, Dr. J. M. Martin of Greenville, Dr. T. F. Hogue of Fredonia, Dr. J. C. Bachop of Sheakleyville, Dr. D. H. Smith of Millbrook, Dr. Hartley Cotton of Leesburg, Dr. R. M. Tidd of Clarksville, Dr. J. C. Cooley of Sandy Lake, Dr. D. B. Hanna of Stoneboro.

The board is still in session at the home completing their year's business. They consist of Harvey McKean of Sandy Creek, John Griffith of Sharon, J. C. McDowell of Grove City.

A total of 12 meetings are carded for this week by the county farm bureau in the county. With the close of the week a total of 14 meetings will have been held. Six more are scheduled for the coming week, it is announced. The meetings are held for the purpose of stimulating agricultural activity in the various county districts. Each attendant is urged to express views of the urgent need in that community for development. From the consensus of views expressed a program is drawn up. It is stated that they are being well attended and that the results are more than satisfactory.

The cup given by the banks of Greenville to the school winning the class B championship in the literary round-up of last May at Greenville was presented by Prof. H. E. McConnel of recent date to the winner, Jamestown high school.

Cups to the county winner and class A winner were also presented gifts of the same bank.

Before the Public Service Commission at Harrisburg was held a hearing on the transfer of the holding of the New Wilmington Gas Company to the Union Heat and Light Company of Grove City. The sale was consumated in the fail conditional to the ruling of the commission in transferring the holdings of the selling company.

V. L. Johnson, Mercer attorney and official of the New Wilmington company, was in attendance at the Harrisburg hearing. By virtue of the sale the leases of the company located in Springfield and Findley townships, and their pipe line from this field to New Wilmington, will be transferred.

The 24th annual convention of the school directors of Mercer county opened Thursday in the courthouse assembly room. There are two days of the convention, January 6 and 7.

The program of today includes two sessions, that noted and one at 1:30 p. m. Such well-known educators as Dr. Lee Driver, head of the bureau of rural school consolidation of the state board at Harrisburg; Dr. C. T. Corson of Oxford, O., former commissioner of education of Ohio; Dr. C. C. Crawford, head of the Edinboro State Normal school; John Ziegler, who heads the state bureau branch of school sanitation in Pennsylvania; Dr. C. A. Platt of the faculty of Grove City College and member of the school board of that city; C. B. Hines, member of the Stoneboro board and chairman of the Democratic party in the county; J. B. Hawk of the South Pymatuning board, are all on the speaking program. In the absence of Mrs. Mabel Whistler of the Mercer board, who was scheduled to deliver the address of welcome, W. J. Whieldon, president of the board, will be the speaker.

Charles Hinkley, well-known Mercer jeweler, is confined to his home with a severe cold.

Prefacing the school directors' convention Dr. Lee Driver of Harrisburg, here as a speaker on the program, visited the Springfield township schools at Leesburg, recently consolidated. Dr. Driver heads the rural school consolidation program in the state.

Wife Shortage Hits Polygamous Turks

Aristocrats, Who Once Counted Nine Mates, Now Lucky To Get One

SAMARKAND, Russian Turkestan, Jan. 7.—With the men of Turkestan outnumbering the women three to one, polygamy is fast disappearing and men who once had as many as nine wives are now having a hard time getting one.

The Soviet census, just completed, shows the great disproportion of men to women in Turkestan. Indeed, there is a virtual decline of women, especially those of marriageable age, which the local officials believe can only be met by the importation of women from other sections of the Soviet Union.

Turkestan's 10,000,000 population decreased last year nearly 20 per cent because of a sharp decline in the number of marriages and in the birth rate. The consequence of this is that the price of marriageable women and girls has increased from 500 to 5,000 rubles, which is quite beyond the reach of the poor man.

Polygamy, which formerly was the rule throughout Turkestan, is fast disappearing. Before the Bolshevist revolution, rich landowners boasted up to nine consorts, while the deposed Emir of Bokhara had 300 wives. Now the native Mohammedan has difficulty in purchasing and maintaining one wife.

An old Uzbeg, who made a living by begging, told the correspondent that 25 years of labor before the revolution enabled him to buy a wife, but after six months' abode with him she fled and sold herself to a wealthier Moslem.

Because of the shortage of women, Turcomans, Uzbegs, Tadshiks and other Moslem natives are marrying Russian and Christian women who, unlike their Mohammedan sisters, demand no dowry or fee for themselves. Such marriages previously were unknown in Turkestan.

By reason of the great demand for them as wives, the women of Turkestan enjoy a privileged position unknown in any other country in the world. Their husbands do all the housework, cooking, washing, ironing and marketing, and generally show their spouses the utmost diffidence.

In China it is polite to make as much noise as possible in eating, as a display of satisfaction.

Makes TWENTY more cups per pound

THROUGH the addition of one secret new grade of coffee to the other three superior grades composing the well-known SWANSDOWN Blend, each pound can now yields from 60 to 70 full-flavored deliciously mild cups of coffee---an increase of more than 20 cups over the previous standard of 40.

SWANSDOWN Coffee costs no more than any other high grade blend---but the additional cups made from a pound reduce your coffee bill one-third. Any grocer will supply you. New SWANSDOWN formula in every can. (3)
